FAMILY READING NIGHT
NOVEMBER 19, 2009

Dear Family Reading Night Coordinator:

Thank you for your commitment to Family Reading Night, a special day when thousands of families set aside time to read together. This year, Family Reading Night will be celebrated on Thursday, November 19.

Enclosed are the posters and bookmarks you requested to help promote your 2009 Family Reading Night activities, along with an Evaluation Form and 2010 Materials Order Form. Please complete and return these forms by February 12, 2010. Information from these forms will help my office plan for your materials needs for next year's Family Reading Night and allow us to share your innovative ideas with other Family Reading Night coordinators.

If you are new to Family Reading Night or are looking for some different ideas on how to celebrate and promote your FRN activities, please visit www.cyberdriveillinois.com (click Departments, then Illinois State Library).

Thanks to your dedication and efforts, Family Reading Night is a great success year after year. By expressing your enthusiasm for books and reading, you and other librarians, literacy professionals, teachers and parents will nurture a lifelong love of reading in children and families across the state.

Reading is one of the most memorable gifts a family can share. Together we can make this year's Family Reading Night a memorable experience for even more Illinois families.
