ILLINOIS CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATION

116th Congress

Two Senators represent each state in the U.S. Senate and are elected to serve six-year terms. U.S. Senator Dick Durbin (D) of Springfield was elected to represent Illinois for a fourth term in 2014. Tammy Duckworth of Hoffman Estates (D) was elected to the U.S. Senate in 2016. (See pages 16-19 for U.S. Senators' photos and biographies.)

In the November 2018 general election, Illinois voters elected 18 candidates to serve in the U.S. House of Representatives for two-year terms. Thirteen Democratic and five Republican U.S. Representatives were elected to serve in the 116th Congress.

Democrats picked up two congressional seats in the 2018 general election. Political newcomer Lauren Underwood (D) defeated the four-term incumbent Republican Rep. Randy Hultgren, making her the first woman and first African-American to represent the overwhelmingly white 14th District. Underwood also made history as the youngest African-American woman elected to Congress. Meanwhile, Democrat Sean Casten, a first-time political candidate, unseated six-term Republican Rep. Peter Roskam in the 6th District.

Incumbents held on to 15 Illinois congressional seats while newcomer Jesús “Chuy” García (D) won the 4th District in a race to succeed longtime Rep. Luis Gutiérrez.

The 116th Congress serves from Jan. 3, 2019, to Jan. 3, 2021.
