DISASTER AREA - STATE OF ILLINOIS

Tornadoes and severe storms moved through Southern and Central Illinois beginning on Saturday, March 11, 2006, continuing through Sunday, March 12, 2006 and into Monday, March 13, 2006. These storms resulted in injuries to more than a dozen citizens and major damage and destruction to scores of homes and businesses.

In the interest of aiding the citizens of Illinois and the local governments responsible for ensuring public health and safety, I hereby proclaim that a disaster exists within the State of Illinois, and specifically, declare Ford, Greene, Logan, Morgan, Randolph, Sangamon and Scott counties as disaster areas, pursuant to the provisions of the Illinois Emergency Management Agency Act, 20 ILCS 3305/7.

This gubernatorial proclamation of disaster will facilitate the Illinois Emergency Management Agency in coordinating the State’s efforts in responding to local government requests for assistance in the counties most severely impacted by the disaster. This proclamation will also facilitate a full assessment of disaster damage and, if determined necessary, make a request for federal disaster assistance possible.

WHEREAS, digestive diseases, in general, rank first among illnesses for total economic burden making up about 15% of all direct health care costs, therefore being an important health care issue in our Nation; and
WHEREAS, the largest group of digestive diseases is made up of a family of digestive motility diseases/disorders that are caused by a poorly understood neuro-muscular dysfunction of the gut that may produce in any region of the digestive tract chronic motor and sensory disturbances characterized by weakened, spastic or failed propulsion of food through the digestive system; and
WHEREAS, these gut motor and sensory disturbances, ranging in severity from mild to digestive failure at the critical end of the spectrum, collectively affect 35 million Americans; and
WHEREAS, this family of digestive motility disturbances – loosely referred to as “dyspepsia” when affecting the upper digestive tract and commonly found in association with delayed gastric emptying – amounts to more than 2 million physician outpatient visits annually and almost 40% of all referrals to a gastroenterologist; and
WHEREAS, 10% of Americans are affected on a daily basis by heartburn, which for half of this group is caused by a motor disturbance of the stomach that results in delayed gastric emptying whose symptoms of bloating, a feeling of fullness with abdominal discomfort, and nausea are not addressed by acid-suppressing drugs alone; and
WHEREAS, 20 to 30% of the general North American population experience bothersome upper or lower digestive tract motility disturbances on a chronic basis; and
WHEREAS, lack of formal recognition of this continuum of serious digestive motility problems has resulted in discrimination against patients for disability claims, marginalization of care, and even refusal of care with the explanation that the symptoms are psychologically based; and
WHEREAS, national and international organizations, such as the Gastroparesis and Dysmotilities Association, the Gastroparesis and Dysmotilities Association –USA, and the Association for Gastrointestinal Motility Disorders, are committed to educating the health care community and the general public regarding the serious nature of digestive motility diseases/disorders and to provide accurate information on treatment, early detection and symptom management:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 2006 as NATIONAL DIGESTIVE MOTILITY AWARENESS MONTH in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to commit to the promotion of knowledge and understanding of digestive motility diseases and disorders.

PETER WILT DAY

WHEREAS, Peter Wilt, a native of McHenry, Illinois, first came into the spotlight in Chicagoland sports as the General Manager (GM) of the Chicago Power of the National Professional Soccer League. He remained the GM with the Power from 1990 until 1994; the team won their only championship under his leadership during the 1990-91 season; and

WHEREAS, in 1997, Mr. Wilt was named GM of Chicago’s new Major League Soccer (MLS) franchise, the Chicago Fire. Throughout his tenure, he developed a reputation for being a “fan friendly” businessman in the soccer world who is always willing to answer questions and cheer on the team; and

WHEREAS, since the beginning of the Chicago Fire, Mr. Wilt has been a strong force behind the FireWorks for Kids Foundation. As President of the Foundation, Mr. Wilt helped raise over $1.8 million dollars to help advance recreational and educational opportunities for economically or otherwise disadvantage children throughout the Chicagoland area; and

WHEREAS, in the Fire’s inaugural season, Mr. Wilt built a team that won the U.S. Open CUP and the MLS Cup in 1998. The Fire went on to win two more U.S. Open Cup titles in 2000 and in 2003, and won division titles in 2000, 2001, and 2003; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Wilt served on the United States Soccer Federation board of directors and was instrumental in the memorandum being passed between the Fire, AEG and the Village of Bridgeview to bring a world class, soccer specific stadium to the State; and

WHEREAS, for his many endeavors, Peter Wilt has received numerous honors and awards. In 1998, he was named the MLS’s Executive of the Year and the Northwest Herald’s Sportsman of the Year. In 2002, he was honored as the Naperville Person of the Year by the Daily Herald, and in 2004 he was named to the Marian Central High School Sports Hall of Fame and the Illinois Soccer Hall of Fame; and

WHEREAS, on March 31, the Chicago Storm will be honoring Peter Wilt for his contributions to soccer, Chicago, and our great State:

CHILD ABUSE PREVENTION MONTH

WHEREAS, no child should have to endure mistreatment or abuse, especially at the hands of an adult. However, the unfortunate truth is that far too often children are abused and neglected by the very people that should protect and care for them; and

WHEREAS, studies show that child abuse and neglect can ruin children’s lives by making them more likely to drop out of school, suffer from drug and alcohol abuse, and ultimately become abusers themselves; and

WHEREAS, discovering solutions to child abuse and neglect requires the involvement and collaboration of citizens, organizations, and government entities throughout Illinois; and

WHEREAS, it is important that society learns to recognize the warning signs that a child might be abused or neglected. These include: nervousness around adults; aggression toward children or adults; frequent or unexplained bruises or injuries; low self-esteem; and poor hygiene; and

WHEREAS, in Illinois, effective child abuse prevention programs have contributed to a decline in reports of child abuse and neglect, from 139,720 reports in Fiscal Year 1995 to 111,837 reports in Fiscal Year 2005; and
WHEREAS, child abuse prevention programs in Illinois are effective because of partnerships created by the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, Prevent Child Abuse-Illinois, Parents Share & Care of Illinois, and other government entities, social service agencies, schools, religious organizations, law enforcement agencies, businesses and individual citizens:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim April 2006 as CHILD ABUSE PREVENTION MONTH in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to support child abuse prevention programs and report suspected cases of abuse to the Illinois Child Abuse Hotline at 1 (800) 25-ABUSE.

THE ALZHEIMER’S ASSOCIATION DAY

WHEREAS, Alzheimer’s disease is a complex, progressive disease where the affected individual begins to lose control of the part of their brain that regulates thought, memory, and language. The disease usually begins to appear in individuals over the age of 60, and the risk of acquiring it increases with age; and

WHEREAS, approximately 4.5 million Americans suffer from Alzheimer’s Disease, including approximately 222,000 Illinoisans. Although it appears in older individuals, Alzheimer’s is a condition in itself, and is not a normal part of the aging process; and

WHEREAS, established in 1980, the Alzheimer’s Association is the leading national health organization dedicated to advancing Alzheimer’s research and aid; and

WHEREAS, since its inception, the Alzheimer’s Association has been the largest private sponsor of Alzheimer research, providing more than $185 million in funding for hundreds of research studies; and

WHEREAS, the Alzheimer’s Association is a proven authority on the issues that affect citizens with Alzheimer’s disease and their families, serving as a voice for them in the capitals of every state, hundreds of U.S. congressional offices, and even the White House; and

WHEREAS, the Rita Hayworth Galas, held annually in New York and Chicago, are crucial fund-raising events that the Alzheimer’s Association relies heavily on for financial support; and

WHEREAS, since 1985, the Rita Hayworth Galas have raised more than $40 million in funds, with one hundred percent going directly to the Alzheimer’s Association; and

WHEREAS, Princess Yasmin Aga Khan, the general chair of the Rita Hayworth Gala and the daughter of the late Rita Hayworth, has worked tirelessly over the years in supporting the advancement of critical Alzheimer’s research. Her efforts have touched the lives of countless people throughout the country; and

WHEREAS, the Chicago Rita Hayworth Gala celebrates and honors medical research into the causes, treatment, prevention, and eventual cure of Alzheimer’s disease:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 13, 2006 as THE 19th ANNUAL RITA HAYWORTH GALA BENEFITING THE ALZHEIMER’S ASSOCIATION DAY in Illinois and encourage all citizens to recognize the importance of continued research on this devastating disease.

SARCIOIDOSIS AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, sarcoidosis is a disease that causes inflammation of the body’s tissues. It can occur in any organ of the body and upsets cells until they eventually form granulomas, which are small lumps that stay within the organ; and
WHEREAS, sarcoidosis can affect people all across the globe. Although it was once viewed as a rare disease, over the last 35 years the affected population has increased. Sarcoidosis is now the most common fibrotic lung disorder and one of the most common chronic diseases in the world; and

WHEREAS, symptoms of sarcoidosis are far ranging. Since the disease can affect any organ in the body, the symptoms are different for each organ. The most common symptoms include: fatigue, loss of appetite, fever, night sweats, enlarged lymph nodes, a skin rash, and shortness of breath and/or chest pain; and

WHEREAS, sarcoidosis is not easily diagnosed and can often go undetected or misdiagnosed for a long period of time. Because of this, it is difficult to estimate the number of people living with the disease today; and

WHEREAS, many patients with sarcoidosis do not require treatment and are able to function normally, particularly those without disabling symptoms. Although corticosteroids remain the primary treatment for sarcoidosis, a critical aspect of treatment is to keep the affected organs working and relieve the symptoms. Many times, symptoms will disappear spontaneously or without treatment; and

WHEREAS, there are many dedicated organizations in this country working to raise awareness about this disease. The National Sarcoidosis Society, Incorporated, provides educational awareness and support to the patients and their families as well as developing an ongoing campaign to promote awareness and medical research into the debilitating disease:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim April 2006 as SARCOIDOSIS AWARENESS MONTH in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to educate themselves on this unfortunate chronic illness, and do what they can to support those who are affected by it.

PARKINSON’S DISEASE AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, Parkinson’s disease is a progressive disorder of the central nervous system, affecting more than one million people in the United States; and

WHEREAS, approximately 1.5 million Americans are currently afflicted with Parkinson’s disease and it is estimated that 60,000 new cases are diagnosed each year; and

WHEREAS, Parkinson’s disease affects both men and women in almost equal numbers. It shows no social, ethnic, economic or geographic boundaries; and

WHEREAS, in 1961, The American Parkinson Disease Association, Inc. was founded to provide patient and family support for those afflicted by this debilitating disorder. The association also supports and funds ongoing research in the hope of finding a cure; and

WHEREAS, the State of Illinois recognizes the efforts of the Midwest Chapter of the American Parkinson Disease Association to increase funds and promote awareness to fight Parkinson’s disease, thereby improving the quality of life for those living with the disease:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim April 2006 as PARKINSON’S DISEASE AWARENESS MONTH in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to recognize the indispensable services of the American Parkinson Disease Association, Inc. to the residents of our state.

AMERICAN EX-PRISONERS OF WAR RECOGNITION DAY

WHEREAS, many loyal and brave Americans who served in the wars of this nation were captured by the enemy or listed as missing in action while performing their duties; and

WHEREAS, despite strict rules and regulations set forth by international codes, American Prisoners of War have often suffered unconscionable treatment and many have died as a result of cruel and inhumane acts by their enemy captors; and

WHEREAS, it is exceedingly fitting that we recognize the sacrifices of American Prisoners of War and those missing in action; and

WHEREAS, these heroic soldiers have demonstrated their love and convictions in the people and freedoms of this country by enduring these tragedies, and in many unfortunate cases by giving the ultimate sacrifice:
THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim April 9, 2006 as AMERICAN EX-PRISONERS OF WAR RECOGNITION DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to take a moment to honor and remember the men and women who suffered while fighting to make America a better place for all to live.

Filed by the Secretary of State March 24, 2006.

BATAAN DAY AND NATIONAL FORMER PRISONER OF WAR RECOGNITION DAY

WHEREAS, since the birth of this great nation, America has been blessed with a population of brave men and women who have courageously answered the call to defend their country’s ideals of freedom and democracy. Many of the brave Americans who have answered their country’s call to service were captured by hostile forces or listed as missing while performing their duties; and

WHEREAS, the harsh conditions of enemy captivity are an unfortunate reality that many of our brave soldiers and their allies have experienced firsthand. During World War II, American and Filipino prisoners of war who fought in the Philippines experienced some of the cruelest treatment. They were forced by Japanese captors to participate in what has come to be known as the Bataan Death March and the survivors were put into forced labor camps; and

WHEREAS, American and Filipino former prisoners of war are national heroes whose service to our country will never be forgotten. These brave men and women fought for America and endured cruelties and deprivation as prisoners of war that no man or women should ever have to experience; and

WHEREAS, during World War II, the Korean War, Vietnam, the 1991 Gulf War, Operation Iraqi Freedom, and other conflicts, our service men and women have sacrificed much to secure freedom, defend the ideals of our nation, and free the oppressed. Each of these individuals should be honored for their strength of character and for the difficulties they and their families endured. By answering the call of duty and risking their lives to protect others, these proud patriots continue to inspire us today as we work with our allies to extend peace, liberty, and opportunity to people around the world; and

WHEREAS, as we honor our former POWs, we must also recognize and honor all soldiers who remain unaccounted for, as well as those currently enlisted in the United States military who, like so many before them, proudly serve their country in an effort to advance peace throughout the world:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim April 9, 2006 as BATAAN DAY AND NATIONAL FORMER PRISONER OF WAR RECOGNITION DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to take a moment to honor and remember the men and women who suffered the hardships of enemy captivity while courageously serving their country.

Filed by the Secretary of State March 24, 2006.

HOME EDUCATION WEEK

WHEREAS, the growth and development of school age children is of paramount importance in Illinois, and across the country; and
WHEREAS, Illinois values its children and recognizes the importance of providing them with the best education possible so that they may realize their fullest potential and experience success in their future endeavors; and
WHEREAS, Illinois presents children and families with the opportunity to explore alternatives to public and private schools by authorizing home education as a legitimate and viable educational option; and
WHEREAS, home education allows parents the opportunity to develop and implement a learning program based on their children’s individual needs; and
WHEREAS, studies show that students who are educated at home typically score at or above the national average on standardized tests. Studies also confirm that children who are educated at home exhibit self-confidence and good citizenship, and are fully prepared academically to meet the challenges of today’s society:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim March 26 – April 1, 2006 as HOME EDUCATION WEEK in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to recognize the important role that home education plays in educating our children.

Issued by the Governor March 27, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State March 27, 2006.

ILLINOIS ELECTRIC AND TELEPHONE COOPERATIVES
YOUTH DAY

WHEREAS, for the past 47 years, the Electric and Telephone Cooperatives of Illinois have sponsored a paid tour of Washington, D.C., for approximately 60 outstanding Illinois high school students; and
WHEREAS, the selection criteria for students to participate includes essay and youth leadership contests that are sponsored by member cooperatives; and
WHEREAS, students from Illinois, along with nearly 1,500 contest winners from other states, will have an opportunity to witness their federal government in action during the “Youth to Washington” tour taking place on June 9 – 16, 2006; and
WHEREAS, in an effort to provide a broader educational experience for students throughout the state, the Electric and Telephone Cooperatives of Illinois will also sponsor a trip to our state capitol April 5, 2006 for 250 contest finalists; and
WHEREAS, these hard-working young men and women are the future of our state and country, and deserve to be commended for their achievements and their desire to learn more about their nation’s governing bodies:
THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim April 5, 2006 as ILLINOIS ELECTRIC AND TELEPHONE COOPERATIVES YOUTH DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to support youth programs that assist those interested in learning about the United States government.

NATIONAL DAY OF PRAYER

WHEREAS, in times of peril both at home and abroad, many American citizens turn to prayer for help and guidance; and WHEREAS, millions of men and women across the nation gratefully continue the tradition of prayer in churches, synagogues, temples, mosques, and other houses of worship across our country; and WHEREAS, established in 1952 by an act of Congress, the National Day of Prayer is now observed nationally every year on the first Thursday in May; and
WHEREAS, the National Day of Prayer is a celebration of American citizens’ freedom of religion, set forth in the First Amendment. Americans treasure their religious freedom, which embraces the many diverse communities of faith that have infused our society and our cultural heritage over more than two centuries; and
WHEREAS, the theme for the National Day of Prayer 2006 is America, Honor God, inspired by the passage found in I Samuel 2:30: “Those who honor me I will honor”:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 4, 2006 as NATIONAL DAY OF PRAYER in Illinois.

Issued by the Governor March 28, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State March 28, 2006.

PUBLIC SERVICE RECOGNITION WEEK

WHEREAS, Americans are served every single day by public servants at the federal, state, county and city levels. These unsung heroes do the work that keeps our nation functioning; and

WHEREAS, many public servants, including military personnel, police officers, firefighters, border patrol officers, embassy employees, health care professionals and others, risk their lives each day in service to the people of the United States; and

WHEREAS, public servants include teachers, mail carriers, doctors and scientists, train conductors and astronauts, nurses and safety inspectors, laborers, computer technicians and social workers, and many other occupations. Day in and day out, they provide the diverse services demanded by the American people of their government with efficiency and integrity; and

WHEREAS, for more than 20 years, the Public Employees Roundtable at the Council for Excellence in Government (a national, nonpartisan/nonprofit organization) has sought to highlight the accomplishments of the dedicated people who work tirelessly on behalf of all Americans; and

WHEREAS, without these public servants at every level, continuity would be impossible in a democracy that regularly changes its leaders and elected officials:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 1-7, 2006 as PUBLIC SERVICE RECOGNITION WEEK in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to recognize the accomplishments and contributions of government employees at all levels – federal, state, county and municipal – to our great State.

NATIONAL CANCER REGISTRARS WEEK

WHEREAS, chartered in May 1974, the National Cancer Registrars Association (NCRA) is a non-profit organization that represents more than 4,000 cancer registry professionals and Certified Tumor Registrars. The mission of NCRA is to promote education, credentialing, and advocacy for cancer registry professionals; and

WHEREAS, cancer registrars are healthcare professionals and data management experts that capture a complete summary of patient history, diagnosis, treatment, and status for every cancer patient in the United States, and other countries as well. This data is fundamental to the nation’s cancer prevention and treatment efforts; and

WHEREAS, cancer registrars advocate at state and local levels on issues related to cancer surveillance and privacy of patient medical records. This year’s theme is “Cancer Registrars...Advocates in Action,” and was chosen to acknowledge the growing impact cancer registrars make in the nation’s response to public health challenges; and

WHEREAS, researchers working on epidemiological studies and public health officials developing cancer prevention programs use data collected by cancer registrars. Local and state data is also submitted to the National Cancer Database, a nationwide oncology outcomes database maintained by the American College of Surgeons that provides the basis for many patterns of care studies; and

WHEREAS, during the week of April 3-7, 2006, Cancer Registrars will be honored by observing National Cancer Registrars Week. This annual observance, organized by the National Cancer Registrars Association, honors their members and Cancer Registry professionals whose vision and core values are set in making a difference in the “war on cancer”:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim April 3-7, 2006 as NATIONAL CANCER REGISTRARS WEEK in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to recognize these healthcare professionals for their tireless work in the fight against cancer.

Issued by the Governor March 28, 2006.

UNIVERSAL NEWBORN HEARING SCREENING DAY

WHEREAS, each day in the United States, it is estimated that sixty babies are born with moderate to severe hearing loss; and
WHEREAS, early detection is the single most important factor in successful treatment of hearing loss. In Illinois, there are approximately 180,000 newborn babies who have their hearing screened every year. Recent studies suggest that intervention within the first six months of a hard of hearing infant’s life is crucial to them reaching their speech, language, and learning potential; and
WHEREAS, in Illinois, nearly five-hundred children are born with congenital hearing loss each year; and
WHEREAS, to better deal with congenital hearing loss, the Illinois Hearing Screening for Newborns Act, passed in July of 1999, requires all birthing hospitals in the state to implement universal newborn hearing screening and reporting. The Universal Newborn Hearing Screening program was established to implement and administer the provisions of the act; and
WHEREAS, the Universal Newborn Hearing Screening program is a joint effort of two state agencies: the Department of Human Services and the Department of Public Health. These agencies, along with the University of Illinois at Chicago's Division of Specialized Care for Children, the Bureau of Early Intervention, hospital personnel, healthcare professionals, and community-based organizations, strive to ensure that parents of babies who have a hearing loss receive follow-up diagnostic testing and information regarding communication options and other services for their children; and
WHEREAS, the State of Illinois realizes the importance of universal newborn hearing screening and its impact on not only the lives of our children but their families and communities as well:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim April 11, 2006 as UNIVERSAL NEWBORN HEARING SCREENING DAY in Illinois, and urge all citizens to become cognizant of the role that early detection plays in the successful treatment of hearing loss.

ILLINOIS RESCUE AND RESTORE OUTREACH DAY

WHEREAS, human trafficking is a modern-day form of slavery. Victims of human trafficking are subjected to force, fraud, or coercion, for the purpose of sexual exploitation or forced labor. Victims are young children, teenagers, men, and women; and

WHEREAS, approximately 600,000 to 800,000 victims annually are trafficked across international borders worldwide, and between 14,500 and 17,500 of those victims are trafficked into the U.S. According to the U.S. Department of State, these estimates include women, men, and children; victims are generally trafficked into the U.S. from Asia, Central and South America, and Eastern Europe; and

WHEREAS, prior to the enactment of the Trafficking Victims Protection Act of 2000 (TVPA) in October 2000, no comprehensive Federal law existed to protect victims of trafficking or to prosecute their traffickers. The TVPA is intended to prevent human trafficking overseas, to increase prosecution of human traffickers in the United States, and to protect victims and provide Federal and state assistance to certain victims so that they can rebuild their lives in the United States; and

WHEREAS, many victims trafficked into the United States do not speak and understand English and are therefore isolated and unable to communicate with service providers, law enforcement, and others who might be able to help them; and

WHEREAS, if you think you have come in contact with a victim of human trafficking, call the Trafficking Information and Referral Hotline at (888) 373-7888. This hotline will help you determine if you have encountered victims of human trafficking, will identify local resources available in your community to help victims, and will help you coordinate with local social service organizations to help protect and serve victims so they can begin the process of restoring their lives. More information on human trafficking can be found at www.acf.hhs.gov/trafficking:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim April 22, 2006 as ILLINOIS RESCUE AND RESTORE OUTREACH DAY in Illinois to encourage all citizens to learn more about human trafficking, as well as thank all those who have helped the victims of this true injustice.

DAYS OF REMEMBRANCE

WHEREAS, the Holocaust was the state sponsored, systematic persecution and annihilation of European Jewry by Nazi Germany and its collaborators between 1933 and 1945; and

WHEREAS, during this sad time in history, six million were murdered, while many others were forced into grievous oppression and death under Nazi tyranny for racial, ethnic or national reasons; and

WHEREAS, the history of the Holocaust offers an opportunity to reflect on the moral responsibilities of individuals, societies, and governments; and

WHEREAS, the people of the State of Illinois also should always remember the terrible events of the Holocaust and remain vigilant against hatred, persecution, and tyranny. In addition, we should actively rededicate ourselves to the principles of individual freedom in a just society; and

WHEREAS, the Days of Remembrance have been set aside for the people of the state of Illinois to remember the victims of the Holocaust as well as to reflect on the need for respect of all peoples; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to an Act of Congress (Public Law 96-388, October 7, 1980) the United States Holocaust Memorial Council designates the Days of Remembrance of victims of the Holocaust to be Tuesday, April 25 through Sunday, April 30, 2006, including the International Day of Remembrance known as Yom Hashoah:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim April 25-30, 2006 as a DAYS OF REMEMBRANCE in Illinois, in memory of the victims of the Holocaust, and in honor of the survivors, as well as the rescuers and liberators, and urge all citizens to collectively and individually strive to overcome bigotry, hatred and indifference through learning, tolerance and remembrance.

GREEK PONTIAN GENOCIDE REMEMBRANCE DAY

WHEREAS, the State of Illinois prides itself on its vast cultural diversity, and each of the many ethnic communities that comprise our State carry with them stories of their country’s past – some tragic and some triumphant. These stories are important not only to preserving the rich heritage of our different ethnic populations, but they also teach valuable lessons from which our greater society benefits; and

WHEREAS, one such event is the Genocide of the Greek population in the Pontus region on the northern coast of Asia Minor (present day Turkey). This tragedy, occurring from 1914-1923, saw an estimated 353,000 Pontian Greeks, and an estimated 150,000 people from the rest of Asia Minor, die during a forced march without provisions across the Anatolian Plains to the Syrian border; and

WHEREAS, these Greek peoples, whose ancestors had lived in Asia Minor for 3,000 years, were targeted by the Ottoman Turkish authorities for expulsion along with Armenians and Assyrians, and during this awful nine-year span, the Greek population of Pontus endured immeasurable cruelty during a Turkish Government-sanctioned campaign to displace them; and

WHEREAS, those who survived through this dark time in history were exiled from Turkey, and today, they and their descendents live all throughout the Greek Diaspora, including the United States. Here in Illinois we are proud of our vibrant Greek communities, and it is fitting that the citizens of this State, along with all freedom-loving people throughout the world, join in solemn commemoration of the Greek Pontian Genocide of

WHEREAS, as we work hard in Illinois to instill in our youth a universal respect for other cultures, races, religions and viewpoints, we look to stories like the Greek Pontian Genocide to help teach such critical lessons. The acknowledgement and awareness of this shameful historical event will not only teach future generations, but also will help mankind prevent such crimes from ever being repeated:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 19, 2006 as GREEK PONTIAN GENOCIDE REMEMBRANCE DAY, and join with all the people of this State in honoring the memory and sacrifices of its noble victims. Furthermore, I hereby direct that this document be filed with the Office of the Secretary of State as a permanent record.

PHIL AYALA ST. FRANCIS WILDCATS MAN OF THE YEAR DAY

WHEREAS, born in Chicago, Illinois, Philip Ayala attended the St. Francis Elementary School, went on to serve in the Army and was an Airborne Ranger in Viet Nam; and

WHEREAS, Phil Ayala attended Malcolm X College and went on to earn his bachelor’s degree in psychology from Northeastern University. He did graduate and post-graduate work in social and clinical psychology at George Williams College. He holds a Masters in Public Administration from Northern Illinois University and has earned a certificate from the Graduate School of Business Administration at the University of Notre Dame; and

WHEREAS, in 1979, Mr. Ayala had the distinct honor of being one of 200 Hispanic leaders invited by President Carter to attend a White House conference on national policies. Also, he has served as a commission member to the Illinois committee to the United States Commission on Civil Rights. He has helped to develop Latino studies programs at several colleges, and the curriculum for early childhood development for Chicago City colleges. Mr. Ayala has served on numerous other commissions and boards at the local and national levels; and

WHEREAS, Phil is perhaps best known as the Executive Director of the Latin American Youth Center, which he co-founded 34 years ago. This agency has provided a variety of social, recreational and educational services for all age groups that total 10,000 to 12,000 people per year; and

WHEREAS, on April 22, 2006, Phil Ayala is being honored by the Fraternal Order of St. Francis Wildcats as their Man of the Year for 2006 and the State of Illinois is proud to join them in this recognition. His compassion and dedication continues to make a successful impact in the Hispanic community and this great State:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim April 22, 2006 as PHIL AYALA ST. FRANCIS WILDCATS MAN OF THE YEAR DAY in Illinois.

CHILDREN’S MEMORIAL FLAG DAY

WHEREAS, approximately 3 million children are reported abused and neglected in this country each year; and

WHEREAS, the negative effects of child abuse are felt in every state and in every community in this country, and therefore it is important that these issues are addressed on a national level; and

WHEREAS, the Child Welfare League of America has promoted the Children’s Memorial Flag as a way of memorializing the thousands of children and teenagers in the United States who die violently every year from child abuse; and

WHEREAS, the Children’s Memorial Flag has become a recognizable symbol of the need to remain diligent in the mission of protecting children from abuse; and

WHEREAS, effective child abuse prevention programs succeed because of partnerships created among social service agencies, schools, religious and civic organizations, law enforcement agencies, and the business community; and

WHEREAS, it is essential that as a country, we become more aware of the negative effects of child abuse and its prevention within our communities, and become involved in supporting parents to raise their children in a safe and nurturing environment:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim April 28, 2006 as CHILDREN’S MEMORIAL FLAG DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to memorialize the thousands of children across the country who die from child abuse each year, and furthermore, ask all citizens to increase their participation in efforts to prevent child abuse.

EQUAL PAY DAY

WHEREAS, forty years after the passage of the Equal Pay Act and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, women and people of color continue to suffer the consequences of inequitable pay differentials; and

WHEREAS, according to statistics released in 2005 by the U.S. Census Bureau, year-round, full-time working women in 2004 earned only 77% of the earnings of year-round, full-time working men, indicating little change or progress in pay equity; and

WHEREAS, according to a January 2002 report released by the General Accounting Office (the investigative arm of Congress), women managers in 7 of 10 industries surveyed actually lost ground in closing the wage gap between 1995 and 2000; and

WHEREAS, according to an analysis of data in over 300 classifications provided by the U.S. Department of Labor Statistics in 2001, women earn less in every occupational classification for which enough data is available, including occupations dominated by women (e.g., cashiers, retail sales, registered nurses and teachers); and

WHEREAS, higher education is not free from wage discrimination according to a U.S. Department of Education analysis, reporting that, after controlling for rank, age, credentials, field of study and other factors, full-time female faculty members earn nearly 9% less than their male counterparts; and

WHEREAS, over a working lifetime, this wage disparity costs the average American woman and her family an estimated $523,000 in lost wages, impacting Social Security benefits and pensions; and

WHEREAS, fair pay equity policies can be implemented simply and without undue costs or hardship in both the public and private sectors. It also strengthens the security of families today and eases future retirement costs, while enhancing the American economy; and

WHEREAS, in Illinois, the Equal Pay Bill was signed in 2003, which provides that no employer may pay wages solely on the basis of the employee's gender, and it expands the federal Equal Pay Act to cover employers with four or more employees, rather than 15. In conjunction with efforts to educate employees and employers about the Equal Pay Act of 2003, the state launched a toll-free number, 1-866-EPA-IDOL; and

WHEREAS, Tuesday, April 25th symbolizes the time in the new year in which the wages paid to American women catch up to the wages paid to men from the previous year:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim April 25, 2006 as EQUAL PAY DAY in Illinois, and urge all citizens to recognize the full value of women's skills and significant contributions to the labor force, and further encourages businesses to conduct an internal pay evaluation to ensure women are being paid fairly.

COVER THE UNINSURED WEEK

WHEREAS, rising health care costs in the United States continually make it difficult for individuals, businesses and state governments to purchase quality, affordable health care coverage; and

WHEREAS, uninsured children and adults usually experience poorer health and have shorter life-expectancies than insured individuals; and

WHEREAS, here in Illinois, we are making great progress in the mission of providing health insurance to those that are currently lacking coverage; and

WHEREAS, since the beginning of my administration in 2003, over 400,000 more children and working parents now have health coverage through the KidCare and FamilyCare programs. Because of this accomplishment, Illinois was recognized in 2004 by the Kaiser Foundation as the nation's leader in providing health care to low-income families; and

WHEREAS, even with the KidCare and FamilyCare programs, there are an estimated 250,000 children without any kind of health insurance. That's why I created the All Kids program: to make health care a reality for hundreds of thousands of families across the state. Illinois will be the first state in the nation to provide affordable, comprehensive health insurance for every child; and

WHEREAS, through an innovative new program called I-SAVE Rx, Illinoisans can now save up to 79% on the cost of their prescription drugs by purchasing them from safe and inspected pharmacies in Canada and the United Kingdom and drugs from Ireland. Additionally, Illinois senior citizens who may not benefit from I-SAVE Rx can join the Illinois Rx Buying Club, and save an average of 24% on all of their medications at over 2,300 pharmacies in this state; and

WHEREAS, Illinois’ commitment to providing health coverage to the greatest number of people possible does not stop with All Kids, KidCare, FamilyCare, and prescription drugs. We have also launched plans to: offer low-income women who are leaving Medicaid the informational tools necessary to avoid unwanted pregnancies and have successful transitions from welfare to work; expand funding for breast and cervical cancer screenings and AIDS prevention; and various other programs and initiatives aimed at ensuring the health and well-being of all citizens; and

WHEREAS, this year, the week of May 1 – 7 has been nationally designated as Cover The Uninsured Week to bring attention to the many people throughout the United States who are currently living without health insurance, and the need to assist those people in obtaining coverage. Illinois is proud to join in this important observance:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 1 – 7, 2006 as COVER THE UNINSURED WEEK in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to support efforts, both statewide and nationally, that help individuals and families gain access to quality, affordable health care.

FOOD ALLERGY AWARENESS WEEK

WHEREAS, there are eight types of foods that account for ninety percent of allergic reactions, such as: peanuts, tree nuts (walnuts, pecans, brazil nuts, etc.) fish, shellfish, eggs, milk, soy, and wheat. The leading cause of severe allergic reactions, however, is peanuts; and
WHEREAS, approximately 11 million Americans suffer from food allergies, and it is estimated that as many as 150 people die from food allergy reactions each year; and
WHEREAS, the Food Allergy and Anaphylaxis Network (FAAN) has a membership of more than 26,000 people worldwide. Established in 1991, the mission of FAAN is to raise public awareness, educate, and advance research on the issue of food allergies and anaphylaxis; and
WHEREAS, a food allergy occurs when the immune system mistakenly believes that a food is harmful, therefore, may cause a person to have a severe allergic reaction or an anaphylaxis; and
WHEREAS, food intolerance is different than a food allergy in that a food intolerance is a metabolic disorder, not involving the immune system. Lactose intolerance is a common example; and
WHEREAS, swelling of the tongue and throat, vomiting, difficulty breathing, or the presence of a rash, are some symptoms of food allergy and anaphylaxis, and typically appear within minutes to two hours after a person has eaten the food he or she is allergic to; and
WHEREAS, currently, there is no cure for food allergies and the only way to avoid a reaction is for an individual to avoid the food that is causing the reaction:
THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 14 – 20, 2006 as FOOD ALLERGY AWARENESS WEEK in Illinois, and encourage citizens with known food allergies to make others aware of their history to reduce the chance of a severe reaction.

SQUARE DANCE WEEK

WHEREAS, on May 7, 1983, the State Council of Illinois Square Dance Associations was formed to promote square dancing in all its forms, including square dancing, round dancing, contra dancing, and line dancing; and
WHEREAS, the square dance is a popular type of folk dance in the United States. This dance for four couples, or groups of four couples, is performed in a compact framework of a square, each couple forming a side. Traditionally accompanied by a fiddle, accordion, banjo, and guitar, the couples perform a variety of movements prompted by the patter or singing calls (instruction) of a “caller.” Cooperative movement is the hallmark of well-executed square dancing; and

WHEREAS, the origin of the square dance can be traced to English derivation and to the stately French cotillion performed in square formation that was popular at the court of Louis XIV, later replaced by the quadrille (another square dance); and

WHEREAS, in 1990, the square dance was adopted as the American Folk Dance of the State of Illinois by an act of the General Assembly; and

WHEREAS, the 2006 Illinois State Square and Round Dance Convention will be held July 28-30, 2006:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim July 23 - 29, 2006 as SQUARE DANCE WEEK in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to celebrate this truly American recreational folk dance.

NAVY WEEK

WHEREAS, the United States Navy (USN) is the branch of the United States Armed Forces responsible for conducting naval operations with sailors protecting our nation domestically and overseas; and

WHEREAS, the United States Navy can trace its origins to the Continental Navy, which was established during the American Revolutionary War, but was disbanded in the year 1790. The 1789 ratification of the United States Constitution supported the existence of a standing navy by giving Congress the right "to provide and maintain a navy." Following conflict with Barbary Coast corsairs, Congress enacted this right in 1794 by ordering the construction and manning of six frigates, thus establishing a permanent U.S. Navy; and
WHEREAS, the 21st century U.S. Navy maintains its presence in the world as an instrument of American policy. Despite decreases in the number of ships and personnel following the Cold War, the U.S. Navy remains the world’s largest navy with a tonnage greater than 17 of the next largest world navies combined; and

WHEREAS, the U.S. Navy currently numbers nearly half a million men and women on active or ready reserve duty and consists of 281 ships and over 4,000 operational aircraft; and

WHEREAS, from its earliest settlement and conflicts, Illinois has had a rich Naval tradition and the proud name of “USS Illinois” has been present on four U.S. Navy ships; and

WHEREAS, currently, Illinois is home to the Naval Station Great Lakes, which is the United States Navy's Headquarters Command for training issues, located in North Chicago, Illinois. Featured at this command center: the Recruit Training Center (Boot Camp), the Naval Hospital, and the Naval District Headquarters; and

WHEREAS, Navy Week in Illinois has been developed in order to celebrate the past, present, and future of Illinois’ long standing support of Navy service members:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 15 - 19, 2006 as NAVY WEEK in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to join in recognizing the noble men and women who have served and currently serve in the Navy.

Issued by the Governor May 04, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State May 04, 2006.

SALVATION ARMY WEEK

WHEREAS, over 125 years ago, the Salvation Army marched into the United States battling poverty, hunger, disease, abuse, loneliness, and other evils of society; and

WHEREAS, to this day, the Salvation Army continues its crusade to restore hope to countless men, women, and children who have nowhere else to turn; and

WHEREAS, the Salvation Army serves as a symbol of compassion, but more so as an active participant in the provision of services to thousands of Illinois men, women, and children across the country; and

WHEREAS, the Salvation Army provides its services to people in need without regard to race, color, creed, sex, or age; and

WHEREAS, the Salvation Army in Illinois provides much more than spiritual counseling and basic human necessities to the needy and hurting on a daily basis. Moreover, the countless hours given to the community have touched the lives of many in immeasurable ways; and

WHEREAS, the State of Illinois proudly recognizes the Salvation Army and everyone who is involved in their invaluable work that so greatly benefits our communities:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 15-21, 2006 as SALVATION ARMY WEEK in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to celebrate and honor the dedicated men and women who work or volunteer for this noble organization.

NORTHSHORE CONCERT BAND DAY

WHEREAS, the Northshore Concert Band (NCB) is a 110-member symphonic band that performs through the Chicago metropolitan area. The ensemble has a rich 50-year history and has become internationally known and respected for its musical excellence, leadership in community music, and service to music education; and

WHEREAS, founded in 1956, the NCB was led for 40 years by the late John P. Paynter, who was director of bands at Northwestern University, an accomplished arranger and president of many band organizations, including the American Bandmasters Association. Mr. Paynter built what started as an 11-member, rather informal group into one of the most influential and respected symphonic bands in the world today; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Mallory Thompson, director of bands and professor of conducting at Northwestern University, is NCB’s artistic director. Dr. Thompson is in great demand as a guest conductor and clinician throughout the United States and is widely regarded as one of the leading wind conductors in the nation; and
WHEREAS, one of the objectives of the NCB is to make a substantial contribution to musical life locally, nationally, and internationally; and
WHEREAS, the Northshore Concert Band is celebrating their 50th season:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim June 4, 2006 as NORTHSHORE CONCERT BAND DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to join in this worthy observance of a lasting musical tradition.

ILLINOIS MEDICAL CODERS DAY

WHEREAS, medical coders succeed by identifying and addressing patterns of disease, illness, and injury in populations, as well as by identifying the trends and patterns in the procedures and services they provide by reviewing all tests, diagnoses, results, and medications and translating them to a numerical value; and
WHEREAS, the use of medical codes for disease and injury prevention has contributed to understanding correlations in illness and injury to treatment, including heart disease, stroke, viral infections, infectious diseases, and motor vehicle and workplace injuries; and
WHEREAS, medical coders help preserve the history of communities through the abstracting of information from birth and death records; and
WHEREAS, over the past decade, medical coders have achieved significant milestones in the sophistication of their profession through extensive education and training; and
WHEREAS, the need for qualified medical coders continues to increase nationally in physician offices, and outpatient and hospital settings; and
WHEREAS, the integrity and high standards of medical coders have contributed to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services’ campaign against fraud and abuse in medical reimbursement; and
WHEREAS, my administration is proud to recognize medical coders for all their hard work in this state, and throughout the country:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 17, 2006 as ILLINOIS MEDICAL CODERS DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to recognize and honor the medical coders for their hard work in our communities.

NATIONAL WOMEN’S HEALTH WEEK

WHEREAS, National Women’s Health Week celebrates the extraordinary progress in women’s health and recognizes that still more needs to be done to safeguard the health of women for generations to come; and

WHEREAS, it may be believed that all women’s health can be viewed one dimensionally, but this is far from true. For instance, heart disease is the number one killer among women in general, but cancer ranks first among Asian/Pacific Islander women; and

WHEREAS, when it comes to lung cancer, Caucasian women have the highest mortality rate, while African American women have the highest mortality rate from heart disease; and

WHEREAS, there are five health habits that can contribute to the betterment of women’s health, including maintaining regular check ups, exercising, maintaining a healthy diet, not smoking, and following general safety rules; and

WHEREAS, keeping women healthy and safe and promoting awareness of women’s health issues depends on partnerships with social, health, and other services; and

WHEREAS, under my administration, the Illinois Healthy Women program has been created to provide health care to women who otherwise would go without. In addition, Illinois has dramatically increased the number of mammograms and cervical cancer screenings since I took office; and

WHEREAS, in 2005, Illinois became the first state to require pharmacists to dispense female contraceptives when I issued an emergency rule requiring pharmacists whose pharmacies sell contraceptives to dispense birth control to women with valid prescriptions; and
WHEREAS, women’s health remains a priority for families, communities, and government, and our commitment to keeping women healthy is stronger than ever:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 14 – 20, 2006 as NATIONAL WOMEN’S HEALTH WEEK in Illinois, and encourage all women, during this week, to renew their commitment to their health and well-being.

Issued by the Governor May 05, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State May 05, 2006.

NATIONAL NURSING HOME WEEK

WHEREAS, Legends In Our Own Time is this year's theme for National Nursing Home Week; and
WHEREAS, during this week, we recognize all of the people that play unique parts leading to the success story for the quality care performed at nursing facilities; and
WHEREAS, the elderly and developmentally challenged residents of long-term care facilities have led exceptional and extraordinary lives which have helped enhance the quality of life in this great State; and
WHEREAS, the long-term care facilities in Illinois are dedicated to providing the finest in health care and rehabilitation for our convalescent, aged, and developmentally challenged citizens; and
WHEREAS, this dedication has been forcefully demonstrated through continual striving to upgrade standards of care and improve service; and
WHEREAS, National Nursing Home Week is an opportunity to bring into the limelight the celebration of this focus on quality with residents, staff, families, volunteers, and members of our communities; and
WHEREAS, the Illinois Health Care Association is contributing to activities in observance of National Nursing Home Week beginning May 14, 2006:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 14-20, 2006 as NATIONAL NURSING HOME WEEK in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to recognize all the individuals who have continually committed themselves to quality care and service in our state’s long-term care facilities.

Issued by the Governor May 05, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State May 05, 2006.

ASSOCIATION WEEK

WHEREAS, the Association Forum of Chicagoland represents CEOs and executives from associations located in Chicago, and its surrounding communities; and

WHEREAS, the associations that the Association Forum serves generate more than three billion dollars annually for Chicago’s economy and employ 33,000 professionals in various capacities; and

WHEREAS, the Association Forum represents institutions such as the American Bar Association, the American Medical Association, the American Hospital Association, and many others; and

WHEREAS, Chicago is home to the second most association headquarters in America, and ranks first for healthcare-related organizations; and

WHEREAS, the Association Forum will celebrate Association Week from June 19 – 23, 2006; and

WHEREAS, the contributions of associations and their employees will be recognized this week through such events as the Association All-Star Day, and the Forum Honors Gala:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim June 19 – 23, 2006 as ASSOCIATION WEEK in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to recognize and celebrate the innumerable contributions that Illinois headquartered associations make to the health, education, and overall well-being of the people of this great State.

THE HONORABLE LOVANA "LOU" JONES MEMORIAL DAYS

WHEREAS, Representative Lovana “Lou” Jones, a loyal public servant to the State of Illinois, was born on March 28, 1938 in Mansfield, Ohio, and moved to the Douglas/Grand Boulevard neighborhood of Chicago with her family in 1959; and

WHEREAS, Representative Jones’ service to Illinois began in 1987 when she was elected to represent the 26th Representative District, which stretches from Chicago’s Near North Side to the Kenwood neighborhood. Loved and respected by her constituency, she was re-elected to this post for nine more consecutive terms; and

WHEREAS, throughout her tenure in the Illinois House, Representative Jones was a vocal leader on children’s issues, women’s issues and reforming the state correctional system. She also worked hard to bring more financial options to inner city residents and has fought for greater protections for consumers; and

WHEREAS, on Monday, May 8, 2006, Representative Lou Jones passed away at the age of 68. She is survived by her two children and eight grandchildren; and

WHEREAS, Representative Jones’ service to Illinois for nearly 20 years was truly exemplary, and she will be greatly missed not only by her family and friends, but also by her peers, colleagues and everyone who was fortunate enough to have met or worked with her over the years; and

WHEREAS, on this solemn occasion, the State of Illinois will fly flags at half-staff on May 9th and 10th to honor the life and achievements of Representative Jones:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 9 - 10, 2006 as THE HONORABLE LOVANA “LOU” JONES MEMORIAL DAYS in Illinois, and order all state facilities to fly their flags at half-staff for the entirety of these two days.

Issued by the Governor May 09, 2006.

Filed by the Secretary of State May 09, 2006.

NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION WEEK

WHEREAS, our transportation system not only gives us freedom and mobility, allowing us to move from place to place, but it also boosts the nation’s economy, and strengthens our nation’s security; and
WHEREAS, advancing knowledge of the transportation industry and increasing public awareness on the significant nature transportation plays in the nation’s economy, are two goals the National Defense Transportation Association (NDTA) has set forth for National Transportation Week; and

WHEREAS, the first National Transportation Week was observed in 1953 with the help of the Women’s Transportation Club of Houston. This group originally set up a scholarship program benefiting transportation degree students at the University of Houston, but with no interested applicants; and

WHEREAS, seeing that the students and the public were virtually unaware and uninterested in the transportation industry, attempts were then made to sway past Presidents of the United States to proclaim National Transportation Week as a way of promoting the transportation industry, though their efforts were not officially honored until 1962; and

WHEREAS, in Illinois, not only has our Department of Transportation been expanding the road system and supporting public transportation, but has been successful in reducing highway fatalities, improving opportunities for small, women, and minority owned businesses and upgrading process management throughout the organization. IDOT was the first state Department of Transportation to receive ISO 9001:2000 certification, an international standard that provides a universal baseline for quality process management; and

WHEREAS, this year, the annual National Transportation Week Conference and Expo will culminate the week’s events:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 15 – 19, 2006 as NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION WEEK in Illinois, and commend the outstanding accomplishments of the men and women who keep our transportation systems going, whether they be the distributors that transport goods, or the laborers of our highways.

Issued by the Governor May 09, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State May 09, 2006.

PROVIDER APPRECIATION DAY

WHEREAS, early childhood is the most critical developmental period for all children; and

WHEREAS, 2.8 million people earn a living by teaching and caring for young children or by working in jobs directly related to this field; and

WHEREAS, of the 21 million children under age six in America, 13 million are in child care at least part time. An additional 28 million school-age children are in some form of child care outside of school time; and

WHEREAS, seeing the need for a day to appreciate and recognize child care providers, a group of volunteers in New Jersey started Provider Appreciation Day in 1996; and

WHEREAS, by calling attention to the importance of high quality child care services for all children and families in our state, these provider groups hope to improve the quality and availability of such services:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 12, 2006 as PROVIDER APPRECIATION DAY in Illinois and urge all citizens to join me in recognizing Illinois’ child care providers for their commitment and dedication to our children.

ALS AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS), most commonly known as Lou Gehrig’s Disease, is a progressive fatal neurodegenerative disease that attacks the motor neurons, making even the simplest movements – walking, speaking, gesturing – nearly impossible; and

WHEREAS, named after former New York Yankees first baseman Lou Gehrig, an ALS sufferer who was forced to prematurely retire from the game of baseball in 1939, ALS is a debilitating disease, generally resulting in paralysis; and

WHEREAS, the initial symptoms of ALS may include muscle weakness, atrophy, cramping, twitching, stiffness, slowness of movement, or spasticity, and can result in loss of the muscles involved in mobility as well as speaking, swallowing, and breathing, though the intellect and ability to think and feel emotions continue to function; and

WHEREAS, approximately 15 new cases of ALS are diagnosed every day, with a person losing their battle with the disease every 90 minutes; and

WHEREAS, ALS, a disorder for which there is no known cure and has a life expectancy between three and five years, currently affects an estimated 35,000 Americans, most commonly in late middle age, but ranging from teenage years to over 80 years, with over 5,000 new ALS cases diagnosed annually; and

WHEREAS, ALS Awareness Month increases the public’s understanding of the impact this devastating disease has not only on the person living with ALS but also on his or her family and friends as well, and recognizes the critical research underway to eradicate ALS:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 2006 as ALS AWARENESS MONTH in Illinois, and urge all citizens to support the efforts of those dedicated to ending this ravishing disease.

ORDER SONS OF ITALY/ALZHEIMER’S ASSOCIATION
"PARTNERS IN PROGRESS" DAY

WHEREAS, the Order Sons of Italy in America (OSIA) was established in the Little Italy neighborhood of New York City on June 22, 1905, by Vincenzo Sellaro, M.D., and five other Italian immigrants who came to the United States during the great Italian migration (1880-1923); and

WHEREAS, their aim was to create a support system for all Italian immigrants that would assist them in becoming U.S. citizens, and providing their health/death benefits and educational opportunities; and

WHEREAS, over the years, the OSIA has achieved much success in their goals of serving the public. Not only have they established free schools and centers to teach immigrants English and to help them become citizens, but they have also instituted orphanages and homes for the elderly, and helped to raise money for those in need; and

WHEREAS, the National Council of the Order Sons of Italy in America has adopted Alzheimer’s disease as one of its primary charities, and plans to support this cause by implementing a fund raising campaign throughout the nation; and

WHEREAS, joining their cause will be the Alzheimer’s Association, a group that provides services to Alzheimer’s patients and their families; and

WHEREAS, together, they will be holding the Illinois portion of this benevolent fundraiser on May 20, 2006. Members of the Order, along with other volunteers, will be collecting donations to help the 2.5 million Americans affected by this debilitating disease:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 20, 2006 as ORDER SONS OF ITALY/ALZHEIMER’S ASSOCIATION “PARTNERS IN PROGRESS” DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to recognize and aid in the charitable work these organizations carry out for the benefit of others.

MEMORIAL DAY 2006

WHEREAS, throughout the history of this great country, millions of brave men and women have answered their call to duty and served in the United States Armed Forces in times of war and peace. Sadly, many of those soldiers have paid the ultimate sacrifice; and

WHEREAS, it is a great tragedy when a member of the Armed Forces is killed in the line of duty; and

WHEREAS, in May of each year, a commemoration of Memorial Day gives Americans the opportunity to remember the soldiers that have lost their lives in the name of freedom and democracy; and

WHEREAS, through every American conflict, Illinoisans have served in the Armed Forces with great honor and distinction. Those who have died will be forever remembered as true American Heroes, and Illinois is proud to recognize each and every one of those individuals on this Memorial Day 2006:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby recognize MEMORIAL DAY 2006 as a chance for all citizens to honor our fallen heroes, and to reflect on the great sacrifices they have made to protect our freedom and spread democracy across the globe.

WE REMEMBER, WE CARE FOR INDIGENT PERSONS DAY

WHEREAS, the world of an indigent person is accompanied by many mental, emotional, psychological and physical stresses that can affect them for the rest of their lives. Depression runs rampant, living conditions are meager at best, and social isolation is common; and
WHEREAS, the plight of the needy, homeless, and less fortunate has become everyone’s problem, not just their own. For many years, this devastating existence has been overlooked; and
WHEREAS, the State of Illinois, along with private organizations, are making attempts to remedy these situations, creating programs that deal with the immediate and long term problems associated with the indigent population. These social service programs have been created as a way to help them help themselves by providing multidimensional assistance; and
WHEREAS, the Departments of Health and Family Services and Human Services lead the way in providing valuable assistance to qualified persons in the State of Illinois. My administration continues to support the social service organizations that improve the quality of life of this special population:
THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 24, 2006 as WE REMEMBER, WE CARE FOR INDIGENT PERSONS DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to be mindful of the silent struggles many members of our state have to endure, including poverty, disability, and abandonment.

INTERNATIONAL CHILDREN’S DAY

WHEREAS, there is a strong need for us to take action and ensure that the children of this state are being provided a healthy start. It is with this need in mind that we dedicate this day as International Children’s Day and celebrate children in Illinois and around the world; and
WHEREAS, International Children’s Day was first celebrated in 1925 in Geneva, Switzerland, during the “World Conference for the Well-Being of Children.” This conference focused on issues relating to child welfare, including poverty, prevention of child labor, and education; and

WHEREAS, there are many health and social problems associated with childhood that can continue to haunt children into adulthood; and

WHEREAS, it is important that families and educational systems work together to replace our children’s fears with a sense of hope; and

WHEREAS, the celebration of International Children’s Day serves to bring joy to children and to draw the attention of society to critical children’s issues that are facing families in the 21st Century; and

WHEREAS, here in Illinois, we place the utmost value on the safety and welfare of our children, and we are in support of programs designed to advocate for their best interests:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim June 1, 2006 as INTERNATIONAL CHILDREN’S DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to use this day as a catalyst to strengthen the relationship between you and a special child in your life.

LET'S TALK, LET'S TEST FOUNDATION
"I NEED YOU TO SURVIVE" DAY

WHEREAS, established in 2002 by Illinois State Representative Constance A. “Connie” Howard, State Senator Kimberly Lightford, Mr. Lloyd Kelly, and with the unwavering support of the Illinois Legislative Black Caucus, Congressman Danny Davis, Alderman Freddrenna Lyle, Clerk of the Circuit Court, Dorothy Brown, and Cook County Commissioner Bobbie Steele, the mission of the LET'S TALK, LET'S TEST FOUNDATION (LTLTF) is to raise awareness of the devastating impact of HIV/AIDS on the African-American community; and
WHEREAS, according to the Center for Disease Control and Prevention’s latest numbers, African-Americans make up 12 percent of the United States population, but they account for 50% of all new HIV/AIDS diagnoses; and
WHEREAS, the CDC reports that HIV/AIDS is among the top 3 causes of death for African-American men aged 25-54 years and among the top 4 causes of death for African-American women in the same age group.
According to the CDC, HIV/AIDS is the number one cause of death for African-American women aged 25-34 years; and

WHEREAS, the State of Illinois joins the LTLTF in hopes of keeping HIV/AIDS at the forefront of consciousness in our nation; and

WHEREAS, this year, the Illinois General Assembly passed and today
I will sign Senate Bill 1001, creating the Illinois African American HIV/AIDS Response Fund, which will provide for the prevention of HIV transmission in this state; and

WHEREAS, on May 20, 2006, the annual signature event, “I Need
You To Survive” African American HIV/AIDS Walk, Run, and Bike Ride,

MISSING CHILDREN’S DAY

WHEREAS, there are 2,203 pending missing children under the age of 18 in the State of Illinois, which represents only a small percentage of the children that are estimated to be missing nationwide as reported through a national study conducted by the United States Department of Justice; and

WHEREAS, there are four different categories that classify missing children. The largest number of missing children are runaways, followed by those that have been abducted by family members, those that are lost, injured, or otherwise missing, and the smallest category, but the one in which the child is at the greatest risk of injury or death, are those that have been abducted by non-family members; and

WHEREAS, locating and safely returning missing children to their homes is a statewide, national, and international objective; and

WHEREAS, on August 29, 1985 in Chicago, Illinois, Governors from the states of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Missouri and Wisconsin signed the “Interstate Agreement on Missing and Exploited Children,” and since then, the states of Ohio, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Nebraska have also joined in the initiative. This agreement was the beginning of the development of an interstate network established to improve the process of identifying and recovering missing children in our communities; and

WHEREAS, in 2002, the Illinois State Police implemented the America’s Missing: Broadcast Emergency Response (AMBER) Alert Notification Plan. AMBER Alert was developed as a quick and efficient way to notify the public and any city, town, village, county, or state law enforcement agency in Illinois, of specific information regarding the abduction of a child whose life may be in danger. To date, AMBER Alert has been instrumental in recovering 16 missing children; and

WHEREAS, teaching your children to run away from danger, never letting your children go places alone, knowing where and with whom your children are at all times, talking openly with your children about safety and having a list of family members who can be contacted in case of an emergency, are among the list of preventative tips that will help keep your children safe from kidnapping and abductions:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim May 25, 2006 as MISSING CHILDREN’S DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to observe this day by turning on porch lights and vehicle headlights to “LIGHT THE WAY HOME” for our missing children throughout the country.

NATIONAL FLAG DAY

WHEREAS, on August 3, 1949, an act of Congress was signed designating June 14th of each year as National Flag Day. This day is significant because it commemorates June 14, 1777 when the Continental Congress adopted the stars and stripes flag as the official flag of the republic; and

WHEREAS, the stars and stripes design is symbolic of qualities the world has come to expect of this great nation – the white stripes signifying purity and innocence, the red stripes signifying valor and bravery, and the blue background signifying perseverance and justice; and

WHEREAS, on December 8, 1982, the National Flag Day Foundation was chartered to conduct educational programs and to encourage all Americans to Pause for the Pledge of Allegiance on National Flag Day, June 14. The annual Pause for the Pledge of Allegiance asks Americans across the nation to pause and recite the Pledge as a way of commemorating Flag Day. The idea originated in 1980 and in 1985 Public Law 99-54 was passed recognizing the Pause for the Pledge as part of National Flag Day activities; and

WHEREAS, National Flag Day celebrates our nation’s symbol of unity, a democracy in a republic, and stands for our country’s devotion to freedom, to the rule of law, and to equal rights for all:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim June 14, 2004 as NATIONAL FLAG DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to take time to reflect upon the liberty and freedom we enjoy and that our flag has come to represent.

LYMPHOMA RESEARCH FOUNDATION DAY AND LYMPHOMATHON DAY

WHEREAS, lymphoma is a type of cancer that results when abnormal lymphocyte cells are created. These cells can grow in many parts of the body, including the lymph nodes, bone marrow, or spleen. There are more than 30 subtypes of cancer of the lymphatic system: 5 types of Hodgkin’s disease and over 25 types of non-Hodgkin’s lymphoma; and

WHEREAS, symptoms of lymphoma come in several forms, but are hard to detect because they are generally the same as those of the common cold. A very persistent cold or respiratory infection may be a sign of lymphoma; and

WHEREAS, of the nearly 500,000 Americans that have lymphoma, 332,000 have Non-Hodgkin’s lymphoma. Over 60,000 new cases are diagnosed and 20,000 Americans die from the disease each year. Treatment for the disease comes in three different manners – chemotherapy, radiation therapy, and biologic therapy. These treatments, or combinations of thereof, can put the cancer in remission for years; and

WHEREAS, approximately 168,000 people with lymphoma have Hodgkin’s disease. This form of lymphoma has a much higher survival rate – 84 percent over five years. Each year 7,800 new cases are diagnosed and 1,490 Americans die from the disease. Those treated often receive some form of chemotherapy or radiation therapy or a combination of the two; and

WHEREAS, the Lymphoma Research Foundation (LRF) was created to eradicate Lymphoma and serve those touched by the disease. The Foundation is the nation’s largest lymphoma-focused organization dedicated to funding lymphoma research. To date, LRF has funded over $29.5 million for cancer research; and

WHEREAS, the LRF will be hosting its 40th Annual Chicago LYMPHOMATHon, a 5K walk and run to help raise money for the cause. This event will begin at Montrose Harbor on Lake Michigan:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim August 27, 2006 as LYMPHOMA RESEARCH FOUNDATION DAY and LYMPHOMATHON DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to join in supporting the search for a cure to this life-threatening disease.

Issued by the Governor August 10, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State August 10, 2006.

LIFE INSURANCE AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, life insurance provides families and loved ones of deceased individuals with monetary compensation to help them emotionally and financially deal with their losses; and

WHEREAS, surveys consistently indicate that the vast majority of Americans believe that life insurance is an essential part of a sound financial plan; and

WHEREAS, the unfortunate reality today is that 44 percent of US households say they lack adequate life insurance protection; and

WHEREAS, when someone who provides for other family members dies prematurely, insufficient life insurance coverage often results in financial hardship for surviving family members, forcing them to take such measures as work additional jobs or longer hours, borrow money from family and friends, scale back educational plans for children, spend down money from savings and investment accounts, and move to less expensive housing; and

WHEREAS, determining how much and what kind of insurance to buy is one of the most important financial decisions consumers will ever make; individuals, families, and businesses can benefit greatly from the expert advice of a qualified life insurance professional; and

WHEREAS, the Life and Health Insurance Foundation for Education (LIFE), the National Association of Insurance and Financial Advisors (NAIFA), and a coalition representing hundreds of leading life insurance companies and organizations have designated September 2006 as “Life Insurance Awareness Month,” whose goal is to make consumers more aware of their life insurance needs, seek professional advice, and take the actions necessary to achieve the financial security of their loved ones:

Issued by the Governor August 15, 2006.

LITTLE SAUCE ON THE PRAIRIE CONTEST DAY

WHEREAS, on September 22nd and 23rd, 2006, the “Septemberfest” festival, which is being held by the Bloomington Normal Jaycees, is expanding to include the “Little Sauce on the Prairie Contest”; and

WHEREAS, the “Little Sauce on the Prairie Contest,” as an Illinois State Championship, allows teams to qualify for national level barbeque competitions; and

WHEREAS, this event, as a Kansas City Barbecue Society (KCBS) sanctioned event, will bring together amazing entertainment and award winning BBQ competitors; and

WHEREAS, the State of Illinois is proud to recognize the many talented individuals who are putting their barbeque grilling skills to the test during this event:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim September 22-23, 2006 as the LITTLE SAUCE ON THE PRAIRIE CONTEST DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to recognize and participate in this entertaining event that will undoubtedly showcase a variety of tasty barbeque recipes.
WHEREAS, on August 24, 1991, the Parliament of Ukraine formally declared its independence from the Soviet Union; and

WHEREAS, in the aftermath, the economy and quality of life in Ukraine suffered; and although they were independent, Ukrainians were not free. During his two-five year terms, President Leonid Kuchma created an authoritarian administrative machine; and

WHEREAS, in response, the Ukrainian people showed their unity and desire to live in a democratic society by organizing a non-violent uprising throughout Ukraine, known as the Orange Revolution, that resulted in the free and fair election of Viktor Yushchenko as Ukraine’s new president in December 2004; and

WHEREAS, today, Ukraine is gradually progressing toward its goal of joining the World Trade Organization, a valuable short-term goal for Ukraine’s pro-Western government that will help position Ukraine into the global market economy and spur much needed foreign investment and the improvement of living standards for its 48 million citizens; and

WHEREAS, Americans have a vital interest in the success of democracy and freedom in Ukraine, and Ukrainians around the world, including those in the United States and the State of Illinois, anxiously await their progress:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim August 24, 2006 as UKRAINIAN INDEPENDENCE DAY in Illinois in celebration of Ukrainian Independence, and in support of their worthy efforts to establish a stable and prospering republic.

Issued by the Governor August 15, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State August 15, 2006.
WHEREAS, Illinois ranks 2nd in the nation in corn production, with over 2 billion bushels of corn produced annually by Illinois farmers; and
WHEREAS, corn refiners are important markets in Illinois and the entire United States for agricultural producers, providing them with significant marketing opportunities for their product; and
WHEREAS, corn refiners produce a large number of consumer products that are used throughout the world, including, sweeteners, starches and food oils. From a single bushel of corn we can produce: 32 pounds of starch, or 33 pounds of sweetener, plus 1.5 pounds of corn oil and 2.6 pounds of gluten meal; and
WHEREAS, Corn Products International is headquartered in Westchester, Illinois and is one of the world’s largest corn refiners with net sales of $2.36 billion annually. It is also the number-one worldwide producer of dextrose and a leading regional manufacturer of starch, high fructose corn syrup and glucose; and
WHEREAS, Corn Products International manufactures products and ingredients used by companies in more than 60 diverse industries including food, beverage, pharmaceutical, paper products, corrugated and laminated paper, textile, brewing, animal nutrition and others; and
WHEREAS, Corn Products International employs approximately 600 people at its Argo Plant in Bedford Park and its headquarters in Westchester, Illinois, providing a major economic anchor for these communities and the state by pumping millions of dollars into the local economy each year; and
WHEREAS, Corn Products International was founded in 1906, began construction of its Argo Plant in Bedford Park, Illinois that same year, and celebrated 100 years of continuous business operations on February 6 of this year; and
WHEREAS, the Argo Plant has purchased billions of bushels of corn from U.S. farmers during its first century of operation in Bedford Park; and
WHEREAS, Corn Products International is now completing construction of a new, state-of-the-art coal fired steam plant at its Argo Plant in Bedford Park, signaling its ongoing commitment to conduct business in Illinois; and
WHEREAS, Corn Products International expects to utilize roughly 500,000 tons annually of Illinois-mined coal at its new steam plant, supporting fifty coal-mining jobs in the southern part of state as well as thousands of secondary jobs in businesses involved in transportation, banking, marketing, food manufacturing and other industries;

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim August 15, 2006 as CORN PRODUCTS ARGO PLANT DAY in Illinois, in recognition of the significant contribution of this company and facility to the people, communities and economy of the state.

HARLAND DAY

WHEREAS, in 1971, the John H. Harland Company opened a plant in Bolingbrook, Illinois. Thirty-five years later, the company has become a leading provider of products and services to both the financial and educational markets. This year marks the thirty-fifth anniversary of the John H. Harlan Company’s Bolingbrook Plant; and

WHEREAS, John Herdman Harland founded the John H. Harland Company on June 16, 1923, after immigrating to the United States from Ireland in the early part of the 20th century. John Harland demonstrated the power of the American Dream. Through hard work, initiative and perseverance, he established a company that has become a leader in the industry. By giving back to employees and the communities in which the company operated, he gave others the opportunity to live their own American Dream; and

WHEREAS, in the true spirit of John Harland, the company has continued to contribute significantly to Illinois and the national economy by improving both the quantity and quality of the company’s products and services and providing opportunities for its employees and their families. The John H. Harland Company also continues to invest in its communities, believing – as John Harland did – that the strength of a company is measured by the strength of the community; and people and has grown to the size of 120,000 square feet. Since opening 35 years ago, Harland’s employees have played a crucial role in helping the company meet the needs of its customers and the community:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim August 18, 2006 as HARLAND DAY in Illinois, on the occasion of the 35th anniversary celebration of the John H. Harland Company’s Bolingbrook Plant.

WHEREAS, Peace Day has been celebrated annually in Chicago, Illinois since September 7, 1978 through the observance of One Minute of Silence for World Peace; and

WHEREAS, in 1981, the United Nations proposed a resolution declaring one day every year as an International Day of Peace. This Day is observed as one of global cease-fire and non-violence from every country across the globe; and

WHEREAS, the day is used as a means of spreading the message of world peace and its vital importance to the future of the human race; and

WHEREAS, the goal of Peace Day is to contribute to the peace-making process through positive peace-building activities, and to allow all individuals to harness their abilities and actively participate in creating a more peaceful world; and

WHEREAS, the Peace School, an Illinois not-for-profit organization, has sponsored Peace Day since its inception and has been awarded the United Nations Peace Messenger designation for its significant contributions to peace; and

WHEREAS, in 2001, a resolution was passed by the United Nations declaring September 21 of every year as International Day of Peace as a way of rededicating the United Nations to its goals of strengthening the ideals of peace and alleviating the tensions and causes of conflict; and

WHEREAS, these events encourage all individuals to take a minute for peace every day as a positive step toward making every day Peace Day:

CANAVAN DISEASE AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, Canavan Research Illinois is an Illinois nonprofit corporation established in April 2000 to meet a critical need to support medical research to treat, cure, and improve the quality of lives of all children battling Canavan disease, a rare fatal genetic neurological disorder; and

WHEREAS, the majority of the victims of Canavan disease do not reach their 10th birthday. These innocent children face the loss of all motor functions, blindness, paralysis, feeding tubes, and eventual disintegration of the brain, at which point they fall into a vegetative state from which they cannot recover; and

WHEREAS, Canavan Research Illinois is an all volunteer charity dedicated to raise funds to support cutting-edge research, increase public awareness, and provide a network for Canavan families; and

WHEREAS, on October 21, 2006, Canavan Research Illinois will hold the 8th Annual Canavan Charity Ball:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 2006 as CANAVAN DISEASE AWARENESS MONTH in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to observe this month with appropriate programs, ceremonies, and activities to raise awareness of Canavan disease and to improve the quality of life of those who are battling this disease.

Issued by the Governor August 21, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State August 21, 2006.
WHEREAS, the Chicago Bar Association (CBA) and the Chicago Bar Foundation (CBF) will co-sponsor the second annual Pro Bono Week 2006 from October 16-20, 2006; and

WHEREAS, members of the legal community are making a difference every day by donating thousands of hours in free legal services and by making financial contributions to legal aid organizations; and

WHEREAS, the Illinois Supreme Court has placed a greater importance on pro bono work in the legal community when it approved a new rule earlier this year requiring all lawyers in Illinois to report their pro bono service hours to the state; and

WHEREAS, the hard work of these attorneys assists the most vulnerable children and adults in our community with a range of legal issues that include child support, consumer fraud, elder abuse, civil rights, domestic violence, housing discrimination, and various other issues that are often critical to their safety and independence; and

WHEREAS, the Young Lawyers Section of the Chicago Bar Association will host its 13th Annual Pro Bono and Community Service Fair on Thursday, October 19, 2006 to help lawyers and law students make volunteer connections with legal service providers and tutor/mentor programs; and

WHEREAS, the Chicago Bar Foundation’s Young Professionals Board will soon launch its “Meet the Need” Campaign to increase the Foundation’s grants to dozens of legal aid and public interest law organizations; and

WHEREAS, Pro Bono Week will feature several events for attorneys to showcase pro bono opportunities, connect lawyers to legal aid organizations, and, through media outreach, emphasize the pro bono efforts of local attorneys and the tremendous impact their efforts have on their clients:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 16 - 20, 2006 as PRO BONO WEEK in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to recognize the contributions of the legal community to help those in need.
WHEREAS, substance addiction is a chronic illness linked to brain chemistry that can often be treated medically; and

WHEREAS, substance abuse, and its co-existing mental and physical disorders, are major public health problems that affect millions of Americans of every age, race and ethnic background, in all communities; and

WHEREAS, alcohol and drug use disorders have enormous medical, societal and economic costs, with a significant negative impact on families, often resulting in increased conflict, emotional and physical abuse, stress, and financial strife; and

WHEREAS, in 2004, an estimated 22.5 million Americans met the criteria for substance dependence or abuse. That year, only 16.8 percent of Americans 12 and older who needed treatment for an alcohol or drug use disorder actually received treatment; and

WHEREAS, the primary reason that most of those afflicted did not receive treatment is that they incorrectly believed that treatment was not necessary; and

WHEREAS, those who do realize that they need treatment often face various barriers to recovery. These barriers include the cost of treatment, stigma associated with substance abuse problems, inadequate facilities, and simply a lack of information about treatment options; and

WHEREAS, since 1967, the Illinois Alcoholism and Drug Dependence Association (IADDA) has worked to educate the public about substance abuse and addiction, while also representing more than 100 treatment and prevention agencies across Illinois; and

WHEREAS, the theme of this year’s Recovery Month, “Join the Voices for Recovery – Build a Stronger, Healthier Community” aims to promote the societal benefits of alcohol and drug use disorder treatment, laud the contributions of treatment providers and promote the message that recovery from alcohol and drug use disorders in all its forms is possible; and
WHEREAS, to help achieve this goal, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, the White House Office of National Drug Control Policy, and The Illinois Department of Human Services, Division of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse, invite all residents of Illinois to participate in National Alcohol and Drug Addiction Recovery Month:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim September 2006 as NATIONAL ALCOHOL AND DRUG ADDICTION RECOVERY MONTH in Illinois, and call on all citizens to celebrate the lives of those who have successfully recovered, while encouraging those struggling with substance abuse to seek treatment.

Issued by the Governor August 22, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State August 23, 2006.

2006-280
CAMPUS FIRE SAFETY MONTH

WHEREAS, fire education and prevention is vital to ensuring the safety of Americans and Illinoisans; and

WHEREAS, college students living on their own for the first time are particularly susceptible to the danger posed by fires; and

WHEREAS, since January of 2000, more than 88 children, students, and parents throughout the country have died in student housing fires, and almost 80 percent of those deaths occurred in off-campus occupancies where the majority of students live unsupervised; and

WHEREAS, most fires can be avoided by practicing some simple commonsense behaviors and routines, such as: checking and turning off the oven and stove before going to sleep or leaving home, not overloading electrical circuits, safely stowing all dangerous and hazardous materials, keeping any electrical devices clear of water, checking and maintaining alarm and sprinkler systems, and noting the location of fire extinguishers to use in the event of an emergency; and

WHEREAS, education significantly helps minimize the risk of fire by raising awareness of those behaviors and routines, but many students do not receive effective fire safety education during their college career when they are generally most at risk:
Issued by the Governor August 22, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State August 23, 2006.

DEVRY UNIVERSITY

WHEREAS, DeVry University, Chicago Campus, opened in 1931 as DeForest Training School. In the 1950s, the school became known as DeVry Technical Institute. The name was changed to DeVry Institute of Technology in 1968 and to DeVry University in 2002; and
WHEREAS, with rigorous, career-oriented undergraduate and graduate degree programs in technology, business, and management, DeVry University students are able to access these programs through a North American system of 80 locations as well as through DeVry University Online, all of which meet the needs of a diverse and geographically dispersed student population of approximately 46,000; and
WHEREAS, DeVry University is accredited by The Higher Learning Commission and is a member of the North Central Association, and various technical programs are accredited by NCA, TAC/ABET, OACETT, and ASET; and
WHEREAS, 2006 marks the 75th anniversary for DeVry University of Chicago, Illinois:
THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby recognize DeVry University for their seventy-five years of educational excellence in our great State.

2006-282
GYNECOLOGIC CANCER AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, approximately 9 women are diagnosed with gynecologic cancer in America every hour. More than 77,000 will be diagnosed this year alone; and

WHEREAS, gynecologic cancer accounts for 10 percent of all cancer deaths and is the fourth largest cancer killer of women in the United States; and

WHEREAS, in Illinois, 12 percent of all cancer victims are diagnosed with gynecologic cancer, which accounts for 10 percent of all cancer deaths in the state; and

WHEREAS, the Society of Gynecologic Oncologists, whose doctors first train as obstetricians and gynecologists and then receive three to four years of additional training as cancer specialists, is the only United States medical society dedicated to the prevention, detection, and cure of gynecologic cancers; and

WHEREAS, based out of Chicago, the Gynecologic Cancer Foundation, founded by the Society of Gynecologic Oncologists in 1991, raises funds in support of programs that assist women at risk of developing gynecologic cancer, as well as those currently living with the disease; and

WHEREAS, during the month of September, the Gynecologic Cancer Foundation works with over 3,000 physicians, community partners, and the media to provide women with potentially life-saving information about gynecologic cancer; and

WHEREAS, my administration is committed to supporting and raising awareness in the critical fight against gynecologic cancer. Women in Illinois can receive assistance through such programs as the Illinois Breast and Cervical Cancer Program, which is administered by the Illinois Department of Public Health and provides free breast and cervical cancer screenings to women between the ages of 35 and 64 who have limited financial resources and/or are without health insurance:

Issued by the Governor August 24, 2006.

Filed by the Secretary of State August 24, 2006.
2006-283
OVARIAN CANCER AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, approximately 1 in every 69 women will be diagnosed with ovarian cancer in their lifetime. More than 26,000 will be diagnosed this year alone, including 627 from Illinois; and

WHEREAS, an estimated 15,000 women, including more than 650 from Illinois, will die of ovarian cancer this year, making ovarian cancer the deadliest gynecological cancer; and

WHEREAS, the cause of ovarian cancer is unknown, and there may be no symptoms or only mild ones in the early stages of the disease. Later symptoms include loss of appetite, feeling of fullness after a light meal, abdominal discomfort, nausea, and other digestive problems, excessive weight loss or gain, and abnormal bleeding in the vaginal area; and

WHEREAS, the risk of developing ovarian cancer may be reduced by cutting the amount of fat in a diet, breast feeding, using birth control pills and other methods of minimizing the number of ovulations, and surgical procedures, such as a hysterectomy, ovary removal, and tubal ligation; and

WHEREAS, raising awareness of the precautions, symptoms, and scope of ovarian cancer can save lives by increasing the chances of early detection and treatment:

Issued by the Governor August 24, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State August 24, 2006.

YOUTH SOCCER MONTH

WHEREAS, soccer is one of the fastest growing sports in the United States. More than 19 million children, including 83,000 Illinois youth, play soccer; and

WHEREAS, soccer is a great way to engage Illinois children in a healthy activity while teaching them valuable personal and social skills such as teamwork, commitment, and sportsmanship; and

WHEREAS, the United States Youth Soccer Organization, Soccer Federation, and President’s Council on Physical Fitness and Sport commemorates September as Youth Soccer Month to celebrate and raise awareness about the benefits of playing soccer; and

WHEREAS, Illinois Youth Soccer, a member of the United States Youth Soccer Organization, supports Youth Soccer Month and will sponsor celebrations and special events throughout the month at games and tournaments in Illinois; and

WHEREAS, this year marks the Fourth Annual Youth Soccer Month, and inner city, special needs, recreational, and elite soccer programs will all benefit from the exposure:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim September 2006 as YOUTH SOCCER MONTH in Illinois, and encourage citizens of the State to support the worthy efforts of all the sponsoring organizations, as well as to join in promoting the sport of soccer in this state and across the country.

Filed by the Secretary of State August 24, 2006.

PAIN AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, today, 50 to 75 million Americans and Illinoisans live with chronic pain caused by a variety of diseases and disorders, and nearly 25 million suffer from acute pain every year; and

WHEREAS, medical technology can help relieve and reduce most pain, yet many who suffer from pain are improperly treated, undertreated, or not treated at all; and

WHEREAS, the Northern Illinois Pain Resource Nurse Consortium, American Pain Foundation, and American Alliance of Cancer Pain Initiatives have teamed up to prepare a “Power Over Pain” campaign for the month of September to raise awareness about pain, and to encourage those living with pain to become their own best advocates; and
WHEREAS, as part of the “Power Over Pain” campaign, community events throughout Northern Illinois will educate medical professionals and the public about the undertreatment of pain, inadequate access to pain care, and barriers to pain management:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim September 2006 PAIN AWARENESS MONTH in Illinois in support of the “Power Over Pain” campaign and efforts to improve and promote the management and treatment of pain.

Issued by the Governor August 24, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State August 24, 2006.

AMERICAN INDIAN DAY

WHEREAS, long before the arrival of Europeans to North American shores, Native Americans settled and lived throughout the United States, including the State of Illinois; and

WHEREAS, Native Americans established loose bands of tribes and confederations with sophisticated agricultural and hunting economies and social and political systems, which were designed to secure domestic peace and comfort within their communities; and

WHEREAS, after the arrival of Europeans, many Native Americans aided European colonization, especially by instructing European migrants in vital farming techniques and methods unique to the land; and

WHEREAS, sadly, European civilizations displaced many Native American communities, and many Native Americans were forced to assimilate into the new culture. Despite that, Native Americans have faithfully and heroically served in all American wars to defend democracy and freedom; and

WHEREAS, there are more than 550 federally recognized tribes in the United States, sharing a special, legal relationship with the federal government; and

WHEREAS, Native Americans and Alaska Natives are subject to the same federal laws and often state and local laws, in addition to tribal laws, while living as U.S. citizens or on a reservation, and thus ought to be accorded the same rights and privileges as any citizen of the United States;
and

WHEREAS, some Native American communities are beginning to thrive again thanks to the creativity, innovation, and above all, indomitable spirit of Native Americans:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim September 1, 2006 as AMERICAN INDIAN DAY in Illinois in honor and remembrance of those Native Americans who preceded us, without whom the success of European civilization would not have been possible, and in recognition of the contributions Native Americans have made to the United States, State of Illinois, and their own success.

Issued by the Governor August 24, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State August 24, 2006.

CULTURAL MONTH OF JALISCIENSES

WHEREAS, Jaliscienses represent one of the largest group of Mexican immigrants living in the United States; and

WHEREAS, of the 300,000 Jaliscienses living in the Midwest, 192,000 of those have chosen the State of Illinois to be their home; and

WHEREAS, the Federación Jalisciense del Medio Oeste is a not for profit organization that promotes the welfare and advancement of Jaliscienses in the Midwest as well as Mexico through educational, cultural, civic and social projects in a bi-national context to promote the formation of proactive citizens that seek a full participation in the societies in which they live; and

WHEREAS, The Honorable Francisco Ramírez Acuña, Governor of the Mexican State of Jalisco, will be present in Chicago August 24-26 to participate in the annual Semana Cultural Jalisciense 2006, a cultural and civic event that since 2000 has gathered Jaliscienses from all over the region to celebrate their culture and history, and strengthen their presence in the Midwest:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim August 2006 as CULTURAL MONTH OF JALISCIENSES in Illinois, in honor of the 192,000 Jaliscienses that make their homes in this great state.

Filed by the Secretary of State August 24, 2006.

LEMONT LITTLE LEAGUE DAY

WHEREAS, the 2006 Little League Team from Lemont, Illinois had a remarkable 2006 season. After defeating Mundelein National to earn the Illinois State Championship, they lost the first two games of the Great Lakes Region tournament, but rallied to win four games in a row to win the Great Lakes Championship and earn a spot as one of only 8 American teams to compete in the 2006 Little League World Series; and

WHEREAS, game one of the Little League World Series for Lemont ended in defeat at the hands of Arizona, but they bounced back the very next day in a 1-0 victory over New York. The win was characterized by an outstanding one-hit shutout performance by pitcher David Hearne; and

WHEREAS, in game three, Lemont matched up against the team from Columbus, Georgia, and pitching was again the highlight. Pitcher Brian Ferry tossed Lemont’s second consecutive one-hitter, struck out 13 batters, and led his team to victory by a score of 2-0. That win advanced the team to the U.S. Semifinals; and

WHEREAS, the Lemont team once again played skillfully in game one of the Semifinals, fighting hard to the very end with the winning run in scoring position in the bottom of the sixth inning, but the game ended in defeat to Beaverton, Oregon by a score of 4-3. Despite their elimination from the tournament, the Lemont Little League team made an amazing run at the title, and became the first Illinois team since 1992 to make it to the Little League World Series; and

WHEREAS, Illinois is proud of the Lemont Little League team for their outstanding play, and delighted that they are a part of this state’s rich tradition of excellence in sporting and athletics. We commend players Josh Ferry, Michael Hall, David Hearne, Andrew Hoffmeister, Marty Joyce, Michael Kamp, Dane Kemple, Zak Kutsulis, Austin Mastela, David Rimkus, Zack Soria, Chris Stoeberl, and Jeff Worsech, along with manager Mike Hall and coaches Dave Rimkus and Bob Soria for their amazing accomplishments in this 2006 Little League Season:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of

Y-ME ILLINOIS DAY

WHEREAS, breast cancer is the second most common type of cancer in women, and approximately 212,900 women in the United States will be diagnosed with breast cancer this year; and

WHEREAS, in 1978, the Y-ME National Breast Cancer Organization was founded by two breast cancer patients, Mimi Kaplan and Ann Marcou, for the purpose of ensuring that no one confronts breast cancer alone; and

WHEREAS, Y-ME accomplishes their mission by raising awareness and providing peer support, and Y-ME Illinois has a multitude of programs and services available to support those afflicted with breast cancer here in this state; and

WHEREAS, open door support groups, teen and adult education workshops, the Gerry Weinberg Resource Library, the IlliNOISY Advocacy Network, the Sharon Rose Wig and Prosthesis Salon, and the 24-Hour Y-ME National Breast Cancer Hotline, are all offered without expense. Y-ME Illinois also issues a newsletter called In Touch to present the latest news on breast cancer issues; and

WHEREAS, these programs and services are only possible with the aid and support of the community, and the annual Y-ME Fashion Show is their major fundraiser; and

WHEREAS, this year, the Y-ME National Breast Cancer Organization celebrates the 26th anniversary of the Fashion Show, and Y-ME Illinois will celebrate their 6th Fashion Show on October 28:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 28, 2006 as Y-ME ILLINOIS DAY in recognition of the meritorious service Y-ME and Y-ME Illinois provides to those with cancer, and to encourage citizens of the State to support their worthy efforts.
WHEREAS, the polio vaccines have not yet eliminated naturally occurring cases of polio outside of the United States; and
WHEREAS, in 2005, polio was reported in five unvaccinated children in Minnesota and one unvaccinated adult in Arizona, the result of the poliovirus being imported into North America from abroad; and
WHEREAS, the Centers for Disease Control estimates that ten percent of toddlers, or one million American children, are not vaccinated against polio; and
WHEREAS, poor children in cities are least likely to be vaccinated against polio and most likely to be those first affected by an American polio epidemic; and
WHEREAS, the mission of the International Center for Post-Polio Education and Research includes educating about polio vaccination and Post-Polio Sequelae. The unexpected and often disabling symptoms: overwhelming fatigue, muscle weakness, muscle and joint pain, sleep disorders, heightened sensitivity to anesthesia, cold intolerance, and difficulty swallowing and breathing, occur in 75% of paralytic and 40% of non-paralytic polio survivors approximately 35 years after the poliovirus attack:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim September 2006 as POLIO VACCINATION MONTH in Illinois, and encourage all parents to vaccinate their children against polio and all diseases, and remind school districts to enforce the regulations requiring vaccination before admission.

WHEREAS, on August 29, 2005, the Gulf Coast was ravaged by Hurricane Katrina, leaving thousands of people without homes and taking the lives of hundreds more; and

WHEREAS, in the wake of this terrible tragedy, states throughout the nation, including Illinois, as well as nations all across the world provided much needed assistance for the relief, recovery and cleanup operations; and

WHEREAS, with the need to help hundreds of thousands of displaced residents, other states opened their doors to the victims and assisted those individuals and families in getting their lives back in order. Here in Illinois, the outpouring of support from our citizens was wonderful, taking in more than 10,000 people from the Gulf states ravaged by the storm, and providing them with health care, food, shelter, and schools for their children; and

WHEREAS, Illinois’ involvement went beyond providing just emergency care. Anyone displaced by the hurricane who wished to stay in Illinois, stayed, and we continue to provide services for those who need them; and

WHEREAS, on the one year anniversary of Hurricane Katrina, Illinois takes time to remember this great national tragedy, and pay tribute to those who were killed or displaced in its ravages. We also take this opportunity to commend all those in Illinois who opened their hearts and arms to their brothers and sisters in distress:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim August 29, 2006 as HURRICANE KATRINA REMEMBRANCE DAY in Illinois, in tribute to the victims of Hurricane Katrina, and the compassionate Illinoisans who assisted them in their time of need.

NATIONAL PAYROLL WEEK

WHEREAS, more than 140 million Americans, including approximately 12.5 million Illinoisans, contribute millions of dollars to federal and state treasuries through payroll taxes each year; and

WHEREAS, payroll taxes help subsidize vital civic programs and projects, such as education, Medicare, parks, roads, and Social Security; and
WHEREAS, by paying and reporting worker wages and collecting and paying employment taxes, which account for 66 percent of United States Treasury revenue from workers, payroll professionals perform an essential role in supporting the country; and
WHEREAS, payroll professionals also play a key role in maintaining our state’s economic health, carrying out such diverse tasks as paying into the unemployment insurance system, providing information for child support enforcement, and carrying out tax withholding, reporting, and depositing; and
WHEREAS, the American Payroll Association, and its Diamond Sponsor, Automatic Data Processing, conducts a nationwide public awareness campaign that explains the payroll withholding system, promotes the benefits of payroll, and pays tribute to American workers and payroll professionals; and
WHEREAS, these dedicated professionals meet regularly with federal and state officials to discuss both improving compliance with government procedures and how compliance can be achieved at less cost to both government and businesses:

5-A-DAY MONTH

WHEREAS, the prevention of obesity, cancer, and heart disease are three of the most urgent health challenges of our day, with heart disease being the leading cause of death in Illinois; and

WHEREAS, the Illinois Department of Human Services and the Illinois Department of Public Health recommend that people should increase their consumption of fruits and vegetables and be physically active each day, to help reduce the risk of obesity, cancer, and heart disease; and

WHEREAS, only 22.6 percent of Illinoisans eat five or more fruits and vegetables a day and only 40.2 percent of Illinoisans get the recommended 30 minutes of physical activity a day; and

WHEREAS, the Center for Disease Control continues their work to support the 5-A-Day for Better Health national disease prevention and health promotion program; and

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim September 2006 as 5-A-DAY MONTH in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to recognize the health benefits of eating healthy foods on a daily basis.

KINDERGARTEN DAY

WHEREAS, enrollment in pre-primary education in the United States has increased significantly since 1991. According to the National Center for Education Statistics, from 1991 – 2001, pre-primary enrollment of children between the ages of three and five increased by twenty percent; and

WHEREAS, during the kindergarten years, children often make considerable gains in reading and math. In addition, they begin to develop advanced social skills from the constant interaction that they have with one another; and

WHEREAS, those different skills and abilities that kindergarteners acquire lay the foundation for success at future grade levels. History has shown that in many cases, these children go on to become more competent learners, and are less likely to be held back in school; and

WHEREAS, my administration is committed to improving education in Illinois at all levels. Since taking office, significant increases have been made for K-12 spending and per-student state aid funding. This year, with the support of the General Assembly, Illinois became the first state in the nation to offer three and four-year-olds the opportunity to attend preschool through the Preschool for All program. With these efforts, we are aiming to not only enhance the educational experiences of current students, but also to continue increasing enrollment in pre-school and kindergarten programs in this state:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim the second Tuesday of September, September 12, 2006, as KINDERGARTEN DAY in Illinois, and encourage all parents to enroll their children in kindergarten to enhance their abilities, and provide them with better chances to succeed later in life.

CONSTITUTION WEEK

WHEREAS, the Second Continental Congress declared independence of the United States from Great Britain in 1776, and asserted their inalienable rights, including life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; and

WHEREAS, in 1787, a convention of delegates from 12 of the original 13 states met in Philadelphia and framed the United States Constitution, which was ratified in 1788 and replaced the Articles of Confederation the following year as the supreme law of the land; and

WHEREAS, two years later, 10 amendments, commonly referred to as the Bill of Rights, were adopted to establish and protect certain individual rights, such as freedom of speech and exercise of religion; and

WHEREAS, since that time, more than 10,000 amendments to the Constitution have been proposed, yet only 27 have been adopted; and today, the Constitution is the oldest living government covenant in the world; and

WHEREAS, in accord with Public Law 915, the President of the United States issues a proclamation designating September 17-23 as Constitution Week every year; and

WHEREAS, this year, we celebrate the 219th birthday of the Constitution of the United States, under which Illinois became the 21st state in 1818:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim September 17-23, 2006 as CONSTITUTION WEEK in Illinois in tribute to the enduring greatness of the United States Constitution.

NATIONAL SURGICAL TECHNOLOGIST WEEK

WHEREAS, surgical technologists in Illinois play a vital role in the care and health of surgical patients; and

WHEREAS, surgical technologists, also called scrubs and surgical or operating room technicians, are members of operating room teams, which most commonly include surgeons, anesthesiologists, and circulating nurses; and under the supervision of surgeons, registered nurses, or other surgical personnel, surgical technicians assist medical operations in a number of capacities; and

WHEREAS, today, all major hospitals in Illinois employ surgical technologists to work with surgeons in the operating room to provide quality patient care; and

WHEREAS, as the baby boomer generation, which accounts for a large percentage of the general population, approaches retirement age, and technological advances, such as fiber optics and laser technology, permit new surgical procedures that surgical technologists often operate, employment of surgical technicians is expected to grow faster than the average for all occupations; and

WHEREAS, encouragingly, the Illinois community college system currently has 16 programs that graduate top quality students each year; and

WHEREAS, the Association of Surgical Technologists annually designates a week in September as National Surgical Technologist Week to celebrate and promote the profession:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim September 17-23, 2006 as NATIONAL SURGICAL TECHNOLOGIST WEEK in Illinois in honor of the outstanding service surgical technologists perform for surgical patients, and in support of the Association of Surgical Technologist’s efforts to raise public awareness about the profession.

DISASTER AREA - STATE OF ILLINOIS

Severe storms moved through Winnebago County and the City of Rockford, Illinois on Monday, September 4, 2006. These storms resulted in Flash flooding forcing many residents from their homes, causing damage to homes, businesses and infrastructures.

In the interest of aiding the citizens of Illinois and the local governments responsible for ensuring public health and safety, I hereby proclaim that a disaster exists within the State of Illinois, and specifically, declare Winnebago County including the City of Rockford as a disaster area, pursuant to the provisions of the Illinois Emergency Management Agency Act, 20 ILCS 3305/7.

This gubernatorial proclamation of disaster will facilitate the Illinois Emergency Management Agency in providing financial assistance from the disaster relief fund for extraordinary costs incurred by local units of government in responding to and recovery from the damage and debris. This proclamation will facilitate coordination of state assets in responding to local government requests for assistance in the areas most severely impacted by the disaster.

DAY OF REMEMBRANCE FOR SEPTEMBER 11

WHEREAS, on September 11, 2001, a great tragedy befell American soil when four commercial airliners were hijacked by terrorists and sent on a mission that would result in mass destruction and the loss of thousands of innocent lives; and

WHEREAS, at 8:46 a.m. (EST) on that fateful day, American Airlines Flight 11 crashed into the north tower of the World Trade Center in New York City, tearing a gaping hole into the building and setting it on fire. Less than 20 minutes later, United Airlines Flight 175 crashed into the south tower, causing similar destruction. To the horror of onlookers and viewers across the world, both towers collapsed to the ground within two hours initial impact; and

WHEREAS, at 9:43 a.m., American Airlines Flight 77 struck the Pentagon in Arlington, Virginia, sending up a large cloud of smoke and prompting the immediate evacuation of the building; and

WHEREAS, the fourth and final plane, United Airlines Flight 93, crashed into a field in Pennsylvania at 11:26 a.m. It was because of the heroics of passengers onboard this flight that the plane was diverted from striking its intended target. No passenger or crew member on any of the four flights survived; and

WHEREAS, in all, the death toll on September 11, 2001 reached in the thousands and in the wake of these attacks, our country was in a state of sadness and turmoil, searching for answers and finding comfort in one another. But the overwhelming acts of heroism and patriotism were inspiring, giving us the will to push forward and make our nation even stronger than before; and

WHEREAS, the United States will never fully recover from the events of September 11, which equaled perhaps the greatest tragedy our country has ever seen. But by commemorating this dark day in our history, we are reminded to always remain vigilant in our efforts to stop terrorism and make this world a more safe and peaceful place; and

WHEREAS, this year, as we recognize the fifth anniversary of the September 11 attacks and mourn the innocent lives that were lost on that day, we also take time to reflect on our freedom and thank the brave men and women who work hard everyday to defend that freedom for future generations of Americans:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim September 11, 2006 as a DAY OF REMEMBRANCE FOR SEPTEMBER 11 in Illinois, and order the flag of the United States of America to fly at half-staff at all State facilities from sunrise until sunset on this day in recognition of the fifth anniversary. Additionally, I call upon all the people of this state to join in observing a moment of silence at 7:46 a.m. on this day as a solemn gesture of tribute to the victims of the September 11 terrorist attacks and their families.

Issued by the Governor September 07, 2006.

NATIONAL CREDIT EDUCATION WEEK

WHEREAS, the use of credit has become increasingly important to the American consumer and to the nation’s economy, evidenced by the fact that consumer installment purchases have more than doubled in the past decade; and

WHEREAS, along with this new trend also comes the need for the American consumer to be more financially responsible. While most consumers are aware of mistakes that should be avoided when dealing with personal finances, they are less likely to actually follow these rules; and

WHEREAS, the Association of Credit and Collection Professionals International, in conjunction with the Illinois Student Assistance Commission, will sponsor National Credit Education Week; and

WHEREAS, National Credit Education Week is a public service campaign intended to help consumers develop good money management habits, including using credit with caution and paying bills promptly:

CONSTITUTION DAY

WHEREAS, the Second Continental Congress declared independence of the United States from Great Britain in 1776, and asserted their inalienable rights, including life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; and

WHEREAS, in 1787, a convention of delegates from 12 of the original 13 states met in Philadelphia and framed the United States Constitution, which was ratified in 1788 and replaced the Articles of Confederation the following year as the supreme law of the land; and

WHEREAS, two years later, 10 amendments, commonly referred to as the Bill of Rights, were adopted to establish and protect certain individual rights, such as freedom of speech and exercise of religion; and

WHEREAS, since that time, more than 10,000 amendments to the Constitution have been proposed, yet only 27 have been adopted; and today, the Constitution is the oldest living government covenant in the world; and

WHEREAS, in accord with Public Law 108-447, the President of the United States issues a proclamation designating September 17 as Constitution Day every year; and

WHEREAS, this year, we celebrate the 219th birthday of the Constitution of the United States, under which Illinois became the 21st state in 1818:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim September 17, 2006 as CONSTITUTION DAY in Illinois in tribute to the enduring greatness of the United States Constitution.

Issued by the Governor September 08, 2006.

2006-312
KIDS DAY AMERICA/INTERNATIONAL

WHEREAS, a child’s welfare is the foremost concern of every parent in and around the world; and

WHEREAS, for that reason, Kids Day America/International was established by Chiropractors to educate families and communities throughout the world about social issues that concern children’s welfare, including health, safety, and the environment. Chiropractors achieve that by addressing drug and health issues, bicycle and fire safety, recycling, and many other important topics; and

WHEREAS, additionally, with the help and support of thousands of local dentists, county sheriff and police personnel, and photographers who all volunteer their time, every child that attends Kids Day has the opportunity to create and complete a Child Safety ID Card; and

WHEREAS, to date, more than 2,000 communities, and nearly 3 million children and their parents, have participated in this event; and

WHEREAS, this year, the 12th annual Kids Day event will be hosted on September 16, 2006:

BLOOD COLLECTORS WEEK

WHEREAS, approximately four million patients in the United States receive blood transfusions every year, and roughly 38,000 units of blood are required in hospitals and emergency treatment facilities on any given day; and

WHEREAS, unfortunately, blood donations often fall short of demand. While approximately eight million volunteers donate blood every year, just one trauma patient can use more than 100 units of blood, and donated blood has a shelf life of only 42 days; and

WHEREAS, less than 5 percent of the eligible population actually donates blood, and community blood centers rely 100 percent on donations from volunteer donors in order to maintain a safe and viable blood supply; and

WHEREAS, even if volunteers donated blood regularly, donors can give only one unit of blood every eight weeks. Consequently, there is a continual need to recruit more donors; and

WHEREAS, each year, members of the Illinois Coalition of Community Blood Centers collect more than 570,000 blood donations to care for patients in 175 hospitals in 71 Illinois counties; and

WHEREAS, the Coalition’s nearly 1,500 blood collection professionals in Illinois are the responsible stewards of this blood supply:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim September 17-23, 2006 as BLOOD COLLECTORS WEEK in Illinois, and encourage all eligible donors to open their hearts this month by giving blood and to pay tribute to those among us who spend each day dedicated to ensuring an adequate blood supply.

OPERATION SNOWBALL MONTH

WHEREAS, Operation Snowball is a program that encourages kids to stay substance-free by providing them with interactive group sessions; and

WHEREAS, over 50,000 kids participate in Operation Snowball, which is partnered with the Illinois Alcoholism and Drug Dependence Association. Operation Snowball currently has 140 chapters and is continually expanding; and

WHEREAS, the program focuses on prevention messages that aim primarily at the high school age because many students of this age understand the idea behind prevention. Group learning sessions present facts about drug and alcohol use and help students to develop their own ideas about substances before they are faced with situations in their future lives; and

WHEREAS, Operation Snowball is continually expanding to include people of all ages into their program by creating Snowflakes for junior high students and Snowflurries for elementary students. These programs teach kids the importance of living a substance-free lifestyle at an early age. There is also Segues for college students and Blizzards for families, helping to serve as role models for the younger children; and

WHEREAS, Operation Snowball gives young adults the opportunity to enhance their leadership skills as well as maintain their substance-free lifestyle by mentoring younger children and motivating them to live by the same standards:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 2006 as OPERATION SNOWBALL MONTH and encourage all youth and young adults to maintain a healthy, substance-free lifestyle.

WORLD’S LARGEST ICE CREAM SOCIAL DAY

WHEREAS, the Make-A-Wish Foundation was established in 1980 when they helped a little boy named Chris Greicius realize his heartfelt wish to become a police officer; and

WHEREAS, Cold Stone Creamery and the Make-A-Wish Foundation have partnered in a large-scale fund-raising effort, the World’s Largest Ice Cream Social, that will give a free serving of ice cream to anyone that makes a donation toward the Make-A-Wish Foundation; and

WHEREAS, for the past four years, the partnership of Cold Stone Creamery and the Make-A-Wish Foundation has raised a total of $1.8 million dollars, which has resulted in hundreds of wishes being granted across the country; and

WHEREAS, throughout their 25 years of existence, the Make-A-Wish Foundation has continued to fulfill their noble mission with the motto, “We grant the wishes of children with life-threatening medical conditions to enrich the human experience with hope, strength, and joy”; and

WHEREAS, there is a network of more than 25,000 volunteers giving their time to the Make-A-Wish Foundation in an effort to serve children with life-threatening conditions. Among many other functions, the volunteers serve as wish granters, fund raisers, and special events assistants; and

WHEREAS, more than 127,000 children worldwide have been able to experience their wishes because of the many efforts put forth by the volunteers of the Make-A-Wish Foundation; and

WHEREAS, the State of Illinois is pleased to join the Cold Stone Creamery and the Make-A-Wish Foundation, as they host “World’s Largest Ice Cream Social” on September 28, 2006:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim September 28, 2006 as WORLD’S LARGEST ICE CREAM SOCIAL DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to visit one of the 1,400 Cold Stone Creamery locations to help support the wonderful efforts put forth by the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

2006-317
THE MONTH OF THE YOUNG ADOLESCENT

WHEREAS, the early years of adolescence are usually some of the most difficult in our lives; and
WHEREAS, during early adolescence, we undergo extensive mental and physical changes that often create behavioral problems; and

WHEREAS, common characteristics of social behavior include irritability, mood swings, depression, and combativeness; and

WHEREAS, by raising awareness, we can help young adolescents and others avoid the pitfalls that only aggravate those and other behavioral problems that develop during the sensitive, yet formative years of early adolescence; and

WHEREAS, while early adolescence can be a time of great trial, it is also a period of tremendous growth. The mistakes made then can be valuable lessons learned that lead to maturity; and

WHEREAS, as part of an effort to raise awareness, the National and Illinois Associations of Middle-Level Schools annually observes October as The Month of the Young Adolescent:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 2006 as THE MONTH OF THE YOUNG ADOLESCENT in Illinois, and join the National and Illinois Associations of Middle-Level Schools in promoting education about early adolescence.

2006-318
CHIROPRACTIC HEALTH CARE MONTH

WHEREAS, every year, more than 30 million Americans throughout the country, including 2 million in Illinois, visit chiropractors, who locate and help correct joint and spinal problems; and

WHEREAS, the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that work-related illnesses and musculoskeletal injuries surpassed 4.2 million incidents in 2004, accounting for 32 percent of all injuries requiring employees to take days off from work at an estimated cost of more than $150 billion a year in worker’s compensation costs; and

WHEREAS, chiropractic physicians have long stressed that exercise, good posture, and balanced nutrition are essential to proper growth, development, and health maintenance; and
WHEREAS, Illinois chiropractic physicians are dedicated to protecting and promoting patient rights, the practice of chiropractic medicine, and fostering the growth of chiropractic through ongoing training and a commitment to safe and ethical practice; and

WHEREAS, this October, chiropractic organizations will sponsor events for chiropractors to meet and learn about the best techniques and practices in the profession today:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 2006 as CHIROPRACTIC HEALTHCARE MONTH in Illinois to raise awareness about chiropractic care, and to promote chiropractors as an important part of the health and well-being of citizens.

WHEREAS, domestic violence is a serious prevalent social problem in Illinois that not only negatively affects the victim, but also affects the victim’s family, friends, and community at large. The violence knows no boundaries. It exists in all neighborhoods, in all cities in Illinois. It has no racial barriers, no economic barriers, and no social barriers; and

WHEREAS, domestic violence is more than the occasional family dispute. Of all female murder victims, over 60% are killed by their husbands or partners. Approximately 1,700 domestic violence homicides occur every year in the U.S.; and

WHEREAS, in Illinois alone, there are approximately 125,000 domestic crimes each year; and

WHEREAS, healthcare expenses from domestic violence total about $4.1 billion annually; and

WHEREAS, businesses forfeit at least $5.8 billion annually in lost wages due to sick leave, non-productivity and absenteeism related to domestic violence; and

WHEREAS, a workplace study of the incidence of domestic violence indicated that about 15% of all employees had been physically abused in the last year; and

WHEREAS, the Illinois Department of Human Services funds 66 multi-service domestic violence programs throughout the state offering at no cost to the victim 24-hour crisis hotlines, counseling and advocacy, legal assistance, children’s services and shelter and supports services to perpetrators to reduce and prevent violence; and

WHEREAS, the Illinois Department of Human Services is dedicated to assisting Illinois residents in living free from domestic violence, promoting prevention and working in partnership with communities in advancing equality, dignity and respect for all; and

WHEREAS, October has been designated as Domestic Violence Awareness Month; and

WHEREAS, domestic violence services providers have planned special awareness and prevention activities for October in an effort to educate Illinois residents:
THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 2006 as DOMESTIC VIOLENCE AWARENESS MONTH in Illinois, and encourage all citizens of the state to observe this month by becoming aware of the tragedy of domestic violence, and supporting the efforts and activities of the Illinois Department of Human Services and domestic violence service providers to prevent domestic violence.

DOWN SYNDROME AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, approximately one in every 733 children are born with Down syndrome, representing approximately 5,000 births per year in the United States; and

WHEREAS, while research and early intervention have resulted in dramatic improvements in the lifespan and potential of those who are affected, more investigation is needed into the causes and treatment of Down syndrome; and

WHEREAS, people with Down syndrome possess a wide range of abilities, and are active participants in educational, occupational, social, and recreational circles of the community; and

WHEREAS, developed by the National Down Syndrome Society in 1995, the Buddy Walk is an annual event in cities across Illinois and the nation celebrating the accomplishments of children and adults with Down syndrome; and

WHEREAS, DS Support has supported families who have children with disabilities, and special healthcare needs for 6 years in Illinois and desires to increase the support network and support groups of those with Down syndrome across our state; and

WHEREAS, the goal of the Buddy Walk is to promote increased understanding and acceptance of people with Down syndrome, while raising funds for scientific research into the causes and treatment:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 2006 as DOWN SYNDROME AWARENESS MONTH in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to work together to promote awareness of Down syndrome and to celebrate the accomplishments of these individuals and their families.

2006-324
SUDDEN INFANT DEATH SYNDROME AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS) is the leading cause of death for infants between 30 days and one-year-old. Approximately 2,500 infants die from SIDS every year; and

WHEREAS, SIDS is the unexpected death of an infant under the age of one that remains unexplained after a complete examination is performed, including an autopsy, death scene examination, and review of clinical history; and

WHEREAS, most victims of SIDS are younger than 6 months. Furthermore, Native-American infants are at the greatest risk, while African-American infants are the second greatest at-risk group; and

WHEREAS, although there is no scientific explanation for SIDS, many scientists agree that it is triggered when infants sleep on their stomachs; and

WHEREAS, for that reason, the Back to Sleep campaign was launched in 1994 to encourage laying infants to be placed on their backs; and

WHEREAS, according to the National Institutes of Health, the death rate of SIDS has declined more than 40 percent since the inception of this campaign. However, SIDS is still the leading cause of death among young infants between 30 days and one-year-old:

THEREFORE, I, Rod Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 2006 as SUDDEN INFANT DEATH SYNDROME AWARENESS MONTH in Illinois to raise awareness about Sudden Infant Death Syndrome, and to encourage risk-reducing precautions so that no parent will have to endure the tragedy of their child dying of SIDS.

PREMATURITY AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, from birth to one-year-old, prematurity is the leading cause of death among babies in the United States; and those that do survive are susceptible to lifelong disabilities such as chronic lung disease, blindness, and cerebral palsy. Prematurity also costs families and communities billions of dollars every year in care and treatment; and

WHEREAS, sadly, the number of premature births has risen approximately 27 percent nationally over the last two decades. Today, nearly 500,000 babies are prematurely born in the United State every year; and
WHEREAS, of them, there are more than 23,300, or about one out of eight premature births in the State of Illinois. Clearly, prematurity is a significant and alarming problem; and
WHEREAS, in response, the March of Dimes is leading a national campaign to save babies from premature birth by funding research to find the causes and by aiding local programs that provide assistance to families with babies that are prematurely born; and
WHEREAS, this November, the March of Dimes will coordinate activities throughout the country with help from many local healthcare professionals and government agencies and departments to call attention to premature birth and to offer hope to families affected by it:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim November 2006 as PREMATURITY AWARENESS MONTH in Illinois in support of the worthy efforts by the March of Dimes to prevent and raise awareness of this problem that plagues so many babies, families, and communities.

MAMMOGRAPHY DAY

WHEREAS, October 2006 marks the 22nd year of the National Breast Cancer Awareness Month campaign to educate women about breast cancer, especially concerning early detection through mammography; and
WHEREAS, in 2006, approximately 8,350 of the 212,920 women in the United States diagnosed with breast cancer will be Illinois residents; and
WHEREAS, breast cancer is the most common cancer in women and is second only to lung cancer as the leading cause of cancer death; and
WHEREAS, mammography screenings are a woman’s best chance for detecting breast cancer early and, when coupled with new treatment options, can significantly improve a woman’s chances of survival; and
WHEREAS, expansion of the Illinois Breast and Cervical Cancer Program (IBCCP), which took effect Sept. 1, 2006, will allow 3,000 additional women to be screened and 400 additional women to be treated this year through the Healthcare Benefits for Persons with Breast or Cervical Cancer Act; and
WHEREAS, since 1993, the United States has recognized the third Friday in October as National Mammography Day:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 2006 as BREAST CANCER AWARENESS MONTH and October 20, 2006 as MAMMOGRAPHY DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to join me in the continued fight against breast cancer.

WHEREAS, in 1931, Chester Gould sold the “Dick Tracy” comic strip to the New York Daily News Syndicate, after submitting strips for a decade. The first Sunday strip ran on October 4th, and the first daily strip a week later; and

WHEREAS, since that time, Dick Tracy, set right here in Chicago, Illinois, has reached success as a cartoon strip, radio show, novel, film serial, comic book, animated series, and as 5 feature films, while also serving as a tip-guide for readers to prevent crimes in their neighborhoods; and

WHEREAS, in his cutting-edge comic strip, Gould delivered a no-nonsense police detective who was ready, willing and able to take on the bad guys. Although his innovative crime-fighting techniques and futuristic gadgetry, including the famous two-way wrist radio, were groundbreaking, Dick Tracy’s true appeal was found in his stalwart integrity and uncompromising valor. The variety of villains that Dick Tracy battled was also a key part to the strip’s timeless appeal, such as the vicious assassin, Flattop, to the traitorous Pruneface, and the sly and cunning spy known as “The Brow”; and

WHEREAS, in 1977, Chester Gould retired, and Max Allan Collins took over as writer on Dick Tracy, joined by artist Rick Fletcher, Gould’s assistant. Sadly, in 1983, Rick Fletcher passed away, and the Dick Tracy creator, Chester Gould, two years later in 1985. With Max Collins continuing as writer, Richard “Dick” Locher assumed the artist role with the responsibility of illustrating Dick Tracy in 1983, the same year he was awarded the Pulitzer Prize. Michael Kilian, veteran Chicago Tribune reporter/columnist and suspense novelist, served as the strip writer from 1993 to 2005, and when he passed away Dick Locher, who lives in Chicago, Illinois and has worked for the Chicago Tribune since 1973, took over as both writer and artist; and

WHEREAS, the Chester Gould-Dick Tracy Museum opened in 1991 in Woodstock, Illinois, which was the long-time home of creator Chester Gould; and

WHEREAS, in 1959 and 1977, the Dick Tracy strip won the Reuben award from the National Cartoonists Society; and
WHEREAS, this year, Dick Tracy became the spokescharacter for the Illinois State Tourism Board, Dick Locher was honored by the National Cartoonists Society with the Silver T-Square award for lifetime achievement, and Dick Tracy celebrates his 75th anniversary since the first strip ran on October 4, 1931. To celebrate, the Tribune Media Services will be hosting a Dick Tracy 75th anniversary Kick-off celebration on October 2, 2006 in Campbell Hall at Tribune Tower:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 4, 2006 as DICK TRACY DAY in Illinois in recognition of an enduring and memorable comic strip.

INTERNATIONAL HISPANIC/LATINO MENTAL HEALTH WEEK

WHEREAS, in 1992, the International Hispanic/Latino Mental Health Week Campaign was created in response to the lack of resources and information available for Spanish-speaking residents suffering from mental health problems and substance abuse. Latinos are identified as a high-risk group for depression, anxiety, and substance abuse; and

WHEREAS, the campaign features workshops and lectures for community residents and professionals, free mental health screenings, and informational brochures and videos about behavioral health issues; and

WHEREAS, the Latino Family Institute, in collaboration with the Illinois Department of Human Services, Chicago Public Schools/Office of Specialized Services, community providers, and community residents, donate time, space, and services to make the campaign a success; and

WHEREAS, the campaign strives to increase awareness, knowledge, and skills on mental health and substance abuse treatment needs of Hispanic/Latinos, to increase access to bicultural and bilingual treatment since existing studies about language skills of mental health professionals found there are few Spanish-speaking and Latino providers, and to increase the competence in the treatment of Hispanic/Latinos through lectures and workshops; and
WHEREAS, the 2006 International Hispanic/Latino Mental Health Week Campaign will begin October 1st and conclude on October 7th, 2006.
THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 1-7, 2006 as INTERNATIONAL HISPANIC/LATINO MENTAL HEALTH WEEK in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to unite to improve the quality of life for people in Illinois suffering from mental health problems and substance abuse.

4-H WEEK

WHEREAS, in the late 1890’s and early 1900’s, 4-H programs began to form across the United States to provide the youth of our country with a strong agricultural education; and
WHEREAS, throughout the years, the overall objectives of 4-H have remained the same: the development of youth as individuals and as responsible and productive citizens; and
WHEREAS, the 4-H program makes an effort to complement the formal education, experiences, and skills that young people have already acquired through their homes, schools, and religious organizations, with action-oriented and practical educational experiences; and
WHEREAS, more than 25,000 caring, nurturing adults work together with 4-H youth in family and community environments to create real life learning laboratories that help youth practice skills they need today, and will continue to use in the future; and
WHEREAS, today, 4-H is the largest youth organization in the State of Illinois, challenging nearly 300,000 Illinois youth and adults with unique “hands on” learning each year:
THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 1-7, 2006 as 4-H WEEK in Illinois, and urge the citizens of Illinois to salute the rich traditions of Illinois 4-H club work, and the outstanding accomplishments of Illinois 4-H members and leaders.
Issued by the Governor September 22, 2006.
SONOGRAPHER AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, sonographers are a critical part of the medical community, performing vital work each day to benefit patients and medical professionals; and

WHEREAS, the first use of ultrasound as a diagnostic tool was in 1942 during a study of brain tissue. Today, sonographers use ultrasound technology to collect images of internal organs and fetuses for the purpose of diagnosing a variety of diseases and conditions; and

WHEREAS, sonography was officially declared a healthcare profession in 1973, and in 1975, it became mandatory for all sonographers to be certified in their profession; and

WHEREAS, there are over 45,000 certified sonographers in the United States, 1,800 of which work in the state of Illinois; and

WHEREAS, Illinois continues to be a purveyor of advances in ultrasound technology. With these advances, the healthcare industry will continue to make great strides in the diagnosing and treating of patients:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 2006 as SONOGRAPHER AWARENESS MONTH in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to recognize the important role that these healthcare professionals play in the world of patient care.

Issued by the Governor September 22, 2006.

WEEK OF THE CLASSROOM TEACHER

WHEREAS, the education of our children is critical to their future success. For that reason, teaching is one of the most important professions; and

WHEREAS, throughout Illinois, we entrust the care of our children to thousands of classroom teachers who work with parents and administrators to ensure that each child learns the skills they need to succeed; and

WHEREAS, that is not easy when there are many distractions. In addition to contending with personal and family problems that have always accompanied children, classroom teachers now have to compete with technology such as cell phones, computers, and television; and

WHEREAS, indeed, it is more difficult to engage children in the classroom today than ever. Consequently, teachers must work harder than ever to educate children; and

WHEREAS, in acknowledgment and recognition of their outstanding service, the Association for Childhood Education International annually designates a week in honor of classroom teachers; and

WHEREAS, this year, the Week of the Classroom Teacher will begin October 1:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 1-7, 2006 as WEEK OF THE CLASSROOM TEACHER in Illinois, and join the Association for Childhood Education International in honoring and thanking classroom teachers for their commitment and dedication to teaching our children.

Issued by the Governor October 05, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State October 05, 2006.
WHEREAS, every day, millions of parents throughout the United States, including the State of Illinois, send their children off to schools for an education; and

WHEREAS, while parents should not have to worry about the safety and security of their children, events such as Columbine and other recent violent acts dramatically demonstrate that dangers and threats to them are real. Consequently, our first priority is to ensure that they are not exposed to violence; and

WHEREAS, there are other menaces to our children at schools, including bullying, drugs, and theft. Accordingly, it is also our responsibility to ensure that our children are safe and secure from these and other threats and dangers; and

WHEREAS, it is not the responsibility of our educational institutions alone to address these serious issues. The safety and security of our children also depends on the active collaboration and cooperation of law enforcement and government; and

WHEREAS, only by working together can we avert violence, end bullying, minimize the proliferation of drugs, reduce theft, and resolve other problems. That is why I urge our educators, law enforcement authorities, and government leaders to collectively assess the dangers and threats to our children and then develop and implement plans and procedures to deal with them:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 15-21, 2006 as ILLINOIS’ SAFE SCHOOLS WEEK to promote efforts to protect our children so that no parent has to worry about their well-being while they are learning.

Issued by the Governor October 06, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State October 06, 2006.

WHEREAS, young people will be the stewards of our communities, nation, and world in critical times, and the present and future well-being of our society requires an involved, caring citizenry with good character; and

WHEREAS, concerns about the character training of children have taken on a new sense of urgency as violence by and against youth threatens the physical and psychological well-being of the nation; and

WHEREAS, more than ever, children need strong and constructive guidance from their families and their communities, including schools, youth organizations, religious institutions, and civic groups; and

WHEREAS, the character of a nation is only as strong as the character of its individual citizens, and the public good benefits when young people learn that good character counts in personal relationships, in school, and in the workplace; and

WHEREAS, scholars and educators agree that people do not automatically develop good character and, therefore, conscientious efforts must be made by youth-influencing institutions and individuals to help young people develop the essential traits and characteristics that comprise good character; and

WHEREAS, character development is, first and foremost, an obligation of families, though efforts by faith communities, schools, and youth, civic, and human service organizations also play a very important role in supporting family efforts by fostering and promoting good character; and

WHEREAS, in July 1992, the Aspen Declaration was written by an eminent group of educators, youth leaders, and ethics scholars for the purpose of articulating a coherent framework for character education appropriate to a diverse and pluralistic society; and

WHEREAS, the Aspen Declaration states that “effective character education is based on core ethical values which form the foundation of democratic society” – trustworthiness, respect, responsibility, fairness, caring, and citizenship – and these “Six Pillars of Character” transcend cultural, religious, and socioeconomic differences; and

WHEREAS, the Aspen Declaration states that “The character and conduct of our youth reflect the character and conduct of society; therefore, every adult has the responsibility to teach and model the core ethical values and every social institution has the responsibility to promote the development of good character”:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 15-21, 2006 as CHARACTER COUNTS! WEEK in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to model these traits of good character in an ongoing commitment to promote character development and ethical behavior in the youth of our community.

NATIONAL PRIMARY CARE WEEK

WHEREAS, launched in 1999, National Primary Care Week was created in response to the healthcare shortage in America, as well as in recognition and promotion of careers in primary care; and

WHEREAS, primary care is first-contact, comprehensive care provided to people with a wide range of health concerns, and can encompass various medical specialties such as family medicine, internal medicine, pediatrics, obstetrics and gynecology, psychiatry, and many others; and

WHEREAS, the United States Department of Health and Human Services Bureau of Health Professions has reported a shortage of healthcare professionals in more than 150 areas in just the State of Illinois. Consequently, a staggering number of Americans cannot receive the medical care they need even if they can afford it; and

WHEREAS, primary care physicians, also known as general practitioners, often offer the most cost-effective healthcare choices to patients. Furthermore, there are many career opportunities for primary care physicians throughout Illinois; and

WHEREAS, this year, the theme of National Primary Care Week is “Addressing Health Disparities: Healing the Nation”:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 15-21, 2006 as NATIONAL PRIMARY CARE WEEK in Illinois in support and encouragement of primary care careers and the collaboration of healthcare professionals, which is vital to the care and well-being of all citizens in this state.

WHEREAS, Maestro Ruggiero Ricci is a legendary violin master and a native son of Chicago, Illinois. Maestro Ricci was born in 1918 and has been performing in front of audiences since the age of 9; and

WHEREAS, Maestro Ricci is making a rare appearance in Chicago as a guest of the Stadivari Society of Chicago and the Ars Viva Symphony Orchestra of Illinois. Ricci was noted as the virtuoso violinist of all violinists. He has recorded pieces that no one else ever has; as they were so technically difficult that they were regarded as unplayable; and

WHEREAS, with the largest discography in the history of his art, Maestro Ricci has played over 6,000 concerts in 65 countries; and

WHEREAS, Ruggiero Ricci worked with Henry Ford in Dearborn, Michigan assembling the distinguished violin collection for the Henry Ford Museum; and

WHEREAS, in Illinois, Maestro Ricci made his debut in 1931 at the age of 13 to a sold out crowd at Orchestra Hall. At the age of 14 he not only performed for Albert Einstein, but gave him a violin lesson. He gave his first White House performance at the invitation of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. His final public concert was given in 2003 at the Smithsonian Institute, at which time he donated one of his concert violins to the Institute and it is now in the Smithsonian’s rare instrument collection; and

WHEREAS, Maestro Ruggiero Ricci is being publicly honored at the opening concert of the Ars Viva Symphony Orchestra on October 22, 2006 at 7:30 PM at the North Shore Center for the Performing Arts in Skokie, Illinois:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 21, 2006 as RUGGIERO RICCI DAY in Illinois.

Issued by the Governor October 10, 2006.

NATIONAL FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

WHEREAS, the State of Illinois is committed to ensuring the safety and security of all those living and visiting our state; and
WHEREAS, fire is a serious public safety concern both locally and nationally, and homes are where people are at greatest risk from fire; and
WHEREAS, the nonprofit National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) has documented through its research that cooking is the leading cause of home fires. One out of three home fires begins in the kitchen – more than any other place in the home; and
WHEREAS, Illinois’ first responders are dedicated to reducing the occurrence of home fires and home fire injuries through prevention and protection education; and
WHEREAS, using proper care when cooking will have a positive effect on the home fire problem; and
WHEREAS, each cooking fire that is prevented throughout Illinois is an opportunity to prevent painful injury and costly property damage; and
WHEREAS, the 2006 Fire Prevention Week theme, “Prevent Cooking Fires: Watch What You Heat,” effectively serves to remind us all of the simple actions we can take to stay safer from fire during Fire Prevention Week and year-round:

Issued by the Governor October 10, 2006.

2006-358
INFECTION PREVENTION WEEK

WHEREAS, protecting the health of Americans includes providing every citizen with access to safe and effective health care; and
WHEREAS, infection Prevention and Control Professionals are devoted to patient and health care worker safety and are committed to reducing the risk and occurrence of health care-associated infections; and

WHEREAS, the prevention of health care-associated infections is instrumental in achieving this goal; and

WHEREAS, every year more than 800 million Americans visit their physicians and more than 33 million are admitted to hospitals, with many undergoing medical procedures that have a risk of infectious complications; and

WHEREAS, health care-associated infections increase morbidity and mortality and add a significant financial burden to the cost of health care; and

WHEREAS, the Association for Professionals in Infection Control and Epidemiology (APIC), representing more than 11,000 Infection Prevention and Control Professionals, sponsors International Infection Prevention and Control Week with this year’s theme being, “International Infection Prevention Week: It’s In Your Hands”:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 16-22, 2006 as INFECTION PREVENTION WEEK in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to join in this worthy effort to prevent healthcare-associated infections.

AFRICAN AMERICAN WOMEN EVOLVING DAYS

WHEREAS, in 1966, African American Women Evolving (AAWE) was established to help Black women and girls become better informed about their reproductive health and collectively affect social change; and
WHEREAS, AAWE distributes information to women and girls to expose myths and misinformation about various health issues that can affect women from menstruation to menopause. Information includes family planning, preventing HIV/AIDS and other reproductive tract infections (RTI’s), infertility, prenatal care, infant and maternal mortality, breast care, and more; and
WHEREAS, they also teach, educate, train, inspire, and motivate women and girls to become pro-active in their lives so they can reach their fullest potential; and
WHEREAS, since 2003, a weekend has been devoted to promoting the health and wellness of Black women, families, and their communities; and
WHEREAS, from October 27th to 28th, 2006, the AAWE will be holding the 4th Black Women Loving the Mind, Body, & Spirit™ Health Symposium at Malcolm X College in Chicago, Illinois:
THerefore, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 27-28, 2006 as AFRICAN AMERICAN WOMEN EVOLVING DAYS in Illinois.
WHEREAS, respiratory diseases are a major health problem in the United States. Unfortunately, the causes of some respiratory diseases are unknown, and many have no known cure; and

WHEREAS, despite that, appropriate therapy can often slow the progress of respiratory disease, relieve symptoms, reduce the extent of permanent lung damage and respiratory disability, and avert or delay the onset of life-threatening complications; and

WHEREAS, today, there are educational programs for patients and their families, as well as a variety of treatments for respiratory disease such as the administration of life-supporting oxygen, drug therapy, and lung rehabilitation; and

WHEREAS, to inform the public about the respiratory care profession and promote lung health, the American Association for Respiratory Care and their affiliate organizations, including the Illinois Society for Respiratory Care, annually sponsors Respiratory Care Week the last week in October; and

WHEREAS, respiratory therapy centers throughout the country participate by hosting educational screenings, programs, and fundraisers for asthma camps for kids, patients in need of assistance, and other worthy causes; and

WHEREAS, legislation to grant Illinois Respiratory Care Practitioners full licensure status became effective January 1, 2006; and

WHEREAS, this year, the American Association and Illinois Society for Respiratory Care will observe Respiratory Care Week from October 22-28:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 22-28, 2006 as RESPIRATORY CARE WEEK in Illinois in support of the notable efforts by the American Association and Illinois Society for Respiratory Care to raise awareness about respiratory diseases that affect the lives of many citizens of our State.

Issued by the Governor October 16, 2006.
2006-365

CHRONIC OBSTRUCTIVE PULMONARY DISEASE AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD) is the fourth leading cause of death in the United States. In 2001 alone, there were more than 12 million diagnosed cases of COPD in adults over the age of 25; and

WHEREAS, COPD encompasses a group of lung diseases that cause blockages to airflow and breathing-related problems, including chronic bronchitis, emphysema, and some extreme cases of asthma; and

WHEREAS, COPD has a variety of causes, but the primary source of the disease is cigarette smoking. Most COPD patients are smokers or former smokers, however, breathing other irritants on a regular basis such as air pollution or chemical fumes can also trigger the disease; and

WHEREAS, COPD causes the loss of elasticity and swelling of airways, as well as the erosion of air sac walls. Consequently, these problems obstruct airflow in and out of the lungs and the supply of oxygen to the body; and

WHEREAS, unfortunately, there is no treatment for COPD. Damage done to the airways is irreversible, but avoiding cigarette smoke, air pollution, and chemical fumes is the best way a COPD patient can minimize their risk; and

WHEREAS, this year, a number of organizations committed and dedicated to addressing COPD will raise awareness about the disease in November:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim November 2006 as CHRONIC OBSTRUCTIVE PULMONARY DISEASE AWARENESS MONTH in Illinois to call attention to the devastating problem of COPD, and in support of efforts by organizations to combat this terrible disease that affects so many people in this country and our state.

Issued by the Governor October 16, 2006.

Filed by the Secretary of State October 18, 2006.
WHEREAS, approximately 310,000 children younger than the age of 6 are lead poisoned across the nation each year, and Illinois identified approximately 7,600 lead poisoned children in 2005; and

WHEREAS, Illinois passed the Lead Poisoning Prevention Act in 1973 to set mandatory screening and reporting requirements; and

WHEREAS, Illinois established the Lead Poisoning Prevention Program in the Illinois Department of Public Health to monitor the identification and treatment of lead poisoned children; and

WHEREAS, Illinois data indicates a decline in the number of lead poisoned children younger than the age of 6 from 23.1 percent in 1996 to 3.7 percent in 2005; and

WHEREAS, Illinois amended the Lead Poisoning Prevention Act in 2006, establishing new guidelines to further expand on lead poisoning prevention efforts in the state; and

WHEREAS, the major source of lead exposure among American children still remains lead-based paint banned in 1978 and lead-contaminated dust found in the nearly 1.1 million deteriorating housing units in Illinois; and

WHEREAS, lead poisoning can affect nearly every system in the body, causing learning disabilities, shortened attention span, behavioral problems and, in extreme instances, seizure, coma and even death; and

WHEREAS, lead poisoning can affect any family regardless of race, socioeconomic status and education, and is preventable; and

WHEREAS, Illinois is pleased to join with healthcare professionals, agencies and their delegates in observance of National Lead Poisoning Prevention Week, in an effort to increase awareness and promote prevention of lead poisoning in children:

Issued by the Governor October 16, 2006.

Filed by the Secretary of State October 18, 2006.
WHEREAS, gun violence is an evil that continues to pervade our society, taking thousands of lives per year, destroying families, and casting a dark shadow over our communities; and

WHEREAS, since taking office in 2003, my administration has fought hard to keep guns off our streets and out of the hands of violent offenders. Our initiatives have included closing the “gun show loophole” which requires gun dealers who are not federally licensed to request background checks from the Illinois State Police before they can deal at gun shows, imposing harsher prison sentences for those convicted of gun crimes, and creating an elite gun trafficking police unit to stop the flow of crime guns into Illinois; and

WHEREAS, the State of Illinois will never rest in its efforts to protect our citizens from senseless gun violence; and

WHEREAS, in 1996, United States Senator Bill Bradley, along with eighty-three Senators of both parties, successfully sponsored the passage of a bipartisan Senate Resolution calling for A Day of National Concern About Young People and Gun Violence. In support of this, students across the country were given the opportunity to make a voluntary promise that they “will never bring a gun to school, never use a gun to settle a dispute, and use their influence with friends to keep them from using a gun to settle disputes.” More than ten million young people nationwide have participated in this program since its inception; and

WHEREAS, this year, to commemorate the Annual National Day of Concern’s Student Pledge, radio station WBBM-FM (B96) in Chicago is holding a special broadcast on Wednesday, October 18, that will include prominent community leaders, celebrities, and education professionals engaged in discussion and debate surrounding this critical topic. In addition, schools all throughout the nation will be holding their own events to commemorate this annual observance and create awareness of gun violence among adults and children alike, and what we can all do to make our neighborhoods better and safer now, and for future generations; and

WHEREAS, Illinois is proud to join in this important observance, and in supporting the efforts of all those involved in organizing National Day of Concern events here in Illinois, and across the country:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 18, 2006 as STUDENT PLEDGE AGAINST GUN VIOLENCE - NATIONAL DAY OF CONCERN in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to become better informed about gun violence, and join in the ongoing mission of keeping our streets safe and crime free.

Issued by the Governor October 17, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State October 18, 2006.

CHICAGO BAPTIST INSTITUTE DAY

WHEREAS, the Chicago Baptist Institute is a Christian Education College accredited by the Accrediting Commission International, affiliated with the Association for Biblical Higher Education; and
WHEREAS, Chicago Baptist Institute was organized in 1934, under the united sponsorship of the Chicago Baptist Association, the American Baptist Publication Society, the American Baptist Home Mission, and Black Baptist pastors and churches of Chicago; and
WHEREAS, the school will celebrate its Silver Anniversary in a Gala Benefit Banquet on October 23rd, 2006 at 7:00 p.m. to be held at the Condesa del Mar Banquet facility in Alsip, Illinois; and
WHEREAS, the keynote speaker of the evening will be the internationally-renowned Rev. Dr. William J. Shaw, President of the National Baptist Convention USA and the Pastor of White Rock Baptist Church in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; and
WHEREAS, at the banquet, Dr. Lena M. Saunders and Rev. Dr. Joseph B. Felker will be honored for their outstanding service to their communities and to the Chicago Baptist Institute; and
WHEREAS, Dr. Lena M. Saunders will be honored for her outstanding service on the Board of Trustees since 1991. She has served as chair of the Annual Benefit Banquet for the past 15 years. In this role, she has ensured that the Banquet is carried out with a level of excellence and distinction; and
WHEREAS, Rev. Felker was elected and is serving in his 10th year as Chairman of the Board of Trustees for the Chicago Baptist Institute. He has spearheaded issues concerning barber education, built the Greater New Era District Association from less than 50 churches to over 100 churches, completed the building of the Mt. Carmel Church, added a million dollar educational building, and has presided over the expansion of the Chicago Baptist Institute where the student population has significantly increased; and
WHEREAS, the Galore Benefit Banquet serves as a wonderful celebration of the accomplishments of Dr. Lena M. Saunders and Rev. Dr. Joseph B. Felker, and will be held on October 23, 2006 in Alsip, Illinois:
THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 23, 2006 as CHICAGO BAPTIST INSTITUTE DAY in Illinois.
Issued by the Governor October 17, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State October 18, 2006.

HUNGARIAN FREEDOM DAY

WHEREAS, on October 23, 1956, the Hungarian Revolution began with Hungarians joining together in a peaceful call for democracy and an end to the Soviet-dominated Hungarian communist government; and
WHEREAS, peaceful protestors were fired upon by the Hungarian Security Police killing hundreds and triggering the bloody fight for freedom and democracy and the first tear in the Iron Curtain; and
WHEREAS, the Hungarian Freedom Fighters, students and workers, men, women and children, who rose up against impossible odds and risked their lives to take part in their noble fight for freedom and democracy, were able to establish a revolutionary government that released political prisoners (including major church leaders), took steps to establish a multi-party democracy, called for the withdrawal of all Soviet troops from Hungary, announced Hungary’s withdrawal from the Warsaw Pact, and requested United Nations assistance in establishing Hungarian neutrality; and
WHEREAS, the Soviet Union launched a massive military counteroffensive against the revolt, sending tens of thousands of additional troops from the Soviet Union and launched air strikes, artillery bombardments and coordinated tank-infantry actions involving some 6,000 tanks which, remarkably, the outnumbered and under-equipped Hungarian Army and Hungarian Freedom Fighters resisted for several days; and

WHEREAS, more than 200,000 Hungarians fled their country in the aftermath of the Soviet suppression of the Hungarian uprising, and over 47,000 of these people eventually were able to settle in the United States where they have contributed greatly to the intellectual strength, cultural diversity and the economic might of this country; and

WHEREAS, the Hungarians in 1989 dismantled the Iron Curtain and permitted East Germans safe passage to the West, actions that led to the fall of the Berlin Wall; and

WHEREAS, on October 23, 1989, the Republic of Hungary proclaimed its independence, and in 1990 the Hungarian Parliament officially designated October 23 as a Hungarian national holiday, indicating that the legacy of the 1956 Revolution continues to inspire Hungarians to this day; and

WHEREAS, on March 12, 1999, the Government of Hungary, reflecting the will of the Hungarian people, formally acceded to the North Atlantic Treaty and became a member of NATO and on May 1, 2004, Hungary became a full member of the European Union:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 23, 2006 as HUNGARIAN FREEDOM DAY in Illinois in recognition of the 50th Anniversary of the 1956 Hungarian Revolution.

Issued by the Governor October 17, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State October 18, 2006.

SOUTH SIDE HELP CENTER 70'S BASH DAY

WHEREAS, the South Side Help Center is a not-for-profit social service agency established in 1987 that serves the entire city of Chicago and its suburbs; and

WHEREAS, the mission of the South Side Help Center is to provide community residents with prevention and intervention services to empower them with life-saving information and develop social interaction skills of youth through positive and constructive activities; and

WHEREAS, the South Side Help Center is committed to preparing children, teens, and young adults to make positive health and life choices by providing a plethora of free services that address specific, critical risks of inner-city youths; and

WHEREAS, the South Side Help Center has provided numerous programs such as: substance abuse prevention, HIV/AIDS education and risk prevention, mentoring, case management, and mental health; and

WHEREAS, the South Side Help Center will hold its 3rd Annual 70’s Bash at the New Martinique Complex in Burbank, Illinois on November 10, 2006:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim November 10, 2006 as SOUTH SIDE HELP CENTER 70’S BASH DAY in Illinois, and encourage the people of Illinois to recognize the difficulties that many families go through and offer their support in prolonging a service that is fundamental to the healthy growth of humanity.

UNITED NATIONS DAY

WHEREAS, the United Nations was founded in 1945, and the anniversary of its founding is observed each year on October 24; and

WHEREAS, one of the principal mandates of the United Nations – “To achieve international cooperation in solving problems of an economic, social, cultural, or humanitarian character” – remains as valid today as when those words were written into the Charter more than a half century ago; and

WHEREAS, in September of 2000, 189 countries, including the United States, agreed on the Millennium Development Goals; and

WHEREAS, the fifth of the Millennium Development Goals focuses on the reduction of maternal mortality, and seeks to reduce by three quarters the ratio of women dying in childbirth by 2015; and

WHEREAS, poor maternal health and mortality has a permanent and lasting affect on future generations; and
WHEREAS, the United States is a champion of women’s rights both here and abroad, most recently in its work in Afghanistan and Iraq; and

WHEREAS, the United States must continue to work with the United Nations and UN agencies in order to provide a coordinated, multilateral effort in both assessing the current problem of maternal health and well-being and determining the strategies and mechanisms best suited to reduce maternal mortality and improve women’s health; and

WHEREAS, in Illinois, my administration has worked tirelessly to increase and improve health care for more and more women. Since we took office, we have created the Illinois Healthy Women program to provide health care to women who otherwise would go without. To date, the program has served more than 100,000 women. The Kaiser Foundation has ranked Illinois the best state in the nation for providing health care to people who need it; and

WHEREAS, the United Nations Association of the United States of America (UNA-USA), in cooperation with other organizations, has declared “Maternal Health and Well-Being” as its theme for the 2006 United Nations Day commemorations:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 24, 2006 as UNITED NATIONS DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to join in all activities related to this day.

SICKLE CELL DISEASE ASSOCIATION OF ILLINOIS

WHEREAS, one in 12 African-Americans carries the sickle cell trait, and the disease is also found in descendants from the Mediterranean, Caribbean, South India, and North African areas; and

WHEREAS, the Sickle Cell Disease Association of Illinois (SCDAI) was founded by Howard D. Anderson in 1971 as the Midwest Association for Sickle Cell Anemia to act as an advocate to the legislative body for improved health care and services for sickle cell patients; and

WHEREAS, the Sickle Cell Disease Association of Illinois held its first Sickle Cell Conference for health care professionals in September of 1972, and has continued the instructive and ever-growing event annually; and
WHEREAS, the Sickle Cell Disease Association of Illinois began a Bike-A-Thon in 1974 that has now expanded into the Walk-Jog-Bike-A-Thon, becoming one of Chicago’s longest standing outdoor fundraisers that attracts over 75,000 participants and raises more than $1,750,000; and
WHEREAS, in 2002, the SCDAI formed a partnership with the Illinois Department of Public Health to carry out the Newborn Screening Program, which established a formal process of protocol to contact Illinois parents of newborns testing positive for sickle disease and trait; and
WHEREAS, the SCDAI’s main concern is for the children; thus, in 1983 the agency established the Bright Horizons Summer Camp for youth, ages 7-18, who suffer from the disease. Also, SCDAI provides college scholarships for high school students; and
WHEREAS, since its inception, the SCDAI has been steadfast in touching thousands of lives and providing support, counseling, referrals, education, and literature in an effort to eradicate a disease that plagues more than 5,000 Illinois residents and whose trait is carried by hundreds of thousands more:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby recognize the Sickle Cell Disease Association of Illinois as they celebrate their 35th year anniversary.

ADOPTION AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, adoption is a rewarding and enriching experience for individuals and couples who want to provide children with a stable, loving family environment; and
WHEREAS, Illinois is recognized as a national leader in finding permanent homes for waiting children, placing more than 47,000 foster children into adoptive and subsidized guardianship homes since 1997; and
WHEREAS, largely because of its success in adoption recruitment, Illinois has become the first state in the nation to support more children in permanent adoption guardianship placements than in substitute care; and

WHEREAS, the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, the Child Care Association of Illinois, the Adoption Information Center of Illinois, the Illinois Adoption Advisory Council, the Illinois Foster and Adoptive Parent Association, the Chicago Bar Association, and the many Illinois child welfare agencies and adoptive parent groups all encourage families to consider adopting a child in need of a home; and

WHEREAS, hundreds of children in Illinois are still awaiting adoption:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim November 2006 as ADOPTION AWARENESS MONTH in Illinois, and encourage all families to consider adopting a child into their family.

2006-375
MAKE A DIFFERENCE DAY

WHEREAS, we have the power to save lives and considerably improve the quality of life of others, and there are many ways we can make a difference; and

WHEREAS, just by donating pop tops and recycling, we help amputees get economical and affordable artificial limbs, and reduce environmental waste so that our children have a safer and healthier habitat to play and grow in; and

WHEREAS, there are also many wonderful activities and events committed and dedicated to helping others, including Make A Difference Day. Last year on that day, more than 3 million Americans gave their time and support for thousands of projects in hundreds of towns throughout the country; and

WHEREAS, in Illinois alone, thousands of citizens, civic organizations, companies, religious groups, and schools contributed to projects such as the collection and delivery of supplies to needy students and food and clothing drives for homeless shelters; and

WHEREAS, created by USA WEEKEND Magazine, Make A Difference Day has grown into a substantial vehicle for volunteerism and community service. This year, the 16th Annual Make A Difference Day will be held on October 28:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 28, 2006 as MAKE A DIFFERENCE DAY in Illinois in support of this marvelous day for helping others, and to encourage citizens of our state to make a difference.

LUNG CANCER AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, lung cancer is the leading cause of cancer death in the United States. This year alone, lung cancer will claim the lives of more than 163,000 Americans, including 6,790 from the State of Illinois; and

WHEREAS, lung cancer takes the lives of more Americans than breast, prostate, colon, liver, and kidney cancers combined. Clearly, lung cancer is a serious health issue; and

WHEREAS, despite that, there is currently no standard screening for lung cancer; and

WHEREAS, sadly, 70 percent of lung cancer patients are diagnosed in a late stage with only a 15 percent five-year survival rate. However, with early and regular checkups and exams, lung cancer can be diagnosed in an early stage when the chance of survival is as high as 85 percent; and

WHEREAS, this year, the Lung Cancer Alliance, a national patient advocacy group for lung cancer, and other organizations throughout the country will raise awareness about the disease this November:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim November 2006 as LUNG CANCER AWARENESS MONTH in Illinois to call attention to the devastating problem of lung cancer, and in support of efforts by organizations such as the Lung Cancer Alliance to combat this terrible disease that affects so many families in our state.

WHEREAS, founded in 1975, the United Hellenic American Congress serves as the umbrella and unifying organization for Hellenic Americans; organizing functions on local, regional and national levels to promote Hellenic heritage and culture; safeguarding the human and religious rights of Hellenes in the Diaspora; enhancing relations between the United States, Greece and Cyprus; and improving communications and unity between Greek-Americans and their fellow Americans; and

WHEREAS, originally formed in response to the invasion of Cyprus, the United Hellenic American Congress was organized to fight for the rule of law, justice and equality to protect Hellenic ideals and culture. Since that time, they have grown and evolved into a full service civic, educational and cultural organization dedicated to championing Hellenic-American causes; and

WHEREAS, this year, the United Hellenic American Congress is celebrating its 31st Anniversary, and will commemorate this milestone as part of its Annual Banquet, being held on Saturday, November 11, at the Ritz Carlton Hotel in Chicago; and

WHEREAS, during this celebration, the United Hellenic American Congress will honor Greek-American bankers, who have: contributed significantly to both national and international banking communities; represented the financial industry with honor and integrity; and encompassed all of the positive traits of Hellenism and American virtue; and

WHEREAS, the State of Illinois is proud to join the United Hellenic American Congress in commemorating their 31 year commitment to the Hellenic American communities, and in honoring the accomplishments of the leading Greek-American bankers in the Chicago metropolitan community for their dedication to their Hellenic heritage, and for upholding both Hellenic and American principals:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim November 11, 2006 as UNITED HELLENIC AMERICAN CONGRESS DAY in Illinois, and congratulate and commend this organization on the occasion of their 31st Anniversary.

Issued by the Governor October 25, 2006.
WHEREAS, international education is critical for our future welfare. By studying, learning, and exchanging experiences, we develop a greater appreciation and respect for other people and their cultures, and breakdown barriers to understanding and cooperation, which are vital to peace and prosperity; and

WHEREAS, foreign student exchange programs are just one wonderful opportunity to learn about other people and cultures. Approximately 600,000 international students study in the United States every year; and

WHEREAS, International Education Week is from November 13-17, and the United States Departments of State and Education are teaming up to promote similar efforts during that week that enrich our comprehension of international education; and

WHEREAS, international education and exchange include thousands of programs, public, and private, campus-based and national, that promote the sharing of ideas and experiences across borders. These include study abroad programs, citizen and scholarly exchanges, foreign students on U.S. Campuses, area and foreign language studies, and global approaches to U.S. education; and

WHEREAS, we live in an increasingly interconnected world and improving global literacy among our citizens contributes significantly to our nation’s foreign policy, economic competitiveness, and national security; and

WHEREAS, this year’s theme, “International Education: Engaging in Global Partnerships and Opportunities,” presents a golden opportunity to focus on what it takes to create new partnerships and seize new opportunities in the 21st century:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim November 13-17, 2006 as INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION WEEK in Illinois, and join the campaign by the United States Departments of State and Education to encourage international education.

ART EXPLORING INDIVIDUALS LIVING WITH MENTAL ILLNESS MONTHS

WHEREAS, the Neumann Association is hosting an art exhibit on mental illness, “Abstract Mind Mural: Art Exploring Individuals Living with Mental Illness” at the Chicago O’Hare International Airport from October to December, 2006; and

WHEREAS, the Neumann Association is a Chicago-based not-for-profit organization that serves people with mental illness and developmental disabilities, and created the mural in collaboration with the Aldo Castillo Arts Foundation, which provides art education and programming by highlighting diverse cultures and international artists; and

WHEREAS, according to the National Institute of Mental health, nearly 58 million adults in the U.S. – more than one in four – suffer from a diagnosable mental disorder in a given year. This includes such conditions as depression, anxiety, bipolar disorder, and schizophrenia. Mental disorders are the leading cause of disability in the U.S. for people aged 15-44; and

WHEREAS, professional artists from more than 20 countries collaborated with amateur artists from Chicago living with a mental illness in order to capture the tremendous impact that these disorders can have on these individuals, demonstrating that art is a powerful healing tool; and

WHEREAS, the Mural includes 60 pieces by professional artists, as well as art by clients of the Neumann Association who are living with chronic and severe mental illness. The professional art is displayed alongside that of the people living with mental illness to signify the importance of keeping people with mental illness connected with the rest of society:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October through December, 2006 as ART EXPLORING INDIVIDUALS LIVING WITH MENTAL ILLNESS MONTHS in Illinois.

Issued by the Governor October 27, 2006.

WHEREAS, throughout the country, school psychologists work diligently in our schools and school district offices to improve learning and behavior strategies among students, and to enhance classroom management and parenting skills; and

WHEREAS, sound psychological principles are integral to instruction and learning, social and emotional development, prevention and early intervention, and supporting culturally diverse student populations; and

WHEREAS, school psychologists demonstrate their ability to meet the varying needs of students through a wide-range of approaches such as consultation, assessment, intervention, prevention, and education; and

WHEREAS, children’s mental health is directly linked to their learning and development; and

WHEREAS, meeting children’s mental health needs is a wise investment because prevention/earlier intervention are more cost effective than remediation, incarceration, or lost productivity; and

WHEREAS, school psychologists are specially trained to deliver a continuum of mental health services and academic supports within the school setting; and

WHEREAS, school psychologists facilitate collaboration and help parents and educators identify and reduce risk factors, create effective and caring schools, access needed community resources, and implement research-driven prevention and intervention strategies; and

WHEREAS, the Illinois School Psychologists Association, an affiliate of the National Association of School Psychologists, is a not-for-profit professional association representing school psychologists in the State of Illinois. This year, they will recognize school psychologists in our state for their valuable service during the second week in November:

Issued by the Governor October 27, 2006.

NATIONAL FAMILY WEEK

WHEREAS, families are important for our health and well-being. They bring us joy and pleasure in moments of triumph, as well as comfort and solace during times of tragedy; and WHEREAS, families are also the base and foundation of every community. Consequently, the success of our communities depends upon the strength of families; and
   WHEREAS, for that reason, it is in the interest of everyone to promote and support families. By doing so, we can improve the communities we all live and work in; and
   WHEREAS, Thanksgiving is a special time of year we spend with our families. Since 1968, that week has been commemorated as National Family Week; and
   WHEREAS, with the assistance and resources of organizations such as the Alliance for Children and Families and its local member agency, the Child Care Association of Illinois, as well as the 32nd Degree Scottish Rite Masons, we can help families of all shapes and sizes create a better future for all of Illinois; and
   WHEREAS, this year, Thanksgiving falls on November 23, and National Family Week is from November 19-25:
   THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim November 19-25, 2006 as NATIONAL FAMILY WEEK in Illinois to recognize the importance of families, and in support of efforts by organizations such as the Child Care Association of Illinois and the 32nd Degree Scottish Rite Masons to promote family unity.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN DAY

   WHEREAS, the future of our nation’s productivity and competitiveness in the global workplace depends on the success of boys and girls – our future men and women; and
   WHEREAS, throughout history, women have been discriminated against in education, the workplace, and society as a whole; and
   WHEREAS, the American Association of University Women opens doors for women and girls and influences public debate on critical social issues such as education, civil rights, and workplace equity; and
   WHEREAS, the American Association of University Women promotes excellence in academia for women through the improvement of schools, communities, and fields of work for the benefit of all; and
WHEREAS, the American Association of University Women is one of the oldest existing organizations dedicated to promoting education and equity for women and girls; and

WHEREAS, the American Association of University Women celebrates its 125th anniversary this year from its inception on November 28, 1881; and

WHEREAS, AAUW Illinois, Inc. advances the American Association of University Women’s 125-year legacy of leadership on behalf of women and girls in Illinois:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim November 28, 2006 as AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to recognize the value of education and equitable society, and the laudable work of the American Association of University Women to that end.

DIABETES AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, diabetes has reached epidemic proportions in the United States. In Illinois alone, more than 567,756 adults (age 18 and older) have diagnosed diabetes. An estimated additional 3 million people are at increased risk for developing diabetes due to age, obesity, and sedentary lifestyle. About one in every 400 to 600 children and adolescents has type 1 diabetes and an undetermined number of youth may have or are at risk for type 2 diabetes; and

WHEREAS, type 2 diabetes can be prevented in those at high risk by changes in lifestyle with improved diet, increased physical activity, and/or modest weight loss; and

WHEREAS, in Illinois, diabetes both type 2 and type 1 account for nearly $7.3 billion in total direct healthcare and indirect costs every year. It is estimated that the direct medical care costs per person per year with diabetes is 4.3 times higher than the person without diabetes. Studies estimate that a one percent reduction in A1c values can reduce total healthcare costs for a patient with type 2 diabetes by up to $950 per year; and

WHEREAS, numerous studies support that people with diabetes can prevent or delay the progression of complications by practicing goal-oriented management of blood glucose, lipids and blood pressure, receiving diabetes self-management education, ensuring proper food intake and physical activity to help achieve target values, maintaining a healthy body weight, and receiving recommended eye and foot examinations; and

WHEREAS, blood pressure control reduces the risk of cardiovascular disease among persons with diabetes by 33% to 50% and the risk of microvascular complications (eye, kidney, and nerve diseases) by approximately 33%, detection and treatment diabetic eye disease can reduce the development of severe vision loss by an estimated 50% to 60%, detection and treatment early diabetic kidney disease can reduce the decline in kidney function by 30% to 70%, improved control of blood lipids can reduce cardiovascular complications by 20% to 50%, and comprehensive foot care programs can reduce amputation rates by 45% to 85%:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim November 2006 as DIABETES AWARENESS MONTH in Illinois.

Issued by the Governor October 31, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State November 02, 2006.

VETERANS DAY AT LEO HIGH SCHOOL

WHEREAS, throughout American history, countless men and women have risked their lives to defend liberty; and

WHEREAS, from Bunker Hill, Gettysburg, and D-Day, to Yorktown, Appomattox, and V-J Day, millions of Americans have bravely and courageously preserved and protected our freedom; and

WHEREAS, today, there are more than 1,000,000 veterans living in Illinois. The Illinois Department of Veterans’ Affairs was created to serve their needs, as well as the needs of their families and loved ones; and

WHEREAS, that is the least we can do to honor our veterans for their devotion to duty and service. Originally a remembrance of those who fought in the First World War, Armistice Day was renamed Veterans Day in 1954 by President Eisenhower so that we would always remember the sacrifices and contributions of veterans from all American wars; and

WHEREAS, our veterans have kept our country safe and free, and Veterans Day is an excellent opportunity to celebrate all the past achievements of these valiant men and women to whom we are deeply indebted; and

WHEREAS, to celebrate Veterans Day, a program at Leo High School in Chicago will honor veterans from Illinois and the contributions they have made on November 3:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim November 3, 2006 as VETERANS DAY AT LEO HIGH SCHOOL in Illinois in recognition of the school’s commitment to honoring our nation’s past and present heroes.

Issued by the Governor October 31, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State November 02, 2006.

2006-386
CHILDREN’S BOOK WEEK

WHEREAS, although we frequently hear that “reading is fundamental,” the true meaning of that phrase is often taken for granted; and WHEREAS, in recent years, literacy rates in the United States have been decreasing, and an increasingly greater number of students are failing to pass basic reading proficiency exams; and WHEREAS, reading is important because it helps us develop comprehension and critical-thinking skills that are essential and vital in all professions; and
WHEREAS, in addition to the utility of reading, books allow us to immerse and project ourselves in other fascinating cultures, historical periods, and imaginative worlds; and
WHEREAS, for those reasons, the Children’s Book Council annually promotes Children’s Book Week as part of their campaign to encourage reading among children; and
WHEREAS, this year, the Children’s Book Council will celebrate the 87th anniversary of Children’s Book Week from November 13 to 19:
THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim November 13-19, 2006 as CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK in Illinois in support of the worthy efforts by the Children’s Book Council to introduce children to the world of books and, in so doing, help ensure their future success.

Filed by the Secretary of State November 02, 2006.

VETERANS' DAY

WHEREAS, through the generations, America's men and women in uniform have defeated tyrants, liberated continents, and set a standard of courage and idealism for the entire world; and
WHEREAS, to protect the Nation they love, our veterans stepped forward when America needed them most. In answering history's call with honor, decency, and resolve, our veterans have shown the power of liberty and earned the respect and admiration of a grateful Nation; and
WHEREAS, all of America's veterans have placed our Nation's security before their own lives, creating a debt that we can never fully repay. Our veterans represent the best of America, and they deserve the best America can give them; and
WHEREAS, as we recall the service of our Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen, Marines, and Coast Guardsmen, we are reminded that the defense of freedom comes with great loss and sacrifice; and
WHEREAS, this Veterans Day, we give thanks to those who have served freedom's cause; we salute the members of our Armed Forces who are confronting our adversaries abroad; and we honor the men and women who left America's shores but did not live to be thanked as veterans. They will always be remembered by our country:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim November 11, 2006 as VETERANS’ DAY in Illinois, and encourage all Americans to recognize the valor and sacrifice of our veterans through ceremonies and prayers.

Issued by the Governor November 06, 2006.

2006-391
POLISH-AMERICAN HERITAGE MONTH

WHEREAS, October is a national observance focusing on the many contributions of Polish-Americans to the fields of science, medicine, business, law, industry, public service, education, and the arts; and
WHEREAS, during this month, more than one million Illinois residents of Polish descent celebrate their heritage of love of democracy, humanitarianism, and appreciation of the arts and education; and
WHEREAS, with Chicago boasting the largest Polish population of any city outside of Poland, it is fitting that we take the time to recognize the amazing contributions that Polish-Americans have made to our State; and
WHEREAS, the Polish American Congress, Illinois Division, salutes Polish-Americans at the 37th Annual Heritage Award Gala Celebration bestowing the prestigious 2006 Heritage Award to Mr. Wallace Ozog, President of the Polish Roman Catholic Union of America. Additional awards will be presented to Rev. Michael Osuch of Saint Hyacinth Basilica, Rev. Pawel Bandurski of Holy Trinity Mission Church, Charlie Wojciechowski of Channel 5, Lew Kuczynski, Esq of the Polish American Congress, and Commander Ralph Price of the Chicago Police Department; and
WHEREAS, the State of Illinois is proud to join with the Polish-American community in celebrating this month with the opening of the “Roads to Freedom-to Europe through Solidarity” exhibition at the St. Hyacinth Basilica. The exhibition commemorates the 25th Anniversary of the Solidarity Movement - the movement that marked the beginning of the end of the Communist system in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim October 2006 as POLISH-AMERICAN HERITAGE MONTH in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to join their fellow citizens of Polish descent in observance of this month.

ARGONNE NATIONAL LABORATORY DAY

WHEREAS, Argonne National Laboratory was created as a logical extension of the Metallurgical Laboratory at the University of Chicago, which so materially contributed to America's victory in World War II; and

WHEREAS, the Laboratory is today a world-recognized leader in scientific research and development; and

WHEREAS, scientific and technological research at the Laboratory has led to significant advances in energy, health and biotechnology, materials and chemistry, climate and weather, environmental technology, computing and information, high-energy and nuclear physics, and nuclear non-proliferation; and

WHEREAS, the Laboratory has played and continues to play a significant role in the emergence of the State of Illinois as a national center for science and technology; and

WHEREAS, the Laboratory enthusiastically cooperates with existing and new Illinois companies, believing that strengthening Illinois' technological base will create new jobs here and improve every citizen's quality of life; and

WHEREAS, the Laboratory also conducts joint research with and opens its facilities to researchers from Illinois' major universities; and
WHEREAS, Argonne National Laboratory this year marks its 60th anniversary of service to the State of Illinois and to the nation:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim November 28, 2006 as ARGONNE NATIONAL LABORATORY DAY in Illinois.

Issued by the Governor November 15, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State November 17, 2006.

2006-394
ENTREPRENEURSHIP WEEK

WHEREAS, entrepreneurship is vital to Illinois’ growth and prosperity; and

WHEREAS, most of the new jobs created throughout the United States in the past decade have come from the creative efforts of entrepreneurs and small businesses; and

WHEREAS, more than 70 percent of young Americans envision starting a business or doing something entrepreneurial as adults; and

WHEREAS, since taking office in 2003, my administration has made an unprecedented commitment to nurturing our entrepreneurs, opening up 19 entrepreneurship centers throughout Illinois to turn promising ideas into promising companies and new jobs; and

WHEREAS, over the past four years, we have invested more than $47 million through the Illinois Entrepreneurship Network that has helped small companies generate almost $2.2 billion in government contracts and international sales and secure almost $429 million in financing; and

WHEREAS, a broad coalition of partner organizations in Illinois and throughout the United States is actively engaged in enhancing entrepreneurial opportunities through collaboration and cooperation with the national Consortium for Entrepreneurship Education; and

WHEREAS, encouraging youth to be excited about entrepreneurship and working to expand the knowledge, skills and attitudes of Illinois’ youth and adults to be successful entrepreneurs are crucial to the long-term growth of local communities, Illinois and the United States; and

WHEREAS, Illinois’ Career and Technical Student Organizations offer an array of programs, activities and competitive events focused on entrepreneurship; and

WHEREAS, the United States House of Representatives resolved to recognize the first annual National Entrepreneurship Week commencing on February 24, 2007; and

WHEREAS, National Entrepreneurship Week provides an opportunity to focus on the innovative ways in which entrepreneurship education can bring together the core academic, technical and problem solving skills essential for future entrepreneurs and successful workers in future workplaces:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim February 24 through March 3, 2007 as ENTREPRENEURSHIP WEEK in Illinois.

Issued by the Governor November 20, 2006.

Filed by the Secretary of State November 22, 2006.

2006-395

GREEK WOMEN’S UNIVERSITY CLUB DAY

WHEREAS, the Greek Women’s University Club was founded February 21, 1931, with the objectives of rewarding excellence in education and fostering Greek heritage; and

WHEREAS, the club was the first Hellenic organization to provide funds for Cooley’s Anemia Research and to support the social services of the Hellenic Foundation; and

WHEREAS, the Greek Women’s University Club has contributed to the Modern Greek Studies Program at the University of Illinois in Chicago; has sponsored art exhibits, lectures, and concerts; and has honored outstanding personalities of Greek heritage; and

WHEREAS, since its inception, the Greek Women’s University Club has presented annual scholarships to select women. In addition, the club recently started giving monetary awards to young men and women in annual music competitions; and

WHEREAS, club members have achieved recognition in a number of professions, including business, banking, and education; and

WHEREAS, the Greek Women’s University Club will be celebrating its 75th anniversary on November 26, 2006 at the Crystal Palace in Park Ridge, Illinois:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim November 26, 2006 as GREEK WOMEN’S UNIVERSITY CLUB DAY in Illinois in recognition of their 75th anniversary.

Issued by the Governor November 21, 2006.

CARBON MONOXIDE DETECTOR AWARENESS WEEK

WHEREAS, carbon monoxide is an odorless, tasteless, invisible gas that is produced when fossil fuels, such as natural gas, gasoline, wood, coal, propane, oil and methane, are burned incompletely; and

WHEREAS, in the home, heating and cooking equipment that burn fossil fuels are potential sources of carbon monoxide, while vehicles or generators running in an attached garage can also cause dangerous levels of the gas; and

WHEREAS, exposure to elevated levels of carbon monoxide can produce symptoms similar to influenza, food poisoning or other illnesses, including dizziness, nausea, headache, coughing, irregular heartbeat, and pale skin with cherry red lips and ear tips; and

WHEREAS, approximately 200 people die each year in the United States from carbon monoxide poisoning, and thousands more are sickened by exposure to the gas; and

WHEREAS, these deaths and illnesses can be prevented when homes and apartments are equipped with working carbon monoxide detectors, which alert residents to the presence of dangerous levels of carbon monoxide gas; and

WHEREAS, the Illinois General Assembly approved and I signed into law this spring the Carbon Monoxide Alarm Detector Act, which requires, beginning January 1, 2007, for all homes and apartments that use fossil fuels or have an attached garage to have an approved, operating carbon monoxide detector installed within 15 feet of any sleeping area; and

WHEREAS, the Office of the State Fire Marshal is working with local fire departments throughout the state to increase public awareness of the new law and how carbon monoxide detectors can save lives:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim December 4-10, 2006 as CARBON MONOXIDE DETECTOR AWARENESS WEEK in Illinois. During this week I urge all the citizens of Illinois to learn more about the dangers of carbon monoxide poisoning and ensure that their homes are equipped with working carbon monoxide detectors by January 1, 2007.

Issued by the Governor November 27, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State November 29, 2006.

NATIONAL PEARL HARBOR REMEMBRANCE DAY

WHEREAS, on the morning of December 7, 1941, America was attacked without warning at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, by the air and naval forces of Imperial Japan; and

WHEREAS, more than 2,400 people perished and another 1,100 were wounded, triggering our entry into World War II; and

WHEREAS, today, we honor those killed 65 years ago and those who survived to fight on other fronts in the four succeeding years of the war; and

WHEREAS, the attack on Pearl Harbor fired the American spirit with a determination that freedom would not fall to tyranny; and the United States and its allies fought to victory, preserving a world in which democracy could grow; and

WHEREAS, we are grateful for the service of the brave men and women of the United States Military who were there at Pearl Harbor that tragic day in history, and honor them by pledging to do our best to secure for our children, our grandchildren, and all of posterity the continuing blessings of liberty:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim December 7, 2006 as NATIONAL PEARL HARBOR REMEMBRANCE DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to observe this solemn occasion with appropriate ceremonies and with reverence.

Issued by the Governor November 28, 2006.

Filed by the Secretary of State November 29, 2006.

METH PREVENTION DAY

WHEREAS, methamphetamine, or meth, is one of the biggest threats to our rural communities and the families who live in them; and

WHEREAS, meth is a powerful stimulant that affects the central nervous system, and is derived from ephedrine or pseudoephedrine, commonly used in cold medicine; and
WHEREAS, chronic abuse of meth can lead to psychotic behavior, characterized by intense paranoia, hallucinations, and out-of-control rages that can be coupled with extremely violent behavior; and

WHEREAS, the Illinois Department of Corrections (IDOC) reports that approximately 800 offenders in the Department have been incarcerated for meth related crimes; and

WHEREAS, in FY04, Illinois had 490 inmates in prison for meth-related offenses. In FY05, that number jumped to 541 meth-related inmates. Many more inmates may be currently incarcerated for violent or property crimes that were related to a meth addiction; and

WHEREAS, over two years, my administration will create two Meth Units, one at Southwestern Illinois Correctional Center (SWICC) and one at Sheridan. This year, we will create a 200 bed Meth Unit at the 667 bed Southwestern Illinois Correctional Center and make the entire prison another fully dedicated drug prison and reentry program in the model of Sheridan. Next year, we will expand the Sheridan Correctional Center from 950 offenders to its full capacity of 1300 offenders, with 200 of those spaces to be used for another Meth Unit; and

WHEREAS, my administration has charged the IDOC to develop a cutting-edge new model for the nation that will reduce recidivism among meth-addicted offenders, and will be launched at SWICC and then added to Sheridan; and

WHEREAS, inmates at Southwestern and Sheridan will participate in integrated programs including drug treatment, vocational training, education, and closely supervised community reentry; and

WHEREAS, in order to break the cycle of crime and addiction, these Meth Units will enable meth-addicted prisoners to receive treatment, counseling, and job training. Thus, these prisoners will have a better chance of leaving prison without the drug addiction that threatens their lives and our communities:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim November 30, 2006 as METH PREVENTION DAY in Illinois.

Issued by the Governor November 28, 2006.

Filed by the Secretary of State November 29, 2006.
WHEREAS, on November 30, 2006, Senator Miguel del Valle of the 2nd District is retiring from his 20-year career in the Illinois Senate and will become the first Latino to serve as the City Clerk of the City of Chicago; and

WHEREAS, Senator Miguel del Valle has led an honorable and distinguished career in public service. He has served on the Illinois Democratic State Central Committee, as the Unit Director of Barreto Boys and Girls Club, as the Executive Director of Association House, and as a full-time State Senator since 1987; and

WHEREAS, born on July 24, 1951 in Puerto Rico, Senator del Valle grew up in the West Town and Humboldt Park areas of Chicago. He graduated from Tuley High School (now Roberto Clemente High School) in 1969 and went on to Northeastern Illinois University, where he earned his Bachelor’s degree in Secondary Education and his Master’s degree in Counseling; and

WHEREAS, as the first Latino elected to the Illinois Senate, Senator del Valle was also the first Latino to serve as Assistant Majority Leader in the Illinois Senate, where he has been an outspoken advocate for Latino representation in all levels and branches of government. His leadership in redistricting cases in 1981, 1992, and 2001 led to the creation of Latino majority districts on the City, County, and State levels; and

WHEREAS, as a leading advocate for enhancing the education of all our youth, Senator del Valle was the first to champion the free school breakfast and lunch programs in Illinois schools and he continues to be a strong proponent of providing comprehensive health coverage for every child in Illinois; and

WHEREAS, Senator del Valle is the founder of the Illinois Association of Hispanic State Employees (IAHSE). He also co-founded numerous other Latino organizations, including the Illinois Legislative Latino Caucus, of which he is a co-chair; the Illinois Latino Advisory Council on Higher Education (ILACHE); the Alliance of Latinos and Jews; the Illinois Hispanic Democratic Council (IHDC); and he developed the annual Department of Children and Family Services Hispanic Families Conference; and
WHEREAS, the State of Illinois congratulates Senator Miguel del Valle on his 20-year career in the Illinois Senate, and wishes him well in his new role with the City of Chicago and in all his future endeavors:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim November 30, 2006 as MIGUEL DEL VALLE DAY in Illinois, and thank Senator del Valle for his dedicated service in the Illinois Senate.

Issued by the Governor November 29, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State November 29, 2006.

ILLINOIS FAMILY BUSINESS OF THE YEAR DAY

WHEREAS, the 2006 Illinois Family Business of the Year Awards will be given out by the Loyola University Chicago Family Business Center and Harris; and

WHEREAS, the Loyola University Chicago Family Business Center is an internationally recognized pioneer and leader in family business program development and research, serving as a resource to family businesses in the Chicago region and throughout the nation. The Family Business Center businesses employ over 50,000 workers and exceed $20 billion dollars in annual sales; and

WHEREAS, family-owned businesses account for more than half of the nation’s total employment, new job creation, and gross domestic product. Illinois is second in the United States in both longevity and revenue size of its family businesses; and

WHEREAS, since 1994, these awards have honored family firms throughout Illinois who have excelled in both business and balancing family responsibilities; and

WHEREAS, there are awards in five categories: small (companies with fewer than 50 employees), medium (50 to 250), large (more than 250), Community Service, and Century Award; and

WHEREAS, in addition to business success, those recognized will have demonstrated positive family/business linkage, multi-generational family business involvement, contributions to industry and community, and innovative business practices and strategies. Any family-owned business headquartered in Illinois is eligible to win; and
WHEREAS, the Loyola University Chicago’s Family Business Center will hold its 13th Annual Awards Program on December 7, 2006, sponsored by Harris, at the Four Seasons Hotel – Chicago:
THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim December 7, 2006 as ILLINOIS FAMILY BUSINESS OF THE YEAR DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to recognize the importance of family-owned businesses in this state and across the country.
Issued by the Governor November 29, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State November 29, 2006.

DISASTER AREA - STATE OF ILLINOIS

A severe winter storm involving sleet, freezing rain, heavy snow, high winds and single digit temperatures beginning on November 30, 2006, has resulted in record or near-record snowfall in several counties, and extraordinary ice formation on roads, electric power distribution systems, trees and other structures in many other counties in the State of Illinois. The pre-winter storm has impacted the State from the St. Louis Metro East area through Central Illinois and into Northern Illinois. The impact of the storm has been power outages to hundreds of thousands of households and businesses, requiring the need for emergency measures to protect public health and safety throughout the stricken area. State and local emergency workers along with private organizations continue to work around the clock to restore power, provide shelter and maintain emergency services.

In the interest of aiding the people in the State of Illinois and the local governments responsible for ensuring public health and safety, I hereby declare that a disaster emergency exists in the State of Illinois, pursuant to the provisions of the Illinois Emergency Agency Act, 20 ILCS 3305/7. I specifically declare the following counties as disaster areas due to record or near-record snowfall and/or extraordinary ice formation: Adams, Bond, Boone, Brown, Bureau, Calhoun, Cass, Champaign, Christian, DeKalb, DeWitt, Fulton, Greene, Hancock, Henry, Jersey, Kendall, Knox, LaSalle, Lee, Livingston, Logan, Macon, Macoupin, Madison, Marshall, Mason, McLean, McDonough, McHenry, Menard, Morgan, Monroe, Montgomery, Ogle, Peoria, Piatt, Pike, Putnam, Sangamon, Schuyler, Scott, Shelby, St. Clair, Stark, Stephenson, Tazewell, Winnebago and Woodford.

This gubernatorial proclamation of disaster will assist the Illinois Emergency Management Agency in coordinating State resources, including the Illinois National Guard, to support the local governments in their disaster response and recovery efforts. This proclamation will also make possible a request for federal assistance for those counties experiencing a record snowfall and those counties most severely affected by the extraordinary ice causing an overwhelming impact on their ability to protect public safety.

2006-408
NATIONAL DRUNK AND DRUGGED DRIVING PREVENTION MONTH

WHEREAS, driving under the influence of mind-altering drugs is a grave problem that destroys individual lives, rips families apart, and strains local communities; and

WHEREAS, last year, 1,361 men, women, and children in Illinois were killed in automobile accidents; and

WHEREAS, alcohol-related automobile accidents accounted for 43 percent of all traffic-related deaths in Illinois during 2005; and

WHEREAS, driving under the influence of alcohol and drugs also causes staggering economic costs. Billions of dollars are spent for property damage and healthcare every year as a direct result of alcohol- and drug-related automobile accidents; and

WHEREAS, today, the terrible consequences of driving under the influence of mind-altering drugs is widely acknowledged, and the government and private sector are actively engaged in campaigns to address the problem; and

WHEREAS, the December holiday season is traditionally one of the most deadly times of the year for alcohol-impaired driving. Consequently, communities and organizations all across our state and throughout the country are joined with the “You Drink & Drive. You Lose.” and other campaigns promoting responsible driving throughout the month:
THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim December 2006 as NATIONAL DRUNK AND DRUGGED DRIVING PREVENTION MONTH in Illinois, and urge all citizens to drive responsibly so that no one else becomes a victim of drunk or drugged driving.

Issued by the Governor December 05, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State December 06, 2006.

CHILDHOOD CANCER AWARENESS WEEK

WHEREAS, more than 13,000 children and adolescents are diagnosed with cancer every year in the United States and Illinois. That is the equivalent of two average size classrooms diagnosed each school day; and
WHEREAS, leukemias, tumors of the brain and nervous system, the lymphatic system, and kidneys, bones and muscles, are the most common childhood cancers; and
WHEREAS, collectively, the cancers of children, adolescents, and young adults to age 20 are the sixth most common cancers in the United States; and
WHEREAS, sadly, cancer claims the lives of more children than any other disease, including asthma, diabetes, cystic fibrosis, and AIDS combined; but WHEREAS, less than 10 percent of children diagnosed with cancer were cured in the 1950s; fortunately, nearly 80 percent of childhood cancer patients become long-term survivors today if they are referred to established childhood cancer treatment and research centers; and
WHEREAS, the American Cancer Fund for Children and Kids Cancer Connection provide a variety of vital patient psychosocial services to children undergoing cancer treatment. Through their Magical Caps for Kids program, these organizations distributes thousands of beautifully hand-made caps and decorated baseball caps to children who want to protect their heads following the trauma of chemotherapy, surgery, bone marrow transplants, or radiation treatment; and
WHEREAS, the American Cancer Fund for Children and Kids Cancer Connection also sponsor nationwide Courageous Kid Recognition Award
Ceremonies and hospital celebrations in honor of children’s determination and bravery to fight the battle against childhood cancer:

Issued by the Governor December 05, 2006.
File by the Secretary of State December 06, 2006.

2006-410
NATIONAL GUARD DAY

WHEREAS, the National Guard has a long and proud tradition of support to our nation dating back 370 years to its beginnings as colonial militia during the founding of America; and

WHEREAS, the Army National Guard was formed on December 13, 1636, when the Massachusetts Bay Colony organized three militia regiments to defend against the growing threat of the Pequot Indians; and

WHEREAS, militiamen of the Illinois National Guard have proudly served in every major United States military conflict from its service on the frontier during the Revolutionary War period, to the Black Hawk and Civil wars to operations Noble Eagle, Enduring Freedom and Iraqi Freedom today; and

WHEREAS, in the largest and swiftest response to a domestic disaster in history, the Illinois National Guard deployed approximately 1,200 troops in support of the Gulf states following Hurricane Katrina in 2005. Today, more than 8,400 Illinois Army National Guard Soldiers and 3,700 Illinois Air National Guard personnel have served in harm’s way in Iraq and Afghanistan; and

WHEREAS, the State of Illinois is very proud to recognize the historic and honorable longevity of the National Guard, which is continually providing trained and equipped units, protecting life and property of the citizens of Illinois and ready to defend the United States and its interests all over the globe:
THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim December 13, 2006 as NATIONAL GUARD DAY in Illinois in recognition of its 370th birthday.

Issued by the Governor December 12, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State December 13, 2006.

MONTESSORI EDUCATION WEEK

WHEREAS, based on her observations of children and the manner by which they learn, Dr. Maria Montessori developed an innovative philosophy of education in the early 1900’s that continues to influence learning across the State of Illinois and throughout the nation; and

WHEREAS, as a system of education for children from birth through the age of eighteen, the Montessori program uses materials, techniques, and observations that support the students’ natural development, encourage their learning, independence, and self-confidence, and advance the principles of peace through responsible citizenship; and

WHEREAS, the Montessori Method includes developmental teaching, one-to-one lessons, and the promotion of respect among the children and peace to humankind; and

WHEREAS, the State of Illinois is proud to recognize Montessori Education as it celebrates its 100 year anniversary:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim February 25 – March 3, 2007 as MONTESSORI EDUCATION WEEK in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to recognize the valuable education that Montessori schools provide to students in our great State.

Issued by the Governor December 12, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State December 13, 2006.

2006-412
KOREAN AMERICAN DAY

WHEREAS, on January 13, 1903, a group of 102 men, women, and children arrived on the shores of Honolulu, Hawaii, after a long journey on the S.S. Gaelic across the Pacific Ocean from Korea. Like many immigrants to this country, these Koreans came to America in search of a better life; and

WHEREAS, there are now approximately 2 million Korean Americans living throughout the United States; and

WHEREAS, today, our country benefits from the contributions that Korean Americans have made to our business, church, and academic communities. According to the 2000 United States Census, Korean Americans own and operate 135,571 businesses across this nation. These businesses have gross sales of 16 billion dollars annually and employ 333,649 individuals with an annual payroll of 5.8 billion dollars; and

WHEREAS, other contributions by Korean Americans include the first successful operation for Coronary Artery Disease, the development of the nectarine, and a four-time Olympic gold medalist. They have also excelled in engineering, architecture, medicine, acting, singing, sculpture, and writing; and

WHEREAS, the Keumsil Cultural Society has a mission to promote cultural exchanges and mutual understanding between cultures, thus allowing increased interaction between the Korean American community and the general American community; and

WHEREAS, the Keumsil Cultural Society will be sponsoring a Korean American Day Celebration ceremony cultural event on January 12th at the Daley Plaza. The event is co-sponsored by the City of Chicago Office of Special Events and The White Initiative on Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim January 13, 2007 as KOREAN AMERICAN DAY in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to recognize the impact that Korean Americans have on our country, while taking the opportunity to learn about their rich heritage.

Issued by the Governor December 13, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State December 13, 2006.

2006-413

HUMAN RIGHTS WEEK

WHEREAS, in 1948, the United Nations General Assembly adopted the Universal Declaration of Human Rights on December 10th, and the international community commemorates that day of each year as Human Rights Day; and

WHEREAS, since 1948, the Universal Declaration has been translated into more than 200 languages and remains one of the best known and most often cited human rights documents in the world. Over the years, the Declaration has been used in the defense and advancement of people’s rights. Its principles have been enshrined in and continue to inspire national legislation and the constitutions of many newly independent states; and

WHEREAS, in this nation and across the world, equality is one of the basic principles that we use to guide and improve understanding of and respect for one another. Although our nation’s history is wrought with shameful acts and deeds, it is also filled with wonderful moments of hope and triumph such as the abolition of slavery, the nineteenth amendment that guaranteed all women the right to vote, and the Civil Rights Acts of 1964 and 1965; and

WHEREAS, here in Illinois, we have progressively expanded human rights, and in 1979, we passed a comprehensive human rights act to prohibit discrimination in employment, housing, credit transactions, and public accommodations based on age, citizenship, ethnicity, gender, race, disability and religion. Last year, we took an important step forward by amending the Illinois Human Rights Act to include sexual orientation; and

WHEREAS, across the nation, December 10th is recognized as Human Rights Day, but in Illinois we recognize the entire week, December 11th to December 15th; and

WHEREAS, the Illinois Department of Human Rights (IDHR) will commemorate Human Rights Week with a photo exhibit in the James R. Thompson Center Atrium entitled “The Chicago Freedom Movement,” featuring photos by award winning photographer Bernard Kleina. The exhibit, which is provided by Hope Fair Housing Center, commemorates the 40th anniversary of Dr. King’s struggle for fair housing and civil rights in Chicago and includes vivid images of Dr. King, Coretta Scott-King, and many others; and

WHEREAS, IDHR’s Institute for Training and Development is also offering various trainings and seminars throughout the week on various topics, including Sexual Orientation and the Human Rights Act, Diversity Awareness Training, Americans with Disabilities Act Training, Race, Discrimination and Housing in Chicago, and Sexual Harassment Prevention Training:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim December 11-15, 2006 as HUMAN RIGHTS WEEK in Illinois to observe and commemorate the signing of the Universal Declaration by continuing to embrace the principles set forth in that document, as well as recognize the great achievements of Dr. Martin Luther King and so many others that worked to advance human rights in this state and across the nation and globe.

Issued by the Governor December 13, 2006.
Filed by the Secretary of State December 13, 2006.

CRIME STOPPERS OF LAKE COUNTY MONTH

WHEREAS, Crime Stoppers of Lake County was formed in 1983 and is a community program comprised of concerned citizens who work closely with police authorities, the news media, and the public in the fight against crime in Lake County and surrounding communities; and

WHEREAS, Crime Stoppers does that by offering cash rewards to anyone who provides information that leads to the arrest of felony crime offenders or the capture of felony fugitives. Informants always remain anonymous, and cash rewards are funded primarily by private contributions; and

WHEREAS, thanks to Crime Stoppers, there have been more than 4,900 criminal arrests throughout Lake County, Northern Illinois, and Wisconsin since the program’s inception in 1983. Altogether, more than $19 million worth of contraband and stolen property has been seized; and

WHEREAS, the success of Crime Stoppers would not be possible without the support of everyone in the community. Consequently, Crime Stoppers also promotes the importance of reporting suspicious behavior and criminal activity; and

WHEREAS, to support their wonderful mission, Crime Stoppers of Lake County will raise money and sponsor events designed to raise awareness during the month of January:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim January 2007 as CRIME STOPPERS OF LAKE COUNTY MONTH in Illinois in recognition of their terrific program, and encourage all citizens to help keep their communities safe and free of crime.

Issued by the Governor December 20, 2006.

CERVICAL CANCER AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, January is recognized as Cervical Cancer Awareness Month, an observance that promotes education about cervical cancer screenings, treatment, and causes; and

WHEREAS, in 2007, an estimated 640 Illinois women will be diagnosed with cervical cancer, and an estimated 200 Illinois women will die from the disease; and

WHEREAS, most deaths from cervical cancer could be avoided if women had regular checkups with the Pap test. If detected early, cervical cancer is nearly 100 percent curable; and

WHEREAS, by working together and supporting events such as the Cervical Cancer Awareness Month, we can educate women about the importance of cervical cancer screening; and

WHEREAS, public and private organizations within the state of Illinois and local and state government agencies are encouraged to observe the month of January of 2007 as Cervical Cancer Awareness Month in Illinois, by emphasizing and supporting a public awareness program on the importance of women’s health issues, specifically, cervical health:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim January 2007 as CERVICAL CANCER AWARENESS MONTH in Illinois, and encourage all citizens to join in the continued fight against this disease.

Issued by the Governor December 20, 2006.

REVEREND LEROY SMITH, JR.

WHEREAS, the Jesus Cares Outreach center was started in 1984 with two couples ministering to people on the streets of Decatur, Illinois with hot beverages and prayer; and

WHEREAS, Reverend Leroy Smith, Jr. is the current leader of the Jesus Cares Outreach center. Under his leadership, many donations of cash and property have allowed the center to expand in order to help people in their time of need; and

WHEREAS, today, Jesus Cares Outreach serves community members on Decatur’s near north side through church services, school-age programming, homeless shelters, and classes at Richland Community College. They also have a plan for an art and music program for youth and an education and job training program for prison parolees; and

WHEREAS, among many other programs and achievements, Rev. Smith has been working with youth in crime, drug, and gang prevention programs which have been very successful in the Decatur and Springfield areas for many years; and

WHEREAS, due to the care and dedication of Reverend Leroy Smith, Jr., the Jesus Cares Outreach has been able to improve communities and make them safer for the people who live in them:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby honor and commend Reverend Leroy Smith, Jr. for his work through the Jesus Cares Outreach street ministry.

Issued by the Governor December 22, 2006.

WHEREAS, the Honorable Gerald Ford, 38th President of the United States of America, passed away on December 26, 2006 at the age of 93; and

WHEREAS, Gerald Rudolph Ford was born on July 14, 1913 in Omaha, Nebraska. He attended high school in Grand Rapids, Michigan and went on to major in economics and political science at the University of Michigan, where he also played on the football team. He later attended Yale Law, and in 1941, he graduated in the top 25 percent of his class; and

WHEREAS, upon graduating law school, Ford answered his call to duty after the attack on Pearl Harbor and served honorably for his country during World War II; and

WHEREAS, following his return from the War, Ford became active in politics, and was elected to the United States House of Representatives in 1948 by a wide margin. He served in the House of Representatives from 1949 to 1973, being reelected 12 times; and

WHEREAS, in 1973, President Richard Nixon chose Ford to become his vice president after Spiro Agnew resigned from the office, and then on August 9, 1974, he took the oath of office as President of the United States after the resignation of Nixon; and

WHEREAS, among President Ford’s notable accomplishments while in office, he held the first White House Summit on economy, helping to curb inflation and allowing businesses to run more freely by reducing taxes. In the foreign affairs arena, Ford worked hard to ensure that the United States continued to hold power after the collapse of Cambodia and South Vietnam, and was instrumental in the arms negotiations with Soviet leaders, and

WHEREAS, in 1976, President Ford won the Republication nomination for the Presidency but lost in the general election to Jimmy Carter, and

WHEREAS, after leaving office, Ford continued to participate in the political process and spoke across the country on various issues. Meanwhile, Mrs. Betty Ford opened the Betty Ford Center in 1982, which helps men and women recover from alcoholism and other drug related problems. In 1999, President and Mrs. Ford were awarded the Congressional Gold Medal for dedicated public service and outstanding humanitarian contributions, and

WHEREAS, President Ford is remembered for his great character and integrity, and for restoring the public’s trust in the Office of the President. His passing will be mourned not only by his surviving family, but by people all throughout this great country and across the globe. Illinois is humbled to join in celebrating the life of this compassionate and dedicated public servant:

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby honor the life and death of PRESIDENT GERALD R. FORD, and order the flag of the United States of America to fly at half-staff at all state facilities from December 27 until his day of interment.

WHEREAS, veteran broadcaster Paul Brian’s “Drive Chicago” focuses on the local, national and international automotive scene, featuring industry news and newsmakers, product reviews and, of course, a flurry of questions from listeners wanting to get the straight story about the automotive industry; and

WHEREAS, after starting on WMAQ and then airing Saturdays with Jake Hartford on WLS Radio for the past 6 years, Brian’s show was recognized in 1998 and 1999 as the nation’s best automotive program by the International Automotive Media Association; and

WHEREAS, Brian recognizes that in the Chicago area alone, new car sales account for more than $16.5 billion in gross sales which leads to countless questions about the automotive field that he addresses in an informative and entertaining manner; and

WHEREAS, Brian has served as communications director and spokesman for the Chicago Automobile Trade Association and producer of the mammoth annual Chicago Auto Show at McCormick Place for the past seven years; and

WHEREAS, in that capacity, Brian is responsible for coordinating thousands of domestic and international media who arrive to view the nation’s largest auto exposition. He is also the recipient of two “Emmy” awards from the Academy of Television Arts and Science for his production of television specials featuring the Chicago Auto Show; and

WHEREAS, Brian’s history in the automotive industry includes a three-year stint managing the Alfa Romeo Indy Car Team based in Milan, Italy, with drivers Danny Sullivan, Roberto Guerrero and Al Unser, Sr.; and

WHEREAS, Brian has been called the “John Madden of Indy Cars” and performs track announcing duties for the Milwaukee, Elkhart Lake, Houston, St. Louis and Chicago events in the CART Championship Circuit;

THEREFORE, I, Rod R. Blagojevich, Governor of the State of Illinois, do hereby proclaim December 30, 2006 as PAUL BRIAN DAY in Illinois in recognition of Paul Brian’s dedicated commitment for the past 10 years to the safety and well-being of the automotive consumers and people of Illinois.
