As Secretary of State and State Archivist, I am pleased to present this poster announcing the celebration of the annual Illinois Archives Month in October.

This year’s poster commemorates the 40th anniversary of the establishment of State Historical Records Advisory Boards (SHRBAs). In 1975, the National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRC), the grant-making arm of the National Archives, requested that each state create an advisory board to assist it with giving grants to that state’s archival institutions. Over the past 40 years, the Illinois SHRBA has assisted the NHPRC in awarding almost $10 million in grants to Illinois archival institutions. The Illinois SHRBA also advocates and encourages professional custodianship and cooperation in the record-keeping community to ensure citizen access to records and the preservation of their cultural and historical heritage.

Illinois historical documents are an important link to our past and provide a wealth of knowledge for genealogists, researchers, government employees and the general public. The Office of the Secretary of State, the Illinois State Archives, the Illinois State Historical Records Advisory Board and the Chicago Area Archivists are once again joining together to promote the importance of archives by celebrating Illinois Archives Month, an event done in conjunction with the Society of American Archivists’ National Archives Month.

Archivists, museums, historical societies, libraries and other groups are invited to participate in Illinois Archives Month by hosting local events, exhibits and activities that highlight the management and preservation of our documentary heritage. For information on ways you can showcase your agency’s collections and activities, please visit www.cyberdriveillinois.com (click on Departments, Illinois State Archives, Illinois State Historical Records Advisory Board).

For the RECORD

“Who Do You Think You Are” films at Archives

Award-winning actor Bryan Cranston was the featured celebrity in a recent episode of the TLC network’s popular genealogy show, Who Do You Think You Are. In tracing his family roots, Mr. Cranston is led to the Illinois State Archives where he uses his grandfather’s World War I bonus application to learn more about the paternal side of his family. His research also included a visit to the Illinois Regional Archives Depository at Northeastern Illinois University and the Cook County Circuit Clerk’s office. The episode featuring Cranston first aired on the TLC network on August 23.

Professional development scholarships available to Illinois archivists

The ISHRAB is offering professional development scholarships to Illinois archivists and archival volunteers to attend an archival workshop/seminar of their choice in Illinois or an online professional archival development course. Awards are available for up to $2500 per applicant, per year and may be used toward the cost of registration, housing and/or travel to the event. It is a reimbursable award. Scholarships will be awarded on a first-come, first-served basis until the funding is exhausted. Complete information and an application form can be found at www.cyberdriveillinois.com (click on Departments, Illinois State Archives, Illinois Historical Records Advisory Board). If you have any questions, please contact: David Joens, Director Illinois State Archives M. C. Norton Building Springfield, IL 62756 Phone: 217-782-3492 • FAX: 217-524-3930 djoens@ilsos.net

This archival educational opportunity is funded by a State Board Programming grant from the National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRC).
2015 ISHRAB Historical Records Grants

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grant Title</th>
<th>Amount</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Illinois State Historical Records Advisory Board (ISHRAB) awarded Historical Records Preservation Grants totaling $15,759 to six Illinois historical records repositories to develop and/or carry out projects that will lead to enhanced online access. Funding for the grants was provided by a State Board Programming Grant from the National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRC). The following organizations received grants for their historical records projects:</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rock Island: Augusta College, Special Collections</td>
<td>$3,284</td>
<td>Digitizing Glass Plate Images from the John Henry Hauberg Papers — $3,284 to digitize approximately 1,500 glass plate images that represent unique, valuable, and largely inaccessible pieces of Illinois and Quad Cities history. Subjects include Native American culture, the development of state parks and the growth of the Rock Island Arsenal.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mundelein: University of Saint Mary of the Lake</td>
<td>$4,566</td>
<td>Enhancing the Database for Online Access to the Peoria History Society Collection — $4,566 to identify, organize, describe and input the records of items in the Peoria Historical Society Collection into a relational database and place on the Peoria Historical Society website for public access.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cherry Valley: Cherry Valley Public Library District</td>
<td>$2,530</td>
<td>Cherry Valley Historical Photograph Digitization for Keyword Searchable Catalog Access Project — $2,530 to describe, catalog and upload into the Illinois Digital Archives and NIC Libraries catalog 300 digitized photographs depicting small-town, rural life in northern Illinois.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Archives staff attends NAGARA/CoSA Conference

In July, Illinois State Archives staff member Kristopher Stenson and Elaine Shemoney Evans attended the joint annual meeting of the National Association of Government Archives and Records Administrators (NAGARA) and the Council of State Archivists (CoSA) in Austin, Texas. CoSA is a national organization comprising representatives from the principal government archives of each state and territory. Under regulations of the National Historical Publications and Records Commission, these representatives also serve as the State Historical Records Coordinators who chair their respective State Historical Records Advisory Boards (SHIRABs). NAGARA is a professional association dedicated to the improvement of federal, state, and local government records and information management and the professional development of government records administrators and archivists.

2015–2016 IRAD interns selected

The Illinois Regional Archives Depository (IRAD) system, a program of the Illinois State Archives, is dedicated to the preservation of local government records. The IRAD depositories, located at seven universities throughout the state, preserve the official records of local governmental agencies that have permanent legal, administrative, historical or other research values. Each year, graduate students are selected to serve as interns at the depositories.

The IRAD internships introduce graduate students to the functions of an archives institution and allow them to develop basic archival and research skills. Duties include arranging and processing records, preparing descriptive inventories and providing reference service to the public. The following graduate students were selected to staff the IRAD depositories for the 2015–2016 academic year:

- Eastern Illinois University:
  - Colleen Gilpik, History

- Illinois State University:
  - Ryan J. Melson, History

- Northeastern Illinois University:
  - Ryan J. Melson, History

- University of Illinois at Springfield:
  - Allie Ekanem, History

- Western Illinois University:
  - Jillian A. Zudell, History

200 years of Illinois history (1818–2018)

In 2018, Illinois will celebrate its 200th birthday. In anticipation of this bicentennial celebration, for the Record is featuring in each issue a document from the State Archives’ holdings relevant to a significant event in Illinois history. The fourth featured document concerns the passage of the Illinois Factory Inspection Law.

The Illinois State Historical Records Advisory Board has awarded Historical Records Preservation Grants totaling $15,759 to six Illinois historical records repositories to develop and/or carry out projects that will lead to enhanced online access. Funding for the grants was provided by a State Board Programming Grant from the National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRC). The following organizations received grants for their historical records projects:

- Rock Island: Augusta College, Special Collections
  - Digitizing Glass Plate Images from the John Henry Hauberg Papers — $3,284 to digitize approximately 1,500 glass plate images that represent unique, valuable, and largely inaccessible pieces of Illinois and Quad Cities history. Subjects include Native American culture, the development of state parks and the growth of the Rock Island Arsenal.

DATES & REMINDERS

- Chicago Open Archives: Collecting and Connecting
  - Multi-cultural institution event
  - October 8-10, Chicago
  - http://chicagoopenarchivists.wildapricot.org/
  - Chicago Open Archives

- Illinois State Genealogical Society
  - 2015 Fall Conference
  - “Second City: Was it Your Ancestors’ First City?”
  - October 29-31, Oak Lawn

- Downstate Local Records Commission Meeting
  - 1st Tuesday of the month, 10 a.m.
  - Margaret Cross Norton Building, Springfield
  - www.cyberdriveillinois.com

- Cook County Local Records Commission Meeting
  - 2nd Tuesday of the month, 11 a.m.
  - Video Conference Room, 9th floor
  - Thompson Center, Chicago or Capital City Center, Springfield
  - 130 W. Mason St.
  - www.cyberdriveillinois.com

- State Records Commission Meeting
  - 3rd Wednesday of every month, 9:30 a.m.
  - Margaret Cross Norton Building, Springfield
  - www.cyberdriveillinois.com

E-records Day

E-records Day is a day to raise awareness among government agencies, archives, related professional organizations, the general public and other stakeholders about the crucial role electronic records play in our world.

With the increasing reliance on information technology, the challenge to manage, preserve and provide access to digital records and information continues to grow. Electronic records require proactive management. The best time to plan for electronic records preservation is at the time records are created, rather than when software is being replaced or a project is ending.

Archivists can help tackle the difficult problems associated with electronic record keeping. Contact your state, local or college archives staff members to find out what they are working toward and what you need in order to improve your electronic records.

In 2018, Illinois will celebrate its 200th birthday. In 200 years of Illinois history (1818–2018), E-records Day is a day to raise awareness among government agencies, archives, related professional organizations, the general public and other stakeholders about the crucial role electronic records play in our world.

With the increasing reliance on information technology, the challenge to manage, preserve and provide access to digital records and information continues to grow. Electronic records require proactive management. The best time to plan for electronic records preservation is at the time records are created, rather than when software is being replaced or a project is ending.

Archivists can help tackle the difficult problems associated with electronic record keeping. Contact your state, local or college archives staff members to find out what they are working toward and what you can do to enable the long-term preservation of your recordable electronic records. For more information, visit: https://www.cyberdriveillinois.com/departments/archives/records_management/home.html.

Archives staff attends NAGARA/CoSA Conference

In July, Illinois State Archives’ staff members Kristopher Steen and Elaine Shanemore Attended the joint annual meeting of the National Association of Government Archives and Records Administrators (NAGARA) and the Council of State Archivists (CoSA) in Austin, Texas. CoSA is a national organization comprising representatives from the principal government archives of each state and territory. Under regulations of the National Historical Publications and Records Commission, these representatives also serve as the State Historical Records Coordinators who chair their respective State Historical Records Advisory Boards (SHRABs).

NAGARA is a professional association dedicated to the improvement of federal, state, and local government records and information management and the professional development of government records administrators and archivists.

2015 ISHRAB Historical Records Grants

The Illinois State Historical Records Advisory Board has awarded Historical Records Preservation Grants totaling $17,950 to six Illinois historical records repositories to develop and/or carry out projects that will lead to enhanced online access. Funding for the grants was provided by a State Board Programming Grant from the National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRC). The following organizations received grants for their historical records projects:

Rock Island: Augustana College
Special Collections

$1,500 to digitize approximately 1,500 glass plate images that represent unique, valuable and largely inaccessible pieces of Illinois and Quad Cities history. Subjects include Native American culture, the development of state parks and the growth of the Rock Island Arsenal.

Mundelein: University of Saint Mary of the Lake

Saint Mary of the Lake Collection Assessment and Plan — $2,550 to create a comprehensive plan to identify, preserve and facilitate online discovery of the 5MV Collection. The collection contains manuscripts, printed works and media that uniquely document the history and character of the university as well as regional, American and European history.

Batavia: Batavia Public Library

Civil War Letters and Diaries Digitization Project — $1,420 to transcribe, digitize and place online original Civil War letters and diaries (1861–1865) of soldiers from the 52nd and 124th Illinois Infantry Regiments.

Evaston: Evanston History Center

Peoria: Peoria Historical Society

Enhancing the Database for Online Access to the Peoria History Society Collection — $4,586 to identify, organize, describe and input the records of items in the Peoria Historical Society Collection into a relational database and place on the Peoria Historical Society website for public access.

Cherry Valley: Cherry Valley Public Library District

Cherry Valley Historical Photograph Digitization for Keyword Searchable Catalog Access Project — $2,530 to describe, catalog and upload into the Illinois Digital Archives and NIC Libraries catalog 300 digitized photographs depicting small-town, rural life in northern Illinois.

200 years of Illinois history (1818–2018)

In 2018, Illinois will celebrate its 200th birthday. In anticipation of this bicentennial celebration, for the Record is featuring in each issue a document from the State Archives’ holdings relevant to a significant event in Illinois history. The fourth featured document concerns the passage of the Illinois Factory Inspection Law.

The Illinois Factory Inspection Law was passed during the Progressive Era, a period of time that saw many economic, social and moral reforms within Illinois and the United States. As soon as this law was enacted, it was challenged. The Illinois Supreme Court found that the limitation of women’s workdays to 10 hours a day to be unconstitutional. Finally, in 1908 the U.S. Supreme Court upheld an Oregon law limiting women’s workdays to 10 hours a day. Other states, including Illinois, would soon agree to a 10-hour workday for women and children and eventually all workers.
Archivist of the United States visits Archives

As Secretary of State and State Archivist, I am pleased to present this poster announcing the celebration of the annual Illinois Archives Month in October. This year’s poster commemorates the 40th anniversary of the establishment of State Historical Records Advisory Boards (SHRABs). In 1975, the National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRC), the grant-making arm of the National Archives, requested that each state create an advisory board to assist it with giving grants to that state’s archival institutions. Over the past 40 years, the Illinois SHRAB has assisted the NHPRC in awarding almost $10 million in grants to Illinois archival institutions. The Illinois SHRAB also advocates and encourages professional custodianship and cooperation in the record-keeping community to ensure citizen access to records and the preservation of their cultural and historical heritage.

Illinois historical documents are an important link to our past and provide a wealth of knowledge for genealogists, researchers, government employees and the general public. The Office of the Secretary of State, the Illinois State Archives, the Illinois State Historical Records Advisory Board and the Chicago Area Archivists are once again joining together to promote the importance of archives by celebrating Illinois Archives Month, an event done in conjunction with the Society of American Archivists’ National Archives Month.

Archivists, museums, historical societies, libraries and other groups are invited to participate in Illinois Archives Month by hosting local events, exhibits and activities that highlight the management and preservation of our documentary heritage. For information on ways you can showcase your agency’s collections and activities, please visit www.cyberdriveillinois.com (click on Departments, Illinois State Archives, Illinois State Historical Records Advisory Board).

For the Record, Fall 2015

Volume 29
Number 3

Newsletter of the Illinois State Archives & The Illinois State Historical Records Advisory Board

Jesse White
Secretary of State & State Archivist

David Ferriero, archivist of the United States, visited the Illinois State Archives in May and spoke to staff about the importance of governmental archives. Mr. Ferriero was the first U.S. Archivist to visit the Illinois State Archives since Wayne Grover visited in 1952. Above, on the left, is Mr. Grover at the Archives with Illinois Archives Director Margaret Cross Norton. In the right photo, Mr. Ferriero (right) recreates that photo with current Illinois State Archives’ Director David Joens.

Award-winning actor Bryan Cranston was the featured celebrity in a recent episode of the TLC network’s popular genealogy show, Who Do You Think You Are. In tracing his family roots, Mr. Cranston is led to the Illinois State Archives where he uses his grandfather’s World War I bonus application to learn more about the paternal side of his family. His research also included a visit to the Illinois Regional Archives Depository at Northeastern Illinois University and the Cook County Circuit Clerk’s office. The episode featuring Cranston first aired on the TLC network on August 23.

If you have any questions, please contact:

David Joens, Director
Illinois State Archives
M. C. Norton Building
Springfield, IL 62756
Phone: 217-782-3492  •  FAX: 217-524-3930
djoens@ilsos.net

Professional development scholarships available to Illinois archivists

The ISHRAB is offering professional development scholarships to Illinois archivists and archival volunteers to attend an archival workshop/seminar of their choice in Illinois (or an online professional archival development course). Awards are available for up to $500 per applicant, per year and may be used toward the cost of registration, housing and/or travel to the event. It is a reimbursable award. Scholarships will be awarded on a first-come, first-served basis until the funding is exhausted. Complete information and an application form can be found at www.cyberdriveillinois.com (click on Departments, Illinois State Archives, Illinois Historical Records Advisory Board).

If you have any questions, please contact:

David Joens, Director
Illinois State Archives
M. C. Norton Building
Springfield, IL 62756
Phone: 217-782-3492  •  FAX: 217-524-3930
djoens@ilsos.net

This archival educational opportunity is funded by a State Board Programming grant from the National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRC).